VOL XXV. RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1891. NO. 124

NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

One drunk and down made up the Mayor's docket this morning.

The Cotton Seed Oil Mill will commence operations on the 1st of October.

Attention is directed to the notice Charles Ross, Executor of Mary Turner, deceased.

The prettiest moon in the year is considered the September moon. Nice for promenades.

The Board of County Commissioners will meet in called session next Friday when the tax lists will be turned over to the sheriff.

Mr. H. Mahler is not to be outdone in the work of preparation for the "big show," and he is having his store front repainted and the premises renovated.

The work of improvement is going on all along the line. Everybody is seemingly impressed with the importance of putting on their best looks for the exposition.

Attention of the authorities is called to the condition of the sidewalk on the south east corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets. The bricks are loose and persons passing are liable to trip.

Mr. J. C. S. Lumsden is preparing to have a tin roof placed on his store on Fayetteville street and will otherwise improve the establishment. Mr. Lumsden is one of our most progressive business men.

There will be a called meeting of the Retail Grocers Association tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 sharp. It will be of special interest and all the members are urged to be prompt.

There will be a meeting of the Central Board of City Charities in Edenton Street Methodist Church, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. A full attendance is especially desired.

The Seaboard Air line are about perfecting arrangements by which the New York papers will reach Raleigh at 8 p. m., of the day of publication. The line will be via Philadelphia and Norfolk road.

Mr. S. B. Norris is receiving his fall and winter stock. He will tell the people all about it in a few days through the VISITOR. He hopes to be able to have a grand opening by the latter part of the present week, and perhaps sooner.

It is stated that it will be impossible to furnish the colored people with the 5,000 feet of additional floor space, for which they asked at the grand stand on the exposition grounds.

We hope the matter of erecting a chapel for the proper care of the dead and holding funeral ceremonies at Oakwood Cemetery will not be allowed to slumber. Such an arrangement will be of much convenience.

The fall term of the Superior Court for the trial of Criminal causes, will commence next Monday week the 28th, inst. Judge Whitaker will preside. The docket so far contains 89 cases mostly of a trivial nature. There are no capital cases to be tried.

Messrs. J. M. Broughton & Co., have placed a nice sign at their place of business on the north west corner of Fayetteville and Martin streets. Their office has been fixed up in "tip top style and they are now better prepared than ever to accommodate their rapidly increasing business.

And still the street cars on the Hillsboro street line are not running further than Boylan Avenue. The trolley wires are being put up between St. Mary's and the exposition grounds, but there seems to be a hitch between Boylan Avenue and the school. In the meantime persons desiring to go to the grounds on business are much inconvenienced, and the company is losing many "shekels."

Dead loads of scuppernong grapes in town.

Some sickly looking water melons in market this morning.

If this aint Indian summer, it comes near it.

Soon be time for the chronic weather prophets to predict a hard winter.

The street cars will continue to ride rough until heavier rails are put down.

Prof. C. J. Parker, the new Superintendent of the Centennial Graded School, of this city, has arrived.

Wm. Sprague Smith, Providence, R. I., writes: "I find Bradycerine always cures headache." Sept 16 6t

Work is progressing rapidly on the capitol square, and it will soon be a more delightful place than ever.

All the post office folks are busy counting over the mail matter, of most kinds.

It is gratifying to note that there is some improvement in the condition of ex Governor Scales.

See notice of important sale by Armistead Jones, Esq., administrator, &c.

J. H. Williamson, colored, is canvassing in the interest of the colored department of the Southern exposition.

Quite a number of exhibits are coming in daily on the trains, and the authorities are busily engaged in the matter of arranging them.

The Graded Schools will informally open next Friday, but the session will not begin in earnest until next Monday.

Father Francis O. S. B., will take permanent charge as Priest of the church of the Sacred Heart, in this city.

Nearly six hundred tons of stone have been crushed for the Tarboro road. It will be put down by the convict force.

The grass in Nash square is being cut, after which the same process will be used on Moore square which is now completely over run.

The city council of Richmond, Va., are about to condemn the electric street railways for too much noise. It is suggested that the cable system be substituted. The electric system suits us all right.

A branch of the Keely Institute for the cure of the morphine and liquor habit is about to be located in Winston, Asheville, Charlotte and Greensboro are also spoken of as points at which to locate branches.

Much complaint is being made about the fountain in Moore square. It is said to be stopped up in some way and the water oozes out in a small stream causing a wet place all around to the detriment of passers by. The proper authorities should have it attended to.

"Well," exclaimed a country man standing in front of the market this morning as he saw a street car pass, "what next? The Yankees come here and took our niggers away; then we had mule cars and they've come here and taken them away, and now they are running cars with nothing." And he walked off muttering to himself.

The University.
There are now about 235 students at the University of North Carolina, of which over fifty are reading law. This is about the largest number so early in the session at any time since the late war. This is most gratifying to all true North Carolinians.

The Hargett Street Line.
There will be some little delay in putting the electric cars on the Hargett street line, but from outside rumor it will be of advantage to both the company and the public. It seems to be understood that the company have in view the acquisition of certain property, which if successfully carried out, will result in a considerable extension of the line over the present route.

Invitation.
Rev. Dr. W. S. Creasy, so well known to many of our citizens, and who, for sometime past been in charge of Grace Church, Wilmington, has been invited by Rev. Sam Jones to assist him in a series of meetings at Cartersville, Ga. It is understood that he has accepted.

A High Honor.
Another Raleigh boy has been honored. Mr. Bart Gatling, son of the late John Gatling has been selected as orator for the exercises on Washington's Birthday. "Bart" is now a senior and is not only very intelligent but exceedingly popular. Hurrah for our Raleigh boys any how.

I. O. O. F.
Seaton Gales Lodge meets tomorrow night at 7:30 sharp. Second degree will be conferred and other matters of great importance will come before the lodge which require the presence of every member of the lodge. Candidates will be on hand at 6:45 o'clock promptly. Members of Manteo Lodge and visiting brethren cordially invited.

THEM, Sec'y.

The Monument Case.
The case of Mr. Kirby Smith of Goldsboro, against Dr. Kemp P. Battle, President of the University at the time the suit was commenced, has been compromised in Wayne Superior court and the proceedings dismissed. It will be remembered that Mr. Smith was arrested on suspicion of having painted the Caldwell monument at the commencement two years ago, and, that having shown his innocence he instituted suit for false arrest.

A Scarcity.
A gentleman, one of our capitalists, was walking up the street this morning talking to himself, as capitalists will do. He was muttering something about building houses. Another gentleman was walking behind him and overheard him make such remarks as these: "I'll build it," "vacant lot," "five room house," when the gentleman behind tapped the capitalist on the shoulder and said, "Don't let nobody else have it, sir I'll rent it." People abroad can see what a scarcity of houses there is in Raleigh.

A Compliment.
North Carolina has been paid a high compliment by the appointment of Mr. Thos. B. Keogh, of Greensboro, as a member of the committee on ceremonies at the World's Fair at Chicago. This committee will have charge of all the ceremonies connected with the dedication of the buildings and also the great naval display in New York harbor. The building for North Carolina is situated in the space adjoining New York and Pennsylvania.

A New Business.
Mr. F. Aufrecht has on exhibition some beautiful specimens of statuary and bric a brac generally at the store of Messrs Jones & Powell, on Fayetteville street. They are of the prettiest kind and will compare most favorably with any ever seen here. They were manufactured here, and Mr. Aufrecht informs us that he is going regularly into the business in a short time. In fact, he has engaged the services of fifteen hands for the purpose. We invite the public to call and examine the specimens.

Railroad Commission.
This body met yesterday afternoon. Counsel for the Wilmington and Weldon and Richmond and Danville R. R. Companies asked for extended time for the hearing of the case which the Atlantic Express Company has brought against them on a charge of unlawful discrimination in refusing to give it transportation privileges on their lines because they had already been given the Southern Express Co. The case was originally set for hearing on the 17th. The Commission declined to postpone, so the matter will come up tomorrow.

"The Almighty Dollar."
If any man in America can handle this subject that man is Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., of New York. He has promised to do so on the night of September 30th. Price of admission 50 cents, and no one should fail to hear him.

Just Like Us.
We met up with a strange gentleman this morning opposite the post office. We scraped an acquaintance and asked him where he was from. He said he was a Northern man on a tour of observation through the South, and that this was his first visit to this section. He had stopped awhile in Richmond and viewed all that could be seen in the former capital of the Confederacy, and took a deep interest in everything he saw. He said he was most agreeably disappointed so far. He fully expected to see or hear something of a disgruntling character from our folk, and that there was some feeling yet lingering over the results of the war. On the contrary, he said, the people everywhere seemed to have forgotten old scores, and they seem to take special pains to convince Northern men of the fact. The manners of the people impressed him specially. He said that almost everybody he met on the streets spoke to him just as if he were an old resident. In point of beauty, he said Raleigh was ahead of any place he had yet seen. He declared that the idea impressed upon him in early youth that the "Old North State" was a mere producer of tar, pitch, turpentine and lumber, had completely vanished, and he now felt that he was in the midst of a most progressive community. He thinks he will put in his appearance during our exposition. So much for what strangers think of us.

When the Sun Rises Tomorrow.
Tomorrow morning when we open our store the inside will have the appearance of "fairy land." All the fine and stylish dress fabrics known to the dry goods trade will be spread so as to be seen by all who enter the building. When you come tomorrow we don't want you to be disappointed; hence, we will do all in our power to make the scene a thing of beauty. Our exhibit in fine millinery will be equal to anything you could see at one of the grand openings of a large New York millinery palace. The young ladies at Peace Institute and St. Mary's are especially invited to visit our store tomorrow or next day as we shall keep up the exhibition two days.

New Dress Goods.
No one comes to our dress goods department to look for a dress and goes away without being pleased. Our styles in dress goods are always the newest, and besides we have the trimmings to go with them. It is not a question of price when a lady wishes to get a dress, for we have goods at all prices. We have the nicest line of goods for school dresses; they look well and don't cost much. However, dress goods are not the only things we can do better for you than any one else, but let it be anything in the way of dry goods. If it is shoes, corsets, gloves, underwear, hose or any goods like these, you come to "Tucker's" and you will be very apt to get what you want.
