NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Very little cotton received today. Country people report all the streams very high.

The snow came on schedule time last night, but did not last long.

There are now over 200 convicts in the penitentiary.

Out-door work is an up hill business today.

Snow and sleet prevail in Greensboro.

The Abernethy—Grimsley trial will take place this week in Greene county Superior Court.

The department of Agriculture has about 800 printed tax fertilizer tags on hand.

The Baldwin Melville Company at Metropolitan Hall tomorrow night. Popular prices will prevail.

The city clock still strikes wrong. Have it fixed, or what would be better, get a new one.

J. W. Markham, dealer in general merchandise, at Durham, has made an assignment.

If you consult your own interest, read Mrs. H. V. Wait's advertisement, in another column.

The street cars are now running a pretty regular schedule. It is hoped, that the temporary repairs will hold out until the new engines arrive.

Hon. W. A. B. Branch lost his only child, Lawrence O'Bryan, in Washington, N. C., on Monday, of Pneumonia.

Owing to the prevalence of the grippe, the stockholders' meeting of Peace Institute, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed until further notice.

Our friend, Prof. Von Hermann is receiving compliments on all sides for the correctness of his weather predictions. The Professor usually "hits the nail on the head."

If the weather will permit, the Railroad Commissioners will commence their trip to the north western part of the State, the latter part of this week.

Better public roads and how to get them will be an absorbing question among our people at an early day. State legislation on the matter is much needed.

Col. J. S. Carr, of Durham, has proposed that if the members of Trinity church, in that city will raise $25,000, he will give a like amount for the erection of a new building.

Attorney General Davidson is in Washington looking up authorities in the law library in the cases of Balsler against Heck, one of the special tax bond matters.

The funeral of Mr. T. M. Justice, who died yesterday, at the Soldier's Home, took place this morning at 11 o'clock. The burial arrangements were under control of the Junius Daniel camp of Confederate veterans.

Would it not be well for our city authorities to have a coat of gravel put on the walks in Moore square? There is a great deal of passing through it and its condition in wet weather is just awful.

Mr. Chas. Williams, who for some time past, has held a position in the Chronicle office as book keeper and stenographer, has accepted the place of private stenographer to Mr. R. R. Bridgers, Superintendent of the Western North Carolina Railroad. Mr. Williams is a young gentleman of first class business qualifications and very popular with our people. While we much regret to lose him from Raleigh, we congratulate him and Mr. Bridgers also, on the appointment. Charlie will "fill the bill" beyond doubt. Success to him.

The prediction is that tomorrow will be very cold.

"Son of Monte Cristo" tomorrow night at Metropolitan Hall.

Mr. A. J. Douglass, a prominent tobacco dealer of Tarboro, was accidentally drowned yesterday.

Trade in all branches is rather dull just now, owing to the bad spell of weather. In the meantime some of our merchants are engaged in taking stock, and arranging for the spring trade.

The stockholders of the Raleigh Water Company have re-elected the old board of directors. They are as follows: W. R. Tucker, W. G. Upchurch, Julius Lewis, A. E. Boardman and F. M. Colston.

Prof. E. A. Alderman, of Greensboro, is delivering a lecture on "Life in Colonial Carolina." We hope he may be induced to deliver it in Raleigh. It is said to contain much interesting information.

Mayor's Court.

The case of the colored man 'Britt,' for stealing a watch from Mr. Hartfield on Martin street, came before the Mayor this morning. Britt was sent to jail in default of bail to appear at the next criminal term of the court.

Reception.

A brilliant reception took place last night, given to Mr. Junius B. Timberlake and his bride, nee Miss Agnes Cotton, at the residence of Capt. J. B. Timberlake. It was a delightful occasion.

'Starlight'

At Metropolitan Hall last night, Miss Jarbeau and her company of splendid comedians made a decided hit, to a large and delighted audience. It is a splendid troupe and we commend it to the lovers of the drama wherever it appears.

A Slight Mistake.

The Sun Almanac for 1892, has a very great error. Among the names of the distinguished dead of 1891, appears the name of Thomas M. Holt, Ex Governor of North Carolina, who died on the 23d of November. Our Governor is just the liveliest man in the country in all respects. Nothing dead about him in any shape, manner or form.

Postage Stamps.

We notice that Capt. S. B. Alexander, of the 6th district, has introduced in Congress a bill to make postage stamps redeemable by the Government. Mr. Alexander says that the law would prove of immense service to the people living in rural districts and especially to newspaper publishers. We think the bill is a good one and hope it will pass.

Synopsis of the Weather at 8 P. M. Yesterday.

The storm is passing rapidly off the Atlantic coast with snow in Virginia and North Carolina. The clearing condition occupies the entire Mississippi valley, with temperatures below freezing.

In the vicinity of Raleigh, after snowing a little in the forenoon, the weather will clear, becoming decidedly colder tomorrow morning. Thursday clear and cold.

"Baldwin—Melville Company."

Thursday, Jan. 21st, the above company will open a three nights engagement at Metropolitan Hall in a repertoire of successful plays with a change of play at each performance, opening Thursday night in the sequel to Monte Cristo, named "The Son of Monte Cristo." a Melo Drama, said to be the equal of Monte Cristo. Mr. Baldwin played one of his companies here last season and left a splendid reputation behind them, and no doubt this company will do an excellent business as it is said to be a much stronger one than appeared here last season.

Railroad Tax.

The matter of taxes claimed by Wake county against the R. & G. Railroad, was up again for argument during yesterday, before E. W. Poul, Esq., the referee. The main question at issue was whether the road was liable for tax on $140,000 in cash, which it had deposited in a Baltimore bank subject to five day's draft at 2 per cent a year interest. The county claims to tax the cotton platform, because cotton is allowed to remain there some time before shipment, etc. The county also claims that one third of the machine shops must be taxed for certain reasons. The county also claims to tax $40,000 of rolling stock which the company had leased to the R. & A. Railroad. The referee will make his report to the next term of the court, and an appeal will then be taken.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Arthur Johnson is still confined to his bed with grip.

Mr. T. O. Fancett is confined by sickness at his home 311 north Dawson street.

Mr. Robert I. Williams is improving.

Rev. John S. Watkins has recovered from an attack of grippe.

Mr. W. C. Stronach is sick with the grippe.

Mr. E. B. Barbee has returned from a trip to Richmond, Va.

Miss Mildred Badger is visiting her cousin Miss Lizzie Dortch of Goldsboro.

Miss Mand Marshall is visiting Miss Louie Miller of Goldsboro.

A Call.

Rev. J. L. White, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church, in this city, has been tendered a call from the First Baptist Church of Asheville, in place of Rev. W. A. Nelson, who resigned on account of failing health.

PLEASURES OF MEMORY.

What a blessed thing is memory! How it brings up the pleasures of the past, and hides its unpleasantnesses! You recall your childhood days, do you not, and wish they would return? You remember the pleasant associations, while the unpleasant ones are forgotten. Perhaps to your mind comes the face of some friend. It was once a pale, sad face. It showed marks of pain, lines of care. It seemed to be looking into the hereafter, the unknown future. And then you recalled how it brightened, how it recovered its rosy hue, how it became a picture of happiness and joy. Do you remember these things? Many people do, and gladly tell how the health returned, how happiness came back, how the world seemed bright. They tell how they were once weak, nevertheless, perhaps in pain, certainly unhappy. They tell of sleepless nights, restless days, untouched food, unstrung nerves. And then they tell how they became happy, healthy and strong once more. You have heard it often in the past, have you not? You have heard people describe how they were cured and kept in health? You certainly can remember what it is that has so helped people in America. If not, listen to what Mrs. Annie Jenness Miller, who is known universally as the great dress reformer, says: "Six years ago, when suffering from mental care and overwork, I received the most pronounced benefit from the use of that great medicine, Warner's Safe Cure." Ah, now you remember. Now you recall how many people you have heard say this same thing. Now you recollect how much you have heard of this great cure. Now you are ready to admit that memory is usually pleasing, that the highest pleasure comes from perfect health, and that this great remedy has done more to produce and prolong health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history of the whole world.
