LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

RALEIGH, N. C., SEPTEMBER 21, 1891.

An Offer.

In order to facilitate the matter as much as possible, the VISITOR, under the head of "Boarders Wanted," proposes to insert cards of such persons as can accommodate boarders, at 25 cents for not exceeding 3 lines during a period of one month.

It will be readily perceived that this proposition is almost gratuitous, being only about sufficient to cover the expenses of composition and the worth of the space.

With each succeeding day the situation in China becomes graver, and nothing seems left for the powers to do except to make a combined demonstration of forces.

The government agent in charge of the official rain making experiments at El Paso, Texas, who was abducted by his balloon on Thursday afternoon while making an ascension in search of humidity, was fortunate enough to escape from the sky and get back to earth in safety.

All the signs says the Philadelphia Record point to the rapid breaking up of the Farmers' Alliance. The farmers have real grievances, but nothing quite so serious as the proposed measures of relief advocated by the cranks who are fastened upon the Alliance like burrs.

A report comes from Russia that the czar will read George Kennan's accounts of the horrors of Siberian imprisonment.

The roasting weather in the Northwest, of which we had a foretaste in this section yesterday is the hottest 15th of September known for twenty years, will be the making of the corn however hard it may be for the time on the human beings who are raisers of the staple.

An Exception.

The Goldsboro Argus says: "Goldsboro has a model negro farmer in the person of Prof. E. E. Smith, ex-U. S. Minister to Liberia. We have before made note of his excellent farm, a few miles east of the city.

This is an exceptional case. As a rule, any considerable time in public office unfits most men for success in private business life, and more especially is this the case among negroes who have filled offices.

Broke His Skull With a Broom

William McGee, a night watchman at the stables of the Green street and Fairmount avenue extension of the People's Passenger Railway Company at 25th street and Fairmount avenue, became involved in a fight last night with John Schwank a brewer, who resides at No. 930 Bambrey street.

Schwank wandered into the station where McGee is a watchman, in a very much inebriated condition, and started to take possession of the premises. The watchman endeavored to remonstrate with him, but to no purpose, and soon a wrangle ensued.

Officer Capper, of the ninth district, was attracted to the scene and immediately took charge of McGee and conducted him to the station house. Schwank was taken to the German Hospital, where he was found to have sustained a depressed fracture of the skull.

Rainmaker Ellis Lost in the Mountains.

EL PASO, TEX., Sept. 19.—This afternoon John T. Ellis, of the rain-making expedition, went up in a balloon two miles to measure the humidity of the atmosphere. When the balloon was up one mile a number of explosions were set off on the ground.

Gold and Silver.

An almost inexhaustible supply of both gold and silver exists in the territory of the Chickasaw Nation. The Legislature of the territory has lately authorized the formation of companies for the purpose of working mines and several have been organized.

He Answered a Matrimonial Ad.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Sept. 19.—Henry Ketcham, a wealthy and good-looking young man, answered the matrimonial advertisement of Mrs. Julian K. Stillwell, of Wilton, Conn., who is a widow.

There he was met by the lady's stalwart brother, who, not understanding the circumstances, proceeded to thrash Ketcham. The lady says she was only in fun.

The new summer cars are crowded every afternoon and night. This hot weather a ride in the cool of the evening is a treat.
