NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Florida Day's at the exposition will be today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Mr. S. E. Wilder, of Birmingham, Ala. is on a visit to Mr. Willie Rogers on Oakwood Avenue.

Mr. W. C. McMackin, agent for the champion road machine, will exhibit one at Oakdale north of the city.

The North Carolina managers of the World's Fair have been called by Mr. Elias Carr to meet tomorrow.

We had a pleasant call this morning from Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates, of Durham, who is visiting the exposition.

Tomorrow will be Greensboro Female College day at the Exposition. The young ladies will arrive on a special train at 10:30 a. m.

Quite a large crowd of people were in Raleigh yesterday, and the indications are that the attendance upon the Exposition will be large today.

Don't forget to visit the Soldiers' Home headquarters in the west wing of the Exposition building and help the Soldiers' Home fund.

Quite a large number of New Bern people are here today, came in on the train which left there at 6:05 o'clock this morning.

The New York Bargain House has a very full stock of goods at low prices which they advertise in this issue.

Mr. T. P. High, from Jackson Northampton county, who is here taking in the exposition, favored us with a call yesterday. He expressed himself as much pleased.

Mr. J. Lane, general manager Georgia Southern and Florida Railroad, says: "I was entirely relieved of headache by Bradycrine in fifteen minutes. It is the only thing that relieves me after the pain commences." wed 21 81

The Fayetteville cedar company have sent in two car loads of manufactured articles to be placed on exhibition. This will make a fine display in the wood and willow war-line.

Oyster supper tonight at Moseley's dining room, on Fayetteville street, furnished by the ladies of the Tabernacle church, who cordially invite all their friends and the public to be present.

Dr. W. R. Capeheart, of Avoca, was displaying a beautiful seal skin sack, at the Yarboro last night, which was made from the skin of a seal caught near Avoca. The Dr. will have the finest display of salt fish to be found at the exposition.

Rev. L. J. Holden, the pastor on the Northampton circuit, preached for Dr. Nash at the Central Church last night. His sermon was a forcible presentation of the gospel and was well received. The meetings at this church were discontinued.

The Board of Agriculture met yesterday and held a short session. The board decided to sustain the action of the executive committee in making an appropriation for an exhibit at the exposition. At today's session the board will hear the opinion of Attorney General Davidson upon the power of the board to make appropriations.

Mr. N. B. Garrett, from Waycross, Ga., paid us a very pleasant visit yesterday afternoon. Mr. Garrett is a good "tar heel," is a former resident of Raleigh, is here to take in the exposition and in order to see old friends and relatives will remain a week or more. He has with him his wife, two daughters and a son. We commend him to his friends, and suggest that they make his visit so pleasant that he may conclude that he can better make his home here and not go (a) way (a) cross Georgia again.

We are requested to ask if the present street car line will recognize the books of tickets purchased from the original company?

Attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach, which appears in today's issue.

Mr. A. E. McLelland, from Crawfordsville, Ind., is on his way to Raleigh to spend the winter. He has rented through Messrs. J. M. Broughton & Co's real estate agency, the Eberhardt cottage on North Person street. There is no reason why Raleigh should not be full every winter of people from the North seeking a milder climate.

DARING BURGLARIES.

Two H. uses on the Hillsboro Road Near the Exposition Grounds Entered and Robbed.

Last night, or rather this morning between the hours of one and two o'clock, two of the most daring burglaries ever perpetrated in this vicinity took place on the Hillsboro road between St. Mary's and the Exposition grounds.

A reporter of the VISITOR had an interview with Mr. A. J. Ellis, a merchant doing business on the corner of the Hillsboro road and what is known as "Cox Avenue." Mr. Ellis says his house was entered at or about the hours named and a ladies' valuable gold watch taken. He has not, so far, discovered any further loss.

The house of Mr. J. N. Hubbard was also entered. He lives on the Hillsboro road near the corner of the Avent Ferry road. He is a well known citizen, being janitor of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. He lost about $110 and two gold watches and chains. The money was taken from his pants pockets. They were hanging at the head of his bed.

Every effort should be made to ferret out and bring the scoundrels to justice. It is rumored that attempts have been made to enter other premises in the vicinity, but of this we have nothing authentic. It is thought that the thieves are a parcel of professionals from a distance who are here plying their vocation.

Married.

LONDON-TUCKER.

One of the happy events of last night was the marriage at 9:30 p. m. at the church of the Good Shepherd of two of the most estimable young people of Raleigh, Dr. John Houghton London, son of Capt. W. L. London, of Pittsboro, and Miss Inder Tucker, daughter of Mr. T. Tucker. The church could not contain half the number who desired admission. The service was performed by Rev. Dr. M. M. Marshall, rector of Christ Church, assisted by the Rev. I. McK. Pettinger, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Miss Maud Marshall was maid of honor and Mr. H. A. London, jr., best man. The attendants were: Misses Bennett Eekles, of Norfolk; Emily Wingfield and Virginia Butt of Portsmouth; Octavia Winder, Annie Faison, Mary Lily Kenan, Kate Hale and Lena Battle. Messrs. F. P. Haywood, jr., Dr. William Headen, Henry E. Litchford, Thomas Denson, Fred Mitchell, of Henderson, Sidney Williams, and John D. Bellamy, jr., and Bartell Wise.

The ushers were Messrs. DeBernier Whitaker, Armstead Cowans, Thomas Badger, jr., and Ludlow Skinner.

The bride who was exquisitely dressed in white satin, was given away by her father. The groom's family and a number of friends from Pittsboro were present. A reception and supper at Mr. W. A. Tucker's residence on North Blount street followed the marriage. The couple left on the 1:30 o'clock train this morning for a Northern tour.

Another Larceny Case.

Messrs. Jno. T. Morris & Co. bought a bag of moss from a negro boy this morning and agreed with the boy for more which he had. While he was gone for the second lot, Mr. Lee came and claimed the moss as his property. When the boy returned Mr. G. W. Morris caught him by the collar of his jacket, out of which he dexterously slipped an iron. He was soon caught, however, and carried before Mr. J. C. Marcom Justice of the Peace, and was sent to jail to await trial in the Superior court.

In the struggle to capture and hold him the boy bit Mr. G. W. Morris on the hand. During the excitement there was a manifest disposition on the part of one or more negroes to prevent the boys arrest. Such persons are as bad as the thieves themselves and should be looked after. They are enemies to both races and should be dealt with as such by both.

New river mullets by the barrel, Mackerel 10 cents per pound, N. C. Out Herrings 10 cents per dozen at D. T. JOHNSON'S.

The Law.

A couple of days ago we noticed the fact of a negro boy being sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary in Georgia for stealing four pairs of socks, worth about fifty cents. That was a sample of so called justice run to extremes. We don't know what the law of Georgia is on petty larceny, but if it requires such a penalty as that for such an offence, it requires some making over again. If the boy had knocked a man down and pulled a pair of socks off his feet the penalty would hardly have been more severe. But we have a case nearer home, of some more of this so-called justice. The Durham Globe, with stinging rebuke, notes the fact that a young tramp printer, who sought work in that town and was unable to obtain it, while walking from there to Raleigh, and hungry went into a field and pulled two sweet potatoes to eat, was arrested, brought back to Durham, arranged before a magistrate, when he admitted that he had taken the potatoes to eat because he was hungry, and was bound over in a bond of $25, which not being able to give he went to jail. And this for two potatoes for a hungry boy. That may be law but it would take a forty thousand power microscope to find the justice or humanity in it.—Wil Star

One Hundred and Thirty-six Car Loads of Cotton at One Compress.

Charlotte News
Some idea of the amount of cotton that is being brought into Charlotte by the railroads to be compressed, may be obtained from the fact at the side tracks about the upper compress yesterday there were 126 box cars all filled with cotton, being unloaded. A box car contains 28 bales of un compressed cotton, but can be filled with 60 bales of compressed cotton.
