NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Next Wednesday afternoon the colored musicale will take place.

A great many strange faces are seen on the streets.

Meeting of Rescue Fire Company tonight at usual time.

Forepaugh's circus will be here in November.

It is now considered certain that the Fifth Maryland Regiment will be herein November.

The Wake department at the Exposition will be well filled and nicely gotten up.

The dormitories of the Agricultural and Mechanical College are approaching completion.

Next Tuesday is the day for the meeting of the State Farmers Alliance. It will take place in Stronach's auditorium.

The official announcement is made by the National Department of Agriculture that the crops are out of danger from frosts.

Complaints continue to come in concerning the railroad rates to the exposition. This is a matter that should be properly arranged at once.

Numerous drunks and downers constricted the mayor's docket this morning. They were disposed of in the usual way.

The uttering of the welcome arch, was somewhat altered today. With this exception the work was acceptable, and will be paid for at the rate agreed upon.

If you are undetermined about your boarding house, call at the quarters of the bureau of information, in the old State Bank building on Fayetteville street. You will be furnished with all the information desired.

The picture of Sir Walter Raleigh in the mayor's office has been gaily decked with American flags, although the grand courtier in his life time never dreamed of such a thing as a great Republic on these shores. Well enough, however.

Nearly all the students from the Agricultural and Mechanical College, walked into the city yesterday to church &c. Another pointer in favor of popular prices for local travel on the electric street cars for outside residents.

Let it be remembered that the Northern Settlers' Convention will take place on the 21st inst, and not on the 5th, as has been supposed. It was found absolutely necessary to change the date so as to accommodate as large a number as possible. All northern men who have settled in North Carolina are most cordially invited.

Rev. F. L. Reid left this afternoon for Washington City to attend the Ecumenical Conference of the Methodist Church of the various denominations. Mr. Reid and Ex-Governor Jarvis represent the N. C. Conference and Prof. L. W. Crawford and Gen. R. B. Vance the Western N. C. Conference. There will be about five hundred delegates present.

The Standard Music Company, of Winston, has offered a prize each day for the prettiest baby at the exposition. How can it be settled when every mother and father will swear that their baby is the prettiest, best and sweetest in the world. There will be conflicting evidence sure, and all the Supreme Court Judges in the United States cannot settle it. It will take over a hundred Philadelphia lawyers. Besides, every baby that is rejected will cause some mother to get mad. It is going to be a knotty question.

My wife has used Bradycrotine for headache with the best imaginable results. I state this without solicitation. J. W. Mashburn, Abbeville, Ga. Sept 30 6t.

The New York Bargain House is certainly selling a power of goods. They must be furnishing goods at low figures or the people would not rush for their goods as they are doing.

The lecture to be given by Rev. Edward S. Ufford at the Baptist Tabernacle will be highly interesting. There will be eighty magnificent views of London, embracing its most wonderful sights. The admission is 25 cents only, and an evening cannot be better spent. Children under 12, 15 cents.

Died.

Mrs. W. H. Ellis, wife of Mr. W. H. Ellis, died at her residence on West Cabarrus street last Saturday night at 8 o'clock, aged 38. She had been an invalid for almost a year.

Fayetteville Street Church.

The Fayetteville Street Church was packed last night to its utmost capacity. Rev. J. F. Long preached with great power. Many are seeking religion and enquiring the way to life.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from Edenton Street Methodist Church and was attended by a considerable crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Gordon. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: C. D. Heatt, Thos. H. Briggs, Job P. Wyatt, John R. Ferrall, B. H. Woodell, W. H. Separk.

To The Young Men who are interested in the Young Men's Christian Association work, and to all who have signed papers previous to this date for the establishment of a permanent association in this city. You are cordially invited and earnestly requested to meet me Tuesday night, October 6th, 1891, at 7:30 p. m. in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian Church, this city. Let every one attend.

Yours for young men,
J. L. FOSTER, President.
City papers please copy.

Reduced Rates to the Southern Exposition.

The Richmond and Danville railroad will sell round trip tickets from all stations in North Carolina to Raleigh and return, good until December 31, 1891, at greatly reduced rates, and will have special day tickets on sale every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday during the exposition, good for seven days from date of sale at one cent per mile. This is the lowest rate ever offered for any occasion, and should induce great numbers to attend the exposition.

For full information and rates call on your station agent or write to W. A. Turk, A. G. P. A., Charlotte, N. C.

"Jim the Westerner."

Brooklyn Citizen.
The story is about a tall, jerky bluff and honest young man who after ten years or more in the West takes on all the characteristics of the breezy men of that section of the country, and when he returns east to visit old friends he is the typical fellow who bruises society hands in hearty shakes, and is ever ready to bear down on villainy for the sake of defending virtue. He does for three acts, and he rights wrongs, downs the villain and wins the love of a pretty girl. The second act, which shows two heroes starving in a garret, and when visited by wealthy friends they spurn money, was in O'Keefe's "Wild Oats" seventy years ago, but Mr. Rose brings it right up to date with amusing dressing. Wall street and its daily life belongs to everybody, and Mr. Rose has used it for his own purposes and successfully. Jim the Westerner, exists, and so do the old couple, who pretend to be strict Methodists, even to each other, and then bet on base ball games and horse races. They furnish the amusing comedy of the play and plenty of it.
Will be produced at Metropolitan Hall tonight and tomorrow night.
Tickets on sale at Bobbitt's drug store. Reserved seats 75 cents.

A Just Arrangement

We have authority for the statement that in a few days arrangements will be made by which the travel along the electric street car route from Raleigh to the fair grounds, will be five cents for residents of the outside limits. This is a just arrangement and must be to the interest of the railway company as well as of its patrons.

The Exposition.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are designated as Virginia days. The attendance to day has been considerable. The work of preparation is still going on and articles are continually arriving. Each day is a marked increase of exhibits, but it will not be before next week that the show will reach anything like what is expected. The programme today was varied and interesting and was carried out generally.

Central M. E. Church.

The meeting at Central church is growing in interest. There were eight or nine conversions last night and a large number of persons asked for the prayers of the church. The services yesterday were very interesting and spiritual. The improvement in this congregation is very marked indeed. Everything indicates progress. The pastor is full of faith and hope, and expects the meeting to culminate in a general revival, which will prove a blessing to the entire city.

Bad Arrangement.

There is a bad arrangement between the R. & D. and the Atlantic Coast Line, by which persons having correspondence between Raleigh and Wilmington are put often, to serious inconvenience. This is specially true at this time when the trains from the west are usually crowded and are behind. For instance when the train on the N. C. railroad is a little behind we learn that the Atlantic Coast line train will not wait even a reasonable time. The result is that letters written from Raleigh and mailed promptly have to lay over in Goldsboro, and do not reach Wilmington until next day. This is an abominable arrangement. Can't it be remedied?

Superior Court.

Court met at 9:30 o'clock, Judge Whitaker presiding.

Beautiful.

Metropolitan Hall, under the direction of Mr. Henry E. Litchford, has been most beautifully and artistically decorated by those splendid artists, Mittleldorfer & Son. The stars and stripes are displayed in profusion in all kinds of elegant designs. It is simply splendid and it will be worth the price of admission, even if there were no other attractions.

A New Enterprise in Town.

The Plaster Decoration Co. (M. H. Aufrecht, agent,) has commenced the manufacture of imitation bisquit figures, cornices, center pieces, drawing models for schools, etc. It employs about 16 hands. The works are at 114 Fayetteville street. At present they are going to manufacture figures for the holiday trade. It is the only works of the kind in the South. We wish them abundant success and hope that North Carolina will help the new enterprise. These figures are all the rage at present in the north. They are beautiful and artistic.
