NO. 122

NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Splendid weather and the ladies are out today in full force.

A large number of our people will probably attend the Goldsboro Fair. Soon be Indian summer, the most delightful time of the year.

Beautiful moonlight nights. Nice time to ride on the street cars.

Don't throw grape hulls on the sidewalk. It may cause serious accidents.

Calculations of the Agricultural statistics at the department of Agriculture are now rapidly progressing.

Widening of the Hillsboro bridge is making good headway. It will be finished in a week or so.

Beautiful posters of the Eastern Carolina fair at Goldsboro are being put up today.

Green seems to be the favorite color in painting the stores. Several fronts are in that color.

Students are daily arriving at the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Some little excitement was caused yesterday, by the killing of a garter snake on South Wilmington street.

The Savings Bank is undergoing a coat of paint and is otherwise being renovated.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. W. G. Randall portrait painter, No. 134 Fayetteville street.

It is thought that the horticultural department at the exposition will be more extended and better than ever before.

Wm. G. Hill Lodge, No. 218, A. F. and A. M., will meet in regular communication, this evening at 8 o'clock. Visiting brethren invited.

Nearly all of our wandering summer tourists have returned, and Raleigh is fast putting on its usual gay fall and winter appearance.

From now out, the work of arranging and preparation generally at the exposition grounds will be pushed with the utmost vigor.

Excellent colored musicians and singers will give daily entertainment at the exposition during October and November.

Mr. B. R. Jolly, watchmaker and jeweller on Fayetteville street, is painting and brushing up for the exposition.

Prof. Pauli says all the arrangements for the festival are now about completed. It will be a big event, and no mistake.

Mr. S. V. House has given the front and awning of D. T. Johnson's store a handsome appearance by giving it a new coat of paint.

It is earnestly hoped that the street cars will run this week at least as far as St. Mary's. The present line is entirely too short to receive any considerable amount of patronage.

Invitations have been sent to the Adjutant Generals of many of the States to attend the Inter-State Exposition. It is expected that a number of them will attend.

We have been informed that beginning today and hereafter the gates at the exposition grounds will be closed and no persons will be admitted except exhibitors, persons desiring space, or having business of special importance. The managers would be glad to admit all visitors and at all times, but the amount of work yet to be done, makes it necessary that those engaged in the work of decoration and of placing the exhibit in position should be uninterrupted by visitors.

"A word to the wise is sufficient," but is not always wise to say that word to one who is suffering the tortures of a headache. However, always risk it and recommend Brady-groline. Sept 9 '91

The stone crusher is putting in some good work on the Tarboro road near the Catholic cemetery. The road will soon be in splendid order.

We are authorized to state that the call box system of the Western Union Telegraph office will commence tomorrow morning.

The excitement about the direct taxes has about died out. Claims are still coming in but the main rush is over.

The store of Mr. M. Rosenthal, of the late firm of Messrs. Grausman & Rosenthal, is being nicely painted and fitted up for the exposition.

The cheap price of sugar has stimulated the preserving business and the ladies are generally putting up more than the usual quantity of fruit. Stone jars are in much demand.

Considerable of the old crop of cotton has been brought to market during the past few days. The new crop is considerably behind.

The outlook for attendance at the graded schools for the fall and winter session is said to be unusually good.

The finishing touches will soon be put on the Hillsboro road, between the city limits and the exposition grounds. It will then be a splendid thoroughfare.

It seems to be generally understood that there will be no change in the presidency of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad. Mr. Chadwick is expected to remain President.

At Louisburg last Saturday, Mr. R. F. Holden, son of Dr. Holden, was taken with a hemorrhage while at breakfast table, and died in five minutes.

There ought to be a street law against throwing grape hulls or banana peel on the sidewalks. It is dangerous to life, liberty and human happiness.

The hotel Claiborn, at Durham, is to change hands. Mr. Billings will retire and it is reported that Mr. Jas. Massenburg, of Henderson, will succeed him as host.

The paint brush is being extensively used on the establishment of Messrs. W. B. Mann & Co., north east corner of Fayetteville and Hargett streets. It will soon present a very attractive appearance.

The "sear and yellow leaf" of autumn is approaching, but we need not be down hearted. We will have enough amusements in Raleigh this fall and winter to make the average man, woman or child merry.

Mr. Mills H. Brown, our county jailor, has about entirely recovered from his recent injuries received at the hands of a colored prisoner. We congratulate him and hope he will be on the strict lookout in the future.

Send in your names to the Bureau of Information, if you desire to take boarders during the exposition. Mr. A. L. Ferrell or Maj. C. D. Heartt, who are in charge of the matter, will receive and enter names.

We learn from what may be considered a reliable source that the acreage in grapes will be considerably increased the coming season, notwithstanding the reverses met with this year. It is anticipated that there will be an increased local demand for wine making purposes.

We are pleased to note that our friend Mr. S. B. Norris has returned from the north where he has purchased one of the finest and freshest stock of goods in the dry goods line ever brought to this city. He has commenced receiving and he will open either about the last of this or the first of next week in his new store on the east side of Fayetteville street at Waitts old stand which has been fitted up nicely. Our people may look out for a brilliant announcement. There is no better merchant in our city than Mr. Norris' and he knows how to handle the goods that suit our people.

Police Regulations.

We are informed by Chief of Police Heart that arrangements are about perfected for additional police during the exposition. It can be positively stated that the best of order will prevail, and all who come can rest assured that they will be fully protected during their stay in the "City of Oaks." There is no more efficient police in the State.

The Almighty Dollar.

On Wednesday night, Sept. 30th, Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., of New York, will deliver in Metropolitan Hall his celebrated new lecture entitled, "The Almighty Dollar." This is said to be one of Mr. Dixon's best efforts and abounds in humor, pathos and eloquence. The lecture will be for the benefit of the Baptist Tabernacle of this city, and the price of admission will be only 50 cents. There will, no doubt, be a very large attendance.

Thank You.

The Durham Globe has the following: "A musical treat is in store for those who visit the great Southern Exposition to be held in Raleigh, N. C., during October and November. The band that is to furnish music for the exposition has been selected from the most talented musicians. Some of them come from as far as the White Mountain of New Hampshire, and two from Europe. The selection of the musicians was made by the musical director, who had directions to select the best, so as to furnish the most complete band that has yet performed at a Southern Exposition."

A New Industry.

There was a meeting of the local board of Health in the Mayors office today, at which Dr. James McKee presided and Mr. A. L. Ferrell acted as Secretary. An application was made by Mr. Geo. Tonnofski Secretary of the Southern Soap Company, asking the opinion of the Board of Health as to the establishment of a factory for the manufacture of hard, fancy and laundry soap at the premises No. 114, East Davis street. The board gave it as their opinion that there was nothing in the proposed business detrimental to the public health and recommended its establishment subject to the surveillance of the authorities.

Mr. Tonnofski tells us that the erection of buildings will commence at once, and the business will be inaugurated in a week or so.

Personal Mention.

Mr. J. W. Jenkins, of the Chronicle, left this afternoon for Louisburg to attend the funeral of his little sister who died in Durham this morning.

Mrs. Capt. Eudy and daughter Kate have removed to this city, and are living on Hillsboro street just west of the bridge.

Mr. R. K. Ferrell, of Durham, former sheriff of Wake county, is in the city. He is looking well.

We were pleased to see Capt. S. A. Ashe, who has been sick for several days, on the street this morning.

Mr. Bryan Smith, of Swift Creek township was in the city to day. Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson has returned from a visit to Chapel Hill.

Ed. Chambers Smith, Esq., has returned from Asheville. Mr. A. E. Brown, brother of manager J. R. Brown of the Western Union Telegraph office, who has been spending a short while in our midst, left for home this morning. Mr. Brown expresses himself as much pleased with Raleigh and the hospitality of our people. He resides in Washington City.

Our esteemed fellow citizen, C. B. Root, Esq., returned home last Saturday evening from a visit to the northern and New England states. He is looking the very picture of health and seems to have secured a new lease of life, which, if it were possible, we should like to see extended for ninety nine years. The world would be better off, in fact, if such men could live indefinitely.

Mayor's Court.

There was not the usual attendance on the Mayor's Monday morning levee this morning. This is accounted for from the fact that the chief of police had thrown out a gentle reminder that the presence of chronic hangers on during the session of court was not desirable.

A case against Henry Terrell, colored, for being drunk and disorderly was discharged on the promise of future good behavior.

Two colored boys named Pettiford and McCormick were charged with vagrancy, having been found in Dr. E. B. Haywood's lot yesterday. They seemed to have no regular employment lounging and sleeping about in divers places. They were sent to the work house for thirty days.

D. T. SWINDELL.

This is the Week.

The grand opening comes off this week at Swindell's—next Thursday and Friday—when we will make an exhibition of fine millinery and fine dress goods that will do credit to the city. Don't fail to come and see what we will show. We will take great delight in showing you through. Our artist in millinery has been two weeks busy getting ready for this show and we can safely promise not to disappoint you. You will be surprised. Our exhibit of fine jackets and cloaks for ladies and children will be worth the trip down here, saying nothing of the big display of fine foreign and domestic dress goods, silks, &c. Take a look through our mammoth store and give us a proper place in your estimation. The young ladies at Peace and St. Mary's schools are especially invited to examine our grand opening display.

Respectfully,

D. T. SWINDELL,
