NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Cold wave coming.
Go to church tomorrow.
The weather is delightful.
Large crowds of country people in the city today.

Painting still going on in every direction.

All strangers admire the arch of welcome.

People are already talking about the Raleigh centennial next year. Let us have it by all means.

The switchback road at the grounds is coining the "nickels." Crowded all the time.

There was nothing to disturb the equanimity of the Mayor this morning.

Our esteemed friend Mr. G. Rosenthal has had his place of business nicely painted.

Hillsboro street bridge has been nicely painted, and now presents a beautiful appearance.

The stores of our Hebrew fellow citizens were closed today in honor of the Jewish new year. They opened again at 6 o'clock this afternoon.

All owners of property should keep the sidewalks in front of their houses repaired. The city ordinances require this.

Call at the Bureau of Information and select a boarding house. There is a list of six hundred houses to choose from.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin will take place tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from Edenton Street Methodist Church.

Messrs. W. B. Mann & Co. have gotten the decoration fever and thrown the stars and stripes to the breeze, at their store, corner of Fayetteville and Hargett streets.

Tomorrow evening at 4:30 o'clock Rev. N. H. D. Wilson will preach in A. D. Royster's store house, corner of Cabarrus and South McDowell streets opposite the Gas House.

Mr. Henry E. Litchford has cancelled the engagement of the Slocum Opera Company. He finds it was not what it was "cracked up to be," and Henry says he is determined that Raleigh shall have the cream. He is right.

The proposition that the Ladies' Cornet Band shall give a concert at Metropolitan Hall during their presence in the city, meets general approval. We know they would be greeted with a crowded house.

Very little other than routine business was transacted at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night. A resolution was adopted limiting hack fare to 25 cents to and from the depot except in cases where there is a special agreement.

We are delighted to state as the opinion of all who attended the late musical festival at Stronach's warehouse, that the Raleigh chorus reflected the highest credit upon themselves in all their renditions. Their singing was pronounced excellent.

My wife has used Bradyrotine for headache with the best imaginable results. I state this without solicitation. J. W. Mashburn, Abbeville, Ga. Sept 30 6t.

London Illustrated.

Rev. E. S. Ufford, when in attendance at the great Sunday School Convention held in London, secured over eight, of the finest views of that famous city, and will, on Tuesday night, show them by the use of a powerful bi-opticon, at the Tabernacle Sunday school room, which has been recently enlarged. It will be a rare treat, educational and entertaining. Do not fail to attend and take your children. Admittance 25 cents; children 15c.

A Rare Flower.

We were shown by Mr. James A. Briggs, this morning, a beautiful and rare flower called "Wedding Bells," grown in the front yard of his residence on Hillsboro street. It is a white flower shaped precisely like a bell. It opens at eight and closes in the day, and has a delightful odor. It is indeed, a beauty.

The Exposition.

Although the Exposition has been formally opened, it cannot be said that the show is in earnest commenced. There is a great deal to come yet, and a large amount of labor to perform in arranging the exhibits. It will be at least the 15th inst., before everything can be placed as it should be. The attendance today has been as usual on Saturdays. Next week, however, we may expect the advance guard of a very large crowd. From then onward the Exposition will not only meet just expectations, but we hope will far exceed them.

Look Out.

The Baptist State Convention will meet next month in Goldsboro, and it is expected that the matter of locating the Baptist Female University will be one of the subjects of discussion. An Exchange says:

"Raleigh has not raised the money it promised to donate, and it is not improbable that some other town will get the institution."

Now this prediction, or innuendo, must be checked. Raleigh cannot afford to lose this institution. To the rescue.

Superior Court.

Court met at 9:30 o'clock, Judge Whitaker presiding.

State vs Jos. W. Winston; false pretense; guilty; verdict set aside; motion for new trial granted.

State vs Jas. Willoughby; false pretense; guilty; judgment not pronounced.

State vs Jas. Willoughby; false pretense; guilty; judgment not pronounced.

State vs Jas. Willoughby; perjury; guilty; 10 years on public roads.

State vs Joshua Harris; burglary; not guilty of burglary but of larceny; 10 years on county roads.

State vs Mary Alford; l. and r.; not guilty.

State vs H. W. Wilkins; dealing in railroad tickets; guilty; fine 5 cents and costs.

Court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

A Useful Invention.

Howard F. Jones, of Warrenton, N. C., has perfected an invention which is destined to be of invaluable service to tobacco growers. As Wake county is looming up in the tobacco line, we comply with a request to give the following description of the machine, taken from the Oxford Day:

It is called a "Heat Regulator." It consists of a mechanical thermostat or thermometer, a battery, an electric motor and a bell, and so arranged that the curer can set the instrument at any degree desired.

If the curer desires to "yellow" at 90°; he turns an index—or, in short, "sets"—the instrument at 90° and lies down to rest. If he should happen to fall asleep the instrument will keep the temperature at 90°. If it reaches 91° then the device admits cold air through the pipe and closes draft to fire. If it then falls back to 89° the device will close cold air damper, and open draft to fire, thereby maintaining uniform temperature and doing so automatically.

If the fire should need replenishing, or the curer's presence is needed, an electric bell rings and calls the curer to the barn. The bell will ring until the curer stops it by putting wood in the fire and running heat up to the point "set."

Charley Heartt has donned a new suit of "true blue"—hat and all. It is in perfect accord with the majesty of his office, and looks as nice and clever as the wearer.

Personal Mention.

Mr. D. S. Osborn of Oxford, who has been in the city for several days has returned home.

Mrs. S. W. Parker, of Oxford is in the city.

Mr. Clarence O. West, of the Richmond Dispatch is here representing that paper.

Mr. Geo. Andrews and family, of Atlanta, Ga., are here stopping with Mrs. Albert Johnson on Hillsboro St. Mr. Albert Kramer, of Durham, is in the city.

Auditor Sanderlin is well enough to go to his office occasionally.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Susan Walker, wife of Mr. Samuel W. Walker on Hargett street has been quite sick for several days.

Dr. J. A. Blume, the manager of the Forsyth county exhibit is in the city, getting the display from his county in position. Something nice may be looked for from Forsyth.

Star Theater.

"Jim the Westerner" made the acquaintance of a Brooklyn audience last evening. It was at Holmes' Star theater, and the house was almost packed. There were no vacant seats in either of the galleries at any rate. Everybody seemed glad to see the newcomer, and he is probably highly pleased with himself over the reception. "Jim the Westerner" is a product of Western talent, but the scene is laid entirely in New York. Many people, no doubt, expected pyrotechnical dramatics, judging from the flamboyant title which is suggestive of red shirts and pistols; but they were gratefully disappointed. The play is a very interesting one, not unlike "The Henrietta" in style. The comedy portions of it scintillate with the genuine wit of the race track and base ball field of today, and the serious scenes are neither too long nor too numerous to offend or bore any reasonable theatergoer.

The actors were all of the capable kind. Mr. Gibbs was especially forceful, though inclined to overact at times. Miss Willard is a graceful woman, but the Phidian lines of her superb figure won her friends no more than did her intelligent acting. Miss Daisy Chaplin as a soubrette, was also very popular and made a decided impression in a starting exhibition in the art of kissing, her freedom in this feature of her acting being especially refreshing. George Gaston and Miss Hattie Neffen, in comedy parts both old, were capital. The stage setting of the first and last act was particularly meritorious.

Dan Sully in "The Millionaire," with an extra matinee on Saturday, will be at the Star next week.—Brooklyn Paper.

Shoes, Shoes.

The most complete stock of shoes ever exhibited in Raleigh, is the line we show this fall. We can fit every body, and suit anybody with our low prices. We have given particular attention to those kinds of shoes best suited for school children. Shoes that will wear well and not cost much. We have broad comfortable shoes for old ladies, common sense shoes on trim and stylish lasts; ladies shoes for nice wear; men's shoes of every kind; boys shoes that will stand hard wear. Remember, that we sell only honest good shoes, and sell them as low as any house can, that sells reliable shoes.
