NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Work resumed on the Union Depot. Marriage at Edenton Street Church tonight. Doors opened at 8:30 o'clock. "Which" and "The Runaway Match" at Metropolitan Hall tonight. The bicycle race will take place tomorrow. The prize is $200.

The cold wave seems to be general reaching as far South as Texas.

We are now likely to have cold, clear weather for several days to come. So the knowing ones predict.

The "Welcome Arch" stood the wind yesterday all right. It has been braced up a little however.

Forepaugh's circus, it is now stated, will give Raleigh a chance, and the bills are here.

The Gatling gun can fire 1200 cartridges in a minute and kill a man two miles. Dangerous weapon.

There are a great many strangers in the city. A large number were in attendance at the Oakdale sale.

Next Monday the partridges will have to be on the lookout. We learn that many guns are being cleaned up ready for the fray.

Memorial exercises were held at the State University last Sunday, in honor of the late Col. Walter L. Steele. There was a large audience present.

The Superior Court has virtually adjourned until next Friday. Although it is a three weeks term, the docket will be cleared much sooner.

The cars on the Blount street line were all crowded this afternoon with persons going and coming from Oakdale. A large number of free tickets were issued by the Land Company.

The Baptist Tabernacle is nearing completion, and will be one of the finest and prettiest religious edifices in the south. It is said that the alterations will cost about $8,000.

We are pretty sure it is now getting about time to take off the summer cars. It is about cool enough not to enjoy the breeze going about ten miles an hour.

There has never been a better company here than the one now performing at Metropolitan Hall. For genuine old standard comedy, it cannot be beaten. Let all lovers of the legitimate drama see them.

Bicycle race for championship of the State, between Will Wynne, of Raleigh, and George Fitzsimmons, of Greensboro. Five mile race, 1 o'clock p. m., Thursday, October 29th, at the exposition grounds.

Mayor Badger is carefully preparing the list of gentlemen to go to New York, for the purpose of inviting ex-President Cleveland to visit us. They will also call at Washington and renew the invitation to President Harrison. We suppose the committee will be announced very soon.

Another slight earthquake shock was felt in the vicinity of Charleston, S. C., early Monday morning last. A few years ago similar troubles commenced in the same section, giving Raleigh a severe shake up. We hope the performance will not be repeated. It is not very agreeable.

If there is one kind of vandalism we despise more than another, it is the propensity for defacing property. We allude to marking or writing on the walls of public buildings, such as the capitol, court house, post office, &c. Persons caught in such acts should be dealt with to the extent of the law.

Mrs. E. M. Lewis, Oxanna, Ala., writes: "For over twenty years I have suffered with headaches without relief from the many remedies and physicians tried during that period. Bradycrotine produces the most satisfactory results. It is almost as indispensable to my comfort as my food."

There is quite a lull in business at the Mayor's court.

The cold wave has brought with it a desire for the "festive oyster."

The Durham band furnished music for the great sale occasion today. As usual it was splendid.

Splendid bill for the entertainment of the amusement loving public at Metropolitan Hall tonight.

The defaulting manager of the Western Union office at Winston has made a settlement in full.

The new track of the electric railway on Hillsboro street is nearly completed.

Rev. Sam Jones has agreed to tell us "how he got there" and "Stay there." These are things all would like to hear.

The Supreme Court is making rapid headway in the disposal of cases. On next Monday, the 6th district will be called.

Mr. Dossy Battle has accepted a position on the Wilmington Star. "Dossy" is a born newspaper man, and makes his mark on any journal with which he is connected.

At a late hour this afternoon the sale at Oakland was in full blast. Prospects, as we learn, first-rate for splendid success.

We are glad to note that the rolling stock of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad company is being increased and improved.

The train from the west was reported late today. This, however, is not news. It might be news if we could report it on time.

The Oak City building on East Hargett street, known as the Walker Manufacturing Co's, house was sold today. Mr. W. R. Womble became the purchaser for $3,800.

The tile and pottery plant of Maj. H. L. Grant near Goldsboro, was destroyed by fire last Monday night. The loss is estimated at $4,000, with no insurance.

The chief events at the exposition grounds to day, were addresses from Mr. Gatling and Mr. John G. Harris, Superintendent of Public Education in Alabama. A considerable crowd was in attendance.

A few more noble gifts to the Soldiers' Home like that of Col. E. T. Beckton, of Kentucky, will place that grand charity on a proper footing. Who will second Col. Beckton's $1,000?

Now that the hitch seems to have been broken, we hope the new Union depot will be a reality by the first of next year. With reasonably good weather, it seems this might be accomplished.

The street car track out Hillsboro street is not in a good condition. Although the heavy iron has been put on, yet it is not entirely safe. The frequent running of the track, notwithstanding the slow running, indicates that the track laying has not been properly done. A gentleman stated to us yesterday the running off where the heavy iron is was caused by spreading.

Rev. Sam Jones.

This distinguished Evangelist has agreed to deliver two lectures, at Metropolitan Hall on November 12th, and 13th. The first night the subject will be "Get There" and the second "Stay There." This will be a fine opportunity for all who, so desire, to hear one of the most noted men of the times.

More Robbery.

The burglars seem not to confine themselves to Raleigh. Newell & Tucker's store at Greensboro, was entered last Saturday night, and the safe blown open. It was evidently the work of experts, and it may be the same gang that recently operated in the western suburbs of Raleigh. Some good detectives could put in work to advantage in this section.

The Clarke Ford Company.

From the Baltimore American, Sept. 15th, '91: A representative Baltimore audience assembled last night at Ford's Opera House to greet the English Comedy Company, of which Wilfred Clarke, son of John Sleeper Clarke, is the star jointly with Miss Martha Ford. The play presented was Tom Taylor's comedy of "A Runaway Match," preceded by the comedietta, "Which; or, Who Is the Heiress?" adapted by Mr. Clarke. The company was warmly received, the principals being greeted with an enthusiastic welcome. The company as a whole is one of more than ordinary strength, and all the parts were well sustained.

Wilfred Clarke, as Captain Ginger in "Them Regimentals" bore the burden in such a way as to bring down the house. The cleverly conceived plot turns on a will, making one of two cousins an heiress, but none save themselves knowing which, and the embarrassment of the gallant captain, not knowing which to woo, made a capital little play.

"In "A Runaway Match" the spirit never flagged, and the changes from the fresh romance of young wedded love to the old story of henpecked misery relieved each other, so that both were heightened by the contrast. Wilfred Clarke is, certainly, a born comedian, and it will not take a season to stamp his extraordinary talents upon the mind of the public. His facial control is marvelous; his countenance is literally, a speaking one, and his expressions need no words to translate their humor. His mock tragedy is screamingly funny. His acting, too, is intelligent; there is mind as well as matter in his fun.

Miss Martha Ford shows decided improvement in her acting, and has lost none of the naturalness which so strikingly characterized her as a debutante. Her rich, full voice shows to better advantage, and she is seen at her best when a deeper stage of feeling gives play to the power that is one of her strong points, and to the expressiveness of her face.

"A Runaway Match" and "Which," will be presented tonight at the Opera House. Tickets can be secured at Bobbitt's drug store.

Personal Mention.

Thos. Settle, Esq., of Reidsville, is in the city.

Mrs. W. W. Fuller, of Durham, is visiting friends in the city.

The cold wave put in on schedule time last night.

Dr. Tyre York, of Wilkes county, is taking in the Exposition.

Assistant District Attorney Thos. P. Devereux is attending Federal Court in New Berne.

L. S. Overman, of Salisbury, is in the city, stopping at the residence of Chief Justice Merrimon.

Mrs. Sue Tisdale, of New Berne, is in the city, stopping with the family of Ed. S. Brown, Esq., corner of Peace and Salisbury streets.

Mrs. Parelov, of Chapel Hill, who has been stopping with Mrs. Kate Hogan on Hogan avenue, has returned back to her home.

Hon. W. H. Kitchin, of Scotland Neck, is in the city. In general physical appearance, and in style of speaking, he much resembles the late celebrated John Minor Botts, of Virginia.

Dr. R. L. Abernethy, of Rutherford College, who has been East for a week or so, came in from Snow Hill and La Grange yesterday, and says he enjoyed that country very much. The Doctor called to see us and we were glad to see him looking so well.

Opinions.

Among the opinions handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, were the following, from Wake county:

Blake vs. Blackley; no error. State vs. Flowers; error. Turner vs. Holden; appeal dismissed.

Married.

WOOLCOTT—THIEM.

This morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents on West Morgan street, Mr. Walter Woolcott, one of our most influential merchants, led to the hymeneal altar Miss Lula Thiem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Thiem. The ceremony was conducted in an impressive manner by Rev. Dr. J. H. Cordon, pastor of the Edenton St. M. E. Church.

The visitor tenders to the contracting parties its heartfelt wishes for their future welfare through life. May they always realize the maxim, "Two souls with but a single thought; Two hearts that beat as one."

The bridal party took the North-bound train for a Northern trip, where they will spend some two or three weeks pleasure seeking.
