THE CHILIAN WAR CLOUD.

Considerable excitement was caused in Washington on Saturday by the announcement that the United States government had sent its ultimatum to the government of Chili, and this was greatly augmented by the report that a warlike spirit pervaded Chili.

It is stated that the British Minister to Chili has been instructed by his government to offer his services as a mediator to prevent war between Chili and the United States. The Post, of Sunday, publishes a number of interviews with Congressmen and others in which many of them deprecate the importance given to this Chilian matter, and express the opinion that there is not only no need for war, but that there will be none. Others, of course, are for chastising the insolent little mulatto colony. While still others regard the offense as grave and intolerable, yet they think as neither government can have anything to gain by a war except to vindicate its dignity and honor; that common sense will ultimately prevail and the difficulty will finally be settled honorably to our government.

This morning's news does not change the appearance of things materially. It will take time of course to hear from the Chilian government, and while waiting many rumors and so-called reports will come and go. It is to be hoped that such magnanimity as will best comport with the highest type of civilized government, in full appreciation of the disparity of the two nations, not only in size but in advancements.

WILL MAKE NO MORE HALVES.

The coming of the new design half dollars has been suspended indefinitely at the Philadelphia mint by orders from the Treasury Department. The suspension was due, Colonel Bosbyshell, the superintendent, said, to the fact that the Treasury now has a supply of half dollars on hand sufficient to supply the demand for coins of this value. "The demand is for quarters and dimes," said he "and we shall go on coining them as rapidly as we have been since the new year opened. There is nothing the matter with the design; the coins are all right."

"A CHARITY BALL."

The ladies (?) relief corps, of Ottawa, Ill., propose to play a game of base ball, the proceeds of which is to go to swell their fund for the relief of the destitute of that city. There is nothing slow about them, even in their charity.

NOT STIMULATING TO THE LIVER.

Philadelphia Record.

A lady stopped another in a crowded store on Saturday to dilate on her wretched health. "The doctor told me I must go out every day and take exercise and air. I went to three funerals last week; the people were dead strangers to me, but the cemeteries were out of town, and I thought the ride might stimulate my liver. But I don't know as I am a bit improved."

PLEASURES OF MEMORY.

What a blessed thing is memory! How it brings up the pleasures of the past, and hides its unpleasantness! You recall your childhood days, do you not, and wish they would return? You remember the pleasant associations, while the unpleasant ones are forgotten. Perhaps to your mind comes the face of some friend. It was once a pale, sad face. It showed marks of pain, lines of care. It seemed to be looking into the hereafter, the unknown future. And then you recalled how it brightened how it recovered its rosy hue, how it became a picture of happiness and joy. Do you remember these things? Many people do, and gladly tell how the health returned, how happiness came back, how the world seemed bright. They tell how they were once weak, nevertheless, perhaps in pain, certainly unhappy. They tell of sleepless nights, restless days, untouched food, unstrung nerves. And then they tell how they became happy, healthy and strong once more. You have heard it often in the past, have you not? You have heard people describe how they were cured and kept in health? You certainly can remember what it is that has so helped people in America. If not, listen to what Mrs. Annie Jenness Miller, who is known universally as the great dress reformer, says: "Six years ago, when suffering from mental care and overwork, I received the most pronounced benefit from the use of that great medicine, Warner's Safe Cure." Ah, now you remember. Now you recall how many people you have heard say this same thing. Now you recollect how much you have heard of this great cure. Now you are ready to admit that memory is usually pleasing, that the highest pleasure comes from perfect health, and that this great remedy has done more to produce and prolong health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history of the whole world. AN OLD GENTLEMAN'S MISTAKE

New York Times.

A fine looking old gentleman walked down the aisle of the Star Theater one evening. There was nothing in his appearance to indicate that his had been a pastoral existence. In fact, he looked very much otherwise, and might have been set down for a well-to-do retired business man. The usher led him to the row in the orchestra in which his seat was. "Third seat room the other end," said the usher, handing the old gentleman his check. The seat was turned back, as theater seats always are when not in use. The old gentleman crawled under the feet of the people sitting between him and his seat. Then he sat down, not on his seat, but on its upturned edge. He did not look comfortable on his narrow perch. He was a large man, and, sitting as he was, he loomed up a full foot above those around him. People began to snicker. They thought it was funny. Just then the curtain went up. A young woman was sitting right behind the fine looking old gentleman. She might as well have sat behind a board fence, so far as seeing the play went. She was equal to the emergency, however. Leaning forward she touched the old gentleman on the shoulder. "Excuse me," she said, sweetly, "would you please rise for a moment." The old gentleman did so with a gracious smile. The lady reached over and shoved his seat down into its proper position. "Thank you," she faintly murmured. The old gentleman said nothing, but the tittering around him brought the blood to his face. He seemed to wish the floor would open and bury him from sight. It did not, so he sat down and attempted to lose himself in a study of his programme.

Fire! FIRE! Fire!

Are you insured?
Is the evidence of your insurance insured?
A good Fire Proof Safe for their protection is the only insurance for them. Have you a good Safe?
When placing your insurance did you obtain bids from several companies and select the lowest priced company?
Or did you consider and decide that the best company would prove the cheapest should a loss occur?
Why not follow out the same line of reasoning in the selection of a good Safe in which to insure your insurance policies, books and valuable papers from destruction by fire or from theft by burglars?
When about to employ a lawyer for a case of importance, do you get bids from several and accept the lowest?
Or do you employ a capable man who has had experience and a good record?

Safe, Safe, Safe.

We know how to build Vaults and Safes. We know the requirements of most customers. Our work is the cheapest because it is the best. Our work is NOT the lowest in price. We have had experience.

We have a first-class record extending back nearly half a century. When you wish to consider the insurance of your books and papers from destruction by fire or loss by burglars, consult or write the
