NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

A new safe for sale cheap. Apply at this office.

Applications for the direct tax are now few.

The Durham Band has gained much notoriety during the exposition.

The greatest performance of the season next Wednesday night. Look out for the "Sea Queen."

No decision yet in the merchants' purchase tax case. It is looked for with a great deal of interest.

Sheriff Page is anxiously waiting for you to come forward with your taxes.

The "Sea Queen" will be here next week. It will be a grand performance.

We regret that the Governors Guard have seen proper to abandon the trip to Wilmington next week.

On Tuesday next there will be a meeting of the Railroad Commission for the purpose of preparing their annual report.

The next Superior Court for Wake county will commence January 11th, 1892. It will be for the trial of criminal cases.

It is an awful bad place in muddy weather about the switch of the electric railway, near the arsenal on Morgan street. It ought to be fixed up at once.

There will be no cessation in the effort to establish a permanent museum in Raleigh to consist of many of the exhibits of the Inter-State Exposition. It is hoped that an eligible site may be obtained.

A benefit will be given to Prof. W. H. Ordway at Metropolitan Hall on the evening of Dec. 3d. Prof. Ordway lost his Galatea outfit by fire at the exposition grounds, Nov. 8th. We hope there will be a large attendance.

It is a great pleasure to state that the condition of the lads, John Briggs and Carl Stone, has much improved. The latter is claimed to be out of danger, while the former will no doubt recover, if no unforeseen troubles are developed.

J. Charles Richter, wholesale lumber dealer, 1826 Van Pelt street, Philadelphia, Pa., says: I can't speak too highly of Bradycetine as a headache cure. nov 25 8t

The Seaboard Air Line will sell round trip tickets, for the Christmas holidays, at the rate of four cents per mile one way. Tickets good from December 29th, 30th and 31st, extreme limit January 5th, inclusive. Continuous passage in each direction.

Our circulation is now rapidly on the increase. As an advertising medium the VISITOR is not excelled. Our patrons all say so, and they should know. If you want to build up a good trade between now and the Christmas holidays, send in your advertisements early.

A. L. Ferrell, secretary and registrar of Board of Health, requests all physicians of the city to please send in all reports not later than Monday evening, Nov. 30th. By so doing it will materially aid him in making his report for the month promptly.

We hear it rumored that after the close of the exposition the Hillsboro street line will run to the Agricultural and Mechanical College, with a branch line turning off at the site of Temple's store, running far up in Oberlin. This is a good idea, and we believe will be a paying investment.

The receipts of cotton continue good, with stationary prices. The receipts for the week are 936 bales against 1194 for the corresponding time last year. The total for the season to date is 18,977 bales against 28,084 for the same time last year. The shipments for the week were 889 bales.

A cold wave is predicted tonight. The temperature will fall several degrees.

The election of D. W. Bain, Esq., as secretary of the Methodist Conference, was for the ninth term.

Some people are predicting snow for tomorrow, but, this deponent sayeth not.

Rev. D. L. Schively will conduct services at Brooklyn M. E. Church tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The five meetings in Oxford, will be held in Centre warehouse of that town which is fixed up for several thousand persons.

Mr. Jasper McRary has received a letter announcing the serious illness of his mother at Lexington. He left this afternoon to attend her bedside.

The meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at the department of agriculture next Thursday will be an important one.

The verdict in the McDougald murder case, now in progress at Fayetteville, is watched for with much interest here.

There are now nearly 1,200 bales of cotton on the platform near the Raleigh and Gaston depot and it is a busy locality.

The industrial issue of the Rocky Mount Argonaut is being widely distributed. It is an interesting edition.

A considerable number of our citizens expect to visit Wilmington next week, the occasion being "Welcome Week."

Dr. H. M. Paynter will preach at the First Presbyterian chapel, corner McDowell and North streets, tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. A. L. Ferrell, of the health bureau, reports that the health of the city for November has been generally good.

Work on the Hargett street electric railway line is fast progressing. The route will soon be in operation, and we learn, will be considerably extended.

At 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon Evangelist D. L. Schively will conduct religious services at Royster's store, corner of Cabarrus and McDowell streets, opposite the gas house.

Barn burning is getting to be almost an every day occurrence in this section. The most recent case is that of Mr. L. L. Dowd, of Mark's Creek Township, who lost his barn by fire last Wednesday night. Mr. Dowd says his loss is quite heavy, and we learn there was no insurance.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the employees of the Inter-State Exposition, presented Gen. Clifton and Secretary Patrick with a handsome gift. The presentation was made by Capt. J. B. Hunter and responded to in a happy style.

That was a generous act in mine host Raney, of the Yarbore House, in not charging the northern newspaper men for board, but, it is just like him, when he takes a notion, and he is usually in that humor, when the right opportunity offers.

Now for a belt line around the city. It would vastly develop the property in the suburbs, and be a source of profit to the electric railway company. This has been the experience in all cities in which the scheme has been tried.

It was a beautiful umbrella that the ex-Congressman presented to Col. J. S. Carr at the exposition yesterday. Sergeant Hamilton made the presentation in a neat little speech, which was happily responded to by Col. Carr.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Southern Soap Manufacturing Company. The company is turning out a fine specimen of soap, equal to any of northern manufacture. It is a home institution and our people, all else being equal, should give it the preference. Read the list of presents.

Bulletin.

The issue of the bulletin of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture for November, has made its appearance. It is made up principally of the exhibits contributed by the Department to the exposition, and is very valuable for reference.

No Tidings.

We are informed that no tidings have so far been received of the whereabouts of the wife of Levi Perry the colored woman who mysteriously disappeared a few days since. It was at one time supposed that she had been drowned, as it was reported she was seen on Thanksgiving afternoon in the immediate vicinity of Crabtree creek. A careful search has been made, however, and the stream examined, with no success. The theory now is, that the unfortunate woman, being demented, has wandered off in the woods, or perhaps met her death from exposure. Her husband, Levi Perry, is a most worthy man, and has much sympathy in his misfortune. It is especially unfortunate for him, as he has numerous children, most of them young, and needing a mother's care.

Personal mention.

There is no material improvement in the condition of Mr. W. T. Mabry. Mr. M. B. Barbee is reported some better.

Col. Jno. Robinson, Commissioner of Agriculture is in attendance on the Methodist Conference.

Mr. W. K. Jacobson, editor of the Washington, N. C. Progress, is in the city.

Mr. R. Percy Gray, of Greensboro, is in the city.

We had the pleasure of meeting Col. John N. Staples, of Greensboro, in the city today.

Congressman Crawford, of the ninth district, is in the city.

Senator Culbreth, of Cumberland, is in the city, stopping at the residence of Mr. W. B. Hutchings.

Prof. Weatherly, formerly of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, but now of Chattanooga, Tenn., is in the city.

Gen. Bradley T. Johnson and wife are stopping at the Yarbore.

A Wood Market.

Passing along East Hargett street between Wilmington and Blount today, we noticed at least fifty cart loads of wood awaiting purchasers. The idea was suggested to us, and we think it a good one, for the city to establish what might be termed a wood market on some lot in the city. The present system is not a good one. In fact it may be termed a serious drawback to travel on the street, especially as the street car lines are to be extended in that direction. At times, the street is so blocked up with wood carts as to impede the passage of every other kind of vehicle. If a designated place was arranged for the purpose, our people would soon get used to it, and it would work better all around. We hope our City Fathers will take the suggestion into consideration. Its adoption would not only be the remedy of an evil, but will, we think, prove very popular.

Cash the Mighty Lever.

Mediocrity is satisfied to plod along the old beaten paths, having a real dollar so seldom in their hands that their children don't know a silver dollar from a tin box lid. When they are paid off they take their money right to the credit man and instead of working for your own home and little ones you are paying some high price merchant all your living for a little accommodation. You never think you pay more on credit than if you paid cash. Now for the love of all that is dear to you break off this accursed habit of running accounts. Try for one month to pay as you go. Spend your money at Swindell's and see what a grand difference it will make in your affairs. Swindell wants the cash trade and he sells very cheap for cash.

Yours truly,

D. T. SWINDELL.
