NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

An elevator is being put in Tucker's store.

"Felicia" to night at Metropolitan Hall.

The next term of the Superior court of Wake will be for three weeks.

Remember that the big sale of lots in the new suburbs of Oakdale will take place on the 28 inst.

Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement, was strictly observed by all Orthodox Hebrews here yesterday.

The "Brushy Mountain Chestnuts" at the exposition are said to be huge specimens.

On the 28th inst. there will be some notable bicycle racing here. Will Wynne and others will try their hands at the exposition grounds.

Last Friday there were 73,000 pounds of leaf tobacco on the floors of the different warehouses at Louisville.

Judge Whitaker will preside at the term of the Superior which meets October 26th for the trial of civil cases.

Y. M. C. A. tonight at Sunday school room of First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. All requested to be present.

A country colored man who came to town with his wagon violated the rules of driving and had to pay $5 and costs, at the mayor's court today.

The opening address at the fair grounds today by Gov. Holt is pronounced to be a master piece of eloquence. A considerable crowd was present.

A large crowd will go from this city to attend the inauguration ceremonies of President Winston at Chapel Hill tomorrow. Addresses will be delivered by President Gilman, of Johns Hopkins University, Dr. J. L. McCurry and Mr. Walter H. Page.

The cotton receipts for the past week in this city were 1843 bales against 2,656 the corresponding week last year. The total receipts since September 1 are 4,379 against 10,629 to this date last season. The shipments during the past week were 1,613 bales and the stock on the platform is 811.

The fruit department of the State Fair will be fuller and generally of finer quality than for several years past. The same can be said to a great extent of the cattle and horse display. The fruit entries made yesterday by Dr. G. K. Faust, of Graham, were excellent and will attract much attention.

The fine blankets on exhibition by Elkin Woolen Mills are attracting much attention. Messrs. A. Chatham and H. G. Click have them in charge and they will remain on exhibition several weeks. There are no finer specimens of blankets made anywhere in the United States.

W. J. McDonald, superintendent Lanneau Manufacturing Co., Greenville, S. C., says: "My wife has used Bradycrotine for headache and it is the only thing that relieves her sufferings." wed 7 6t

Rev. P. L. Herman preached at Central Methodist church last night. The congregation was not as large as usual on account of the weather. The sermon was a most excellent one, and he will preach again to night. Services begin at 7:30

Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" delighted a crowded house at the Toronto Opera House last night with Will E. Burton, a clever young actor, in the title role. The dramatizer has succeeded in making a combination of laughable situations. The irrepressible Tom is the beginning and the end of the whole play, and in the hands of Will E. Burton is a character of which the auditors never seem to tire.—Toronto Globe.

Quite warm again.

They are here and no mistake.

Possum hunting now in order.

Good time to lay in your fuel.

Hundreds went to the show today merely to look at the animals.

John Lowley says he always feels at home in Raleigh.

A large number of blooded horses have been entered for the State fair.

Our columns today are a little short of local. This is accounted for from the fact that the circus took such a full hold of the people that all else was discarded for the time being.

Our cotton merchants are much pleased with the outlook so far, and a big increase of receipts over last year is expected.

The Progressive Farmer has the following strike which is to the point: Come to the exposition. News has gone out that it is a fraud. It is not half as much a fraud as those who labor so hard to circulate such reports.

We hope our patriotic Governor will not forget to look after the matter of a subscription for the World's Fair during the exposition. He is just the person to start the movement and no doubt hundreds will follow.

A gentleman from New York who has had good opportunities to estimate a crowd says there could not have been less than twelve thousand persons witnessed the circus parade today. He is certainly not over the mark.

Small Houses.

The cry still comes that there are no houses for rent in the city suitable for families of moderate means. We know of several persons who for the past few weeks have been on the look out for such houses without success. It is passing strange that some of our wealthy citizens do not invest in such property. It surely would be a paying investment.

Rutherford College.

Mr. A. A. Abernethy, nephew of Rev. Dr. Abernethy, President of Rutherford College, is in the city. It is understood that he is soliciting funds for the new building at Rutherford College to replace that destroyed by fire some time ago. Dr. Abernethy will be here in person during the week, and we wish him the most abundant success in his efforts.

Demorest's Magazine.

The November number of this excellent family magazine is unusually attractive and interesting. Its illustrations of famous beauties of the South are gotten up in very handsome style. Its literature and light reading are of an elevated type, and its fashion department is late, full and at the front in this line.

Real Estate Index.

We hope that when the county commissioners meet next week they will no longer delay the matter of having a double index prepared, so that the transfers of real estate can be readily referred to. This is a highly important matter to all our people and should no longer be neglected. At present it is found sometimes difficult to trace the ownership of property, and sales of real estate are often retarded on account of the delay. It is a matter that should have been attended to long ago. Let there be no further delay.

Thanks.

The students of Chapel Hill have passed by a rising vote the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st. That the students of the University on this, the first morning of the occupation of the remodelled chapel, desire to express their grateful appreciation of the generosity of Mr. D. G. Worth and his three sons, all Alumni of this University, who by their gift of $500 have enabled us to use this beautiful and comfortable hall.

Resolved, 2d. That we will carefully use and protect the property thus generously donated by our friends.

Badly Beaten.

A dispatch from Winston yesterday says:

"A street car conductor named Bell was attacked by two young men while on his run yesterday afternoon, and was badly beaten up. The young men were drinking and ringing up fares on him. The affair is receiving condemnation, and it is thought those who made the attack will suffer a right heavy penalty from the court. Bell's injuries may prove serious, as he had to take his bed from the effects.

A Great Novelty.

The Barcelona Mystery performed at the People's Theatre last evening with Sun's New Phantasma Novelty Co., was one of the greatest treats our amusement loving people have had in many a day. The stage was light up as bright as could be no curtain or cabinets used. The lady walked in the air, turned several revolutions and returned to the stage. The act was a surprise, although advertised, our people were not looking for the act as it seemed impossible. The company in all was a good one and will always draw a full house here.—Evening Bee Toledo, O.

This company will appear at Metropolitan Hall on Wednesday night, October 14th.

The Right Spirit.

The Concord Standard has the following sensible article:

"The Southern Exposition, aside from the peculiar object of its existence, is at least a great advertisement for North Carolina. It is this, or nothing.

That the people of North Carolina, with this view of the exposition, should boost it, assist it and patronize it, there can be no doubt. The management may be distasteful to some; a part of it may be at even enmity to some parties, but the thing was born and the baby had to be cared for. The management was placed in charge without money, and seeing they had a good sized elephant on their hands they had to put up the money themselves or the elephant had to perish—that's the size and dimensions of the whole affair. Let North Carolina people, and especially the press, stand by them.

Standard: A female drummer in Concord was a novelty on Saturday. She is Miss B. F. Adams and represents a wholesale grocery house of Pittsburg, Pa. She seems to succeed right well, and understands the art as it is. But the Standard is fervent any such woman's rights.

Dick Hick—Doesn't it seem to you that the heathen have a very soft snap?

Hicks—What do you mean?
Dick Hick—"They don't have to attend the church services, and they get the box receipts."

The little daughter of a Brooklyn clergyman swallowed her father's collar button a few days ago. This, however, is not as severe a test of his piety as it would have been if the collar button had rolled under the bureau.

The colored people of Georgia are prosperous and gradually acquiring wealth. They return 15 per cent. more of property this year than they did last. They have returned $14, 195,735 worth of taxable property.

A curious feature of this season's apple crop in York county, Me., is that it is unusually light all over, except in a belt about five miles wide, where the yield is phenomenally large.

Among the men talked of for successor to Civil Service Commissioner Lyman is Professor Towsley, of Minneapolis, recently superintendent of public schools of that city.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE FAIR.

It is Formally Opened.

The North Carolina State Fair, in connection with the Inter-State Exposition, opened today.

In accordance with the pre arranged programme the procession formed on Fayetteville street in front of the Yarboro House, and under the direction of Col. Jno. S. Cunningham, of Person county, Chief Marshal, took up the line of March to the exposition grounds. About noon the opening exercises took place, the address being delivered by Gov. Holt in accordance with custom. The attendance at the grounds was considerable when considered that the circus parade and performance kept a large crowd of visitors in the city. The fair exhibit proper is located in the central aisle of the new exposition building and in floral hall. The fair is fully up to previous ones in each and every particular.

The Idea of a Blanket.

Did you need a blanket last night?
