NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Masonic Day.

A new safe for sale cheap. Apply at this office.

Considerable crowd in attendance at the exposition today.

The cold wave put in its appearance last night in full blast.

The mayor's court was barren of news this morning.

Tremendous crowds continue to flock to the circus. Hundreds are turned off. A new tent is on the way.

Most of the grocery stores are well stocked with turkeys preparatory to Thanksgiving Day.

The weather prophets say tonight will be a genuine, old fashioned cold one.

A large number of rabbits and possum were offered for sale in the city today.

The Yarboro House is pretty well filled up today with gentlemen representing the Masonic fraternity.

Those who hear Bishop Galloway at Edenton street church tomorrow night may expect a rich treat. He is a most excellent pulpit orator.

The Greensboro Record has reached its first anniversary. It is a bright, newsy sheet, and we wish it continued success.

It is reported that a much larger acreage of wheat is being planted in this section this year than for a long time past.

Sun's Phantasma at Metropolitan Hall tonight. It is an entertainment of the first class order and should be greeted with a tremendous audience.

Another change of schedule, is, we hear, in contemplation to take place next Sunday, by which the train from the east will arrive in Raleigh about 2 o'clock p. m.

Gov. Holt has issued a card in which he denies the utterances attributed to him concerning the Farmers Alliance by the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun.

Ice formed last night about an average of one eighth of an inch. In some places it was over one fourth. The fountain in Moore square was hung with huge icicles.

The musicale to be given tonight at the residence of Mrs. R. C. Badger, under the auspices of the ladies of Christ Church promises to be one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season. The proceeds will be devoted to improvements on the church.

"Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow" Bradycerotine will stop the headache. wed 18 6t

Several more letters were received in this city yesterday from members of the Fifth Maryland Regiment, all of which express the heartiest thanks for their kind reception. Some of them insist that they should have an opportunity to reciprocate.

It is now asserted positively that the roofing of the new Union depot will be in place by Christmas. The entire building will be in readiness for business early in the coming year.

Mr. Henry E. Litchford, who has catered to the pleasures of our people during the past month or so, has yet in view some of the best shows of the country. Our citizens need have no fears of not being amused in the dramatic line. "Henry" is "in it," and that means success.

Let us all talk about the centennial for Raleigh next year. We can get up a big boom for our beautiful city, if we will but do our duty. Next year will be an opportune time, because in addition to the political excitement, we can manage to work up a real business boom for Raleigh combined with pleasure.

Plain and fancy candies, made daily at Barbee & Popen's. n172

A committee representing the board of county commissioners is at work adjusting the accounts of the late sheriff, J. Rowan Rogers. There is still a difference of several hundred dollars.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. L. R. Wyatt, who has for sale wood, lumber, feed, fertilizers, grass and clover seed, &c. We most cheerfully recommend the stock of Mr. Wyatt to all in want of such supplies. There is no place in North Carolina where a better selection can be made on more advantageous terms.

Opinions.

Several important opinions were handed down in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, among them the following:

Boykin vs Buie, from Robeson; affirmed; Bank vs Burns, and Bank vs Grimm, from Moore; no error.

Commuted.

Yesterday afternoon, Gov. Holt commuted the death sentence of George Dudley, colored, who was to have been hung at Greenville, Pitt county, December 4th, to imprisonment for life. He was convicted of the murder of a colored man named Redmond Blow.

The Lions Mouth.

The great theatrical attraction this week will be the performance to be given next Saturday night, by Mr. Frederick Ward, the eminent tragedian at Metropolitan Hall. Mr. Ward can now justly claim to be the foremost American actor in the tragic line, and he will be supported by a fine company. Those desiring to attend should secure seats at Robbitt's drug store, as there will no doubt, be a large crowd.

Our Poor.

This cold spell reminds us that there are no doubt in the vicinity of Raleigh, many persons who are almost entirely bereft of the ordinary comforts in the way, specially, of fuel. We hope our benevolent societies and citizens generally will, as far as possible, widen their field of operations so that none may suffer. Helping the unfortunate always brings good to the heart, and while all cannot be blest with the power of giving profusely, let us do what we can to alleviate human suffering in our midst.

Exercises Today.

The exercises today at the exposition grounds were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. W. S. Black. A most interesting concert was given by the orphans of the Oxford Asylum, who are here in large numbers. Addresses were delivered by Hon. A. H. A. Williams and others. Among the features of interest was an exhibit from Texas on wheels, Races, balloon ascensions, etc., made up the amusements of the day.

Sensible.

The Winston Daily Sentinel says: Of course there is nothing like printer's ink, but it begins to look as if it would be all the better if there was a little more practical work on the Chicago exhibition and a little less gassing about ambitious projects for the future. There has already been more talk made and scribbling done over Mrs. Palmer and the women managers of the woman's department than there was over the whole show in Paris.

The Carpet Auction.

The auction sale of carpets will take place tomorrow, Thursday, at 11 o'clock, next door to our Wilmington Street entrance. Do not forget this great sale of carpets. There will be a general line of carpets disposed of. Ingrains, Tapestry and Body Brussels, Velvets and Moquettes.

Until the hour of sale, these carpets will be upon exhibition at our auction room.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO.

Settled.

A correspondent of the New Berne Journal has effectually disposed of the spelling of that city. He says:

"The Colonial Records published by the State and edited so ably by the late Col. William L. Saunders fix the matter beyond all doubt or peradventure. De Graffenried spelled it New Bern, and the Colonial Records show that it was so spelled from 1789 to 1771. The correspondent made a partial examination of the Colonial Records and found them 'ablaze with the name New Bern.'"

A Lesson.

The incorrect report of the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun relative to the views of Gov. Holt as regards the Alliance and other matters, should be a warning to those who interview our public men. It should be remembered that an incorrect report of the views of prominent persons is liable to work serious injury at times. Of course the disclaimer of Gov. Holt will be known by most of our people, but then the report has gone into sections which the Governor's denial cannot reach. A halt should be made to wild assertions on the part of many newspaper reporters. It is easy enough to publish what is correct. All false paintings are but acts of gross injustice and do no credit to the journals which print them.

The Temperance Convention.

As heretofore announced this body will assemble in the Sunday School room of Edenton Street Church tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. At 7:30 p. m., Bishop C. B. Galloway, of Mississippi will deliver an address in the church. Rev. Dr. Nash and Mr. N. B. Broughton will deliver opening addresses. Addresses will also be delivered as follows:

R. H. Whitaker, subject, "What 25 years have taught us."

Rev. Dr. J. W. Carter, subject, "the present state of the temperance question."

F. S. Blair, subject, "temperance teaching in public schools."

Rev. Mr. Pittinger, subject, "the church and temperance."

Josephus Daniels, Esq., subject, "the press and temperance reform." Other addresses may be expected.

Personal Mention.

Capt. R. W. Belo, of Winston, is in the city.

District attorney Cook is in the city.

Rev. W. S. Black, Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum arrived in the city yesterday afternoon.

Miss Octavia Winder has returned home from a trip to the eastern part of the State.

We regret to state that our friend Mr. Walter R. Womble continues quite sick at the old family residence on east Hargett street.

Col John C. Tipton, formerly editor of the Daily Capital if this city, is preparing to start a new paper at Shelby to be called the Review. It will be a weekly journal.

We are glad to have with us for a few days Mr. Robert Orr and family of the city of Brooklyn who are here for the purpose of visiting the exposition and have taken rooms at Mrs. H. V. Waitt's, corner of McDowell and Hargett streets. Mr. Orr formerly did business in this city, and if we mistake not, one or two of his children could be called little Tar Heels. Mr. and Mrs. Orr made many friends among our people while Mr. Orr was a merchant of the city several years ago. They still have a strong attachment for our beautiful little city and never fail to visit us when their duties will permit and are much gratified with the rapid progress we have made since they lived among us.

Is it possible we are to be compelled to go without a county index. We hear of no active preparations to have a new one. At present, it is almost impossible to trace records with any degree of accuracy.
