NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Almost spring weather again. The matinee at Metropolitan Hall was well attended this afternoon. Milton Nobles will be the dramatic excitement next week. Cotton receipts today in the market have been very heavy. Several drunks constituted the docket of the mayor this morning. Who is Col. Beckton? can anybody tell? Board of County Commissioners will meet next Monday. Mr. Fabius H. Brown has returned home from Trinity College on a visit to relatives and friends. The Knights of Pythias propose to have a day at the exposition. It is thought probable that November 25, will be selected. Partridges are unusually abundant in this section, and sportsmen will have a splendid time on and after Monday next. Another long distance race will probably be arranged between Wynne and Fitzsimmons, about the middle of November. It will be rather on the private order. The musicale at Peace Institute last night was a most enjoyable affair, a large and delighted audience being present. Gov. A. B. Fleming, of West Virginia, will be here and deliver an address at the exposition grounds about the 6th of November. Our line of ladies fine buttoned shoes in common sense or opera toe $1.50 $1.75 $2.00 and $2.25 cannot be excelled in the South. Norris' Dry Goods Store. Mr. A. Dughi, today, showed us a bunch of splendid bananas raised in Raleigh. They looked just as well as any raised in the tropics, and, no doubt, eat as well. There will be prayer service at the jail on tomorrow, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Christian men of all denominations are requested to attend. Don't forget that Elm street Sunday School will meet promptly at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A full attendance is desired. You should see our line of hand-made ladies buttoned boots in common sense or opera toe from $3.50 to $4.25. They are beauties. Norris' Dry Goods Store. The Ladies Aid Society of the Raleigh Christian Church will give an entertainment at the Moseley dining room on Fayetteville street next Thursday and Thursday night, November 5th. Refreshments will be on hand in an abundance. Virginia oysters a specialty. The proceeds for the benefit of said church. Mrs. E. M. Lewis, Oxanna, Ala., writes: "For over twenty years I have suffered with headaches without relief from the many remedies and physicians tried during that period. Biadycrotine produces the most satisfactory results. It is almost as indispensable to my comfort as my food." oc28 ft

A Breezy Time.

This great farce comedy company is not being billed for Metropolitan Hall for Friday and Saturday, Nov., 6th and 7th. One of the features of "A Breezy Time," the new farce comedy which Daniel Shelby has taken on the road, is the Cahuahua Mandolin Octette. The instruments used by these artists are the finest manufactured, and cost the fabulous sum of $450 each. The total cost of the eight mandolins, $3600, is more money than is usually expended on the entire outfit of the new comedy of the farcical order.

There will be preaching by Rev. N. H. D. Wilson tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the storehouse of Mr. A. D. Royster, corner Cabarrus and McDowell streets.

Dr. L. G. Broughton, of Reidsville, N. C., will preach at the Baptist Tabernacle in this city tomorrow night. Dr. B. was raised in this city and has relatives and many friends here. He attended Wake Forest College and afterwards graduated as a physician at the Kentuck Medical College at Louisville. He located at Reidsville, in this State, where he has become a leading practitioner. He has recently determined to enter the ministry. In his first sermon, recently published in the Reidsville papers, he stated that in making this change in his life work, he was yielding to impressions that had followed him for many years, and which he could no longer resist. He gives up a large and valuable practice as a doctor. We are glad that his old friends in Raleigh will hear him tomorrow.

Superior Court.

The following cases were disposed of today: R. S. Tucker vs. Ella M. Harrison et al. Judgment of foreclosure and decree for sale of lands. Lysander Turner vs. Mark Wimberly. Judgment, final. Cornelia A. R. Jackson vs. David Jackson. Trial in progress.

Assistant Book Keeper.

Our young friend Mr. Derward O. Blake, son of our well known fellow citizen, Capt. W. R. Blake, has accepted a position as assistant book-keeper in the well known establishment of Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co. This announcement, of itself is a high compliment to our young friend, because Messrs. Tucker & Co., secure none but the most competent and deserving assistants. "Derward" however is fully prepared in all respects for the duties incumbent upon him, having become proficient in business at a first class institution in Lexington, Kentucky. We congratulate our young friend, and feel sure he will become indispensable to his employers and make a first class business name for himself.

To the Ladies

For the benefit of any lady who may be interested in cloaks or wraps of any kind, we will state that we have just received a large and elegant assortment of wraps in all the late and new styles and designs, and each one is a real bargain. In our dress goods department we are showing a large and full assortment of foreign and domestic dress fabrics in all the new and most fashionable styles and designs, with all the new novelties in trimmings to match. Our shoe department is complete. It embraces a full line of men's, women's and children's shoes, any size or style that you may want. Yours truly,

D. T. SWINDELL,
206 Fayetteville St., Raleigh N. C.

Milton and Dollie Nobles.

The coming of this popular actor and dramatist is at any time an advent of interest to the theatre-going people of this city, where he is immensely popular. The present visit will be made doubly interesting by the fact that he will produce his last and most successful play from his own versatile pen, and bearing the indorsement of the ablest critics in the land. "From Sire to Son" is the title of Mr. Nobles' last offering to the masses. The play is distinctively American, like all of Mr. Nobles' plays, and is pronounced of a higher order of literary and constructive merit than any of its predecessors. The company carried by Mr. Nobles is composed of the best artists in the profession. As an actor, author, manager and a man, Milton Nobles represents what is best in the theatrical profession. He is a representative American, he writes American plays exclusively, his incidents are such as could reasonably occur and his character actors are flesh and blood realities. "From Sire to Son" will be given, Mr. Nobles appearing in his powerful performance of the heroic role of Alfred Armitage, Dollie Nobles in her exquisite dual creation of Mabel Armitage, mother and daughter. A genuine old mountain coach drawn by genuine bronchos, filled with genuine passengers, will be an interesting bit of stage realism in "From Sire to Son."
