NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Another cold wave struck us last night. It don't look so much like war today, still it's Chilli.

There was a large number of country people in the city yesterday.

The market was well supplied today with poultry.

Everything quiet in the mayor's court today.

The street car force seems to be pushing things. They will soon have the Hargett street line completed.

The relief committee will be glad to receive some funds to help supply the demands upon them for wood.

The thermometer at Williams & Haywood's drug store, registered 23 degrees this morning at 7 o'clock.

Now they say it will be about March 1st before the new engines for the electric power house will arrive.

Rev. J. B. Hurley, the pastor of Central M. E. Church, is rapidly gaining in favor with his congregation.

Efforts are being made to get the woman that was so badly burned, in the hospital, which is hoped will be done.

Mr. Eugene Mitchiner, son of Geo. Mitchiner, Esq., and Miss Evie Tomlinson, both of this county, were married this afternoon.

Over a thousand post offices out of the twelve hundred that make their report of funds to the Raleigh office have already done so.

A. J. Davis & Co., merchants at Parnell, this county, made an assignment to L. Woodlief assets and liabilities both small.

The alarm of fire last night was only a small affair. The top of a colored man's house on East Cabarrus street, caught and was soon extinguished.

The work of raising the street railway rails on Blount street is being done so that the street may be properly raised in the center.

The trolley wires have been put up on West Hargett street and now it looks as though we shall soon have a cross line of the street cars connecting at Hargett and Fayetteville streets.

Grant Bridgers, a colored man, while cutting some feed for the stock at Mr. F. L. Stephenson's, this county, had his hand so badly lacerated that amputation may be necessary.

Tonight after the regular prayer meeting services at Edenton Street Methodist Church there will be held an important meeting of the ladies of that congregation, at which a matter of interest is to be considered. All the ladies of the church and congregation are requested to attend.

Col. Thomas H. Sutton formerly of Fayetteville but now of Winston, N. C., will represent the stockholders of the broken People's National Band of Fayetteville this week in the prosecution of E. F. Moore, the ex-President, on the grave charge of obtaining money under false pretense.

"Si Plunkard" (a Yankee comedy,) which appears Friday night, is said to be a very amusing performance being a genuine comedy. There is just enough plot to lend interest and tell a pretty story. The comedy is of a refined nature, and does not depend on the use of brick bats, stuffed clubs and stale minstrel jokes to amuse Mr. J. C. Lewis, who assumes the title role, has a very peculiar droll dialect, and should make a good Si. Many pleasing specialties are introduced. Realism is seen in the shape of a real threshing machine, in full operation on the stage. The band and orchestra that is carried by Mr. Lewis, is considered the finest with any traveling company.

Perhaps the reported scarcity of water in Chicago may have influenced the Democratic National Committee in making its decision. Political conventions have very little use for water.

It is reported that a young gentleman from Chapel Hill was married yesterday to one of Wake's fair daughters from Buckhorn township. The marriage was a postponement from Saturday.

Two sheriffs settled with the State Treasurer yesterday. Sheriff J. W. Suggs, of Stanly, paid in $4,595.77, and Sheriff W. B. Love, of Craven, $9,788.49.

A good opportunity to buy a first rate delivery wagon will be offered by Yancey & Stronach on Saturday at their auction rooms. Also horses, mules and other property. See their notice in another column.

It was a crusty old bachelor who said that the 500,000 who signed the peace petition sent to Congress did so because of their fear that the killing of a few thousand men might reduce their chances of getting one. There are women, not a thousand miles from this office who would gladly sign a petition for war, if they could thereby get rid of the man they have been unfortunate enough to get possession of.

Married.

Last night at 9 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mr. D. Shelley Swain to Miss Addie C. Rayle, both of this city. Rev. J. B. Hurley officiating, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Hall. The Visitor congratulates the happy couple and wishes the white blossoms of peace and happiness may taw their pathway to its end.

Leap Year Meaning.

The letters in the words, 'Leap Year,' stand for these expressions:

Ladies	Youths
Engaged	Eager
At	After
Pleasure.	Rations.

Synopsis of the Weather at 8 P. M., Yesterday.

The high pressure area and cold wave has advanced rapidly down from the north and has spread over the entire Atlantic coast, the weather remains cloudless nearly everywhere. The winds are from the north except in Texas where they have shifted to southerly.

In the vicinity of Raleigh, the weather will continue fair, decidedly colder today, becoming slowly warmer tomorrow.

Vick's Floral Guide, 1892.

True and tried friends are always welcome, consequently "Vick's Floral Guide" is sure of a warm reception, especially when dressed as daintily as this year. The "Nellie Lewis" Caronation on the front of cover, and "Brilliant Poppies" on the back, are unusually attractive, and the numerous colored plates of flowers and vegetables are certainly works of art and merit. The first twenty four pages, printed in violet ink, describe novelties and specialties. Send ten cents to James Vick's Sons, Rochester, N. Y., and procure a copy of this attractive and useful catalogue. It costs nothing, as the ten cents can be deducted from the first order.

Swindell Will Move to Baltimore in April.

Eighty thousand dollars worth of stock to dispose of inside of 60 days. All this immense stock is being sold at wholesale cost and you can profit by this sale. The crowds that swarm our store daily will soon absorb the stock. People who came yesterday to look came back today for the goods they saw yesterday and in many instances found them gone. Come prepared. D. T. SWINDELL.

Less Risk to Write.

Detroit Free Press.

"So you are going to write to the girl's father to ask him for her, are you?"

"Yep."

"Why don't you go and see him in person?"

"The mail is better, I guess."

"I think not."

"But I do."

"Come off. Why is it?"

"Oh, well, the old gent won't choke the letter or hit it in the neck or kick it down stairs, or anything like that, don't you know?"

Fresh lot coconuts just received. A. DUGHY.

BILL NYE LIVES.

"Bill Nye's" profits from his writings and lectures are said to have been as high as $25,000 to $30,000 per annum. He is only in his fortieth year, has a wife and four children, lives on Staten Island, and has also a charming place at Asheville.

Would make a Good Wife.

"I was thinking, sir," he said, as he hesitated at the door of the old gentleman's private office, "that perhaps I'd like to marry your daughter."

"A noble girl," said the old gentleman, reflectively. "I don't know how I can spare her, but I suppose I'll have to some time."

"Yes, sir, quite right, sir, and I'd like to have her, except—except—you know I'm not rich, sir."

"I know it," replied the old gentleman, "but you are drawing a fair salary, and I don't require wealth."

"I'm glad of that, sir, but I was sort of thinking that—that she isn't experienced in household matters."

"She isn't," said the old gentleman, "but she's a wonderfully observing girl."

"Yes, sir, and I think a great deal of her, but if I take her to a home of her own I'm afraid, sir—I'm afraid it would be hard, very hard. She was educated for a rich man's wife and wouldn't know—"

"You're partly right," interrupted the old gentleman. "But let me tell you something about that girl. She went to my closet a couple of days ago to get something that was there, and there was a pair of trousers hanging near the door."

"Yes; what of it?"

"One of the suspender buttons was gone."

"And she—she—". The young man was agitated he could not finish the sentence.

"She noticed it," said the old gentleman.

"Noticed it herself?"

"No one had said a word to her about it."

"But she—she didn't—"

"Yes, she did. She sewed that button on."

"Please, sir, say; yes," pleaded the young man, "and—and if she'll have me let us name a day in the near future. And grant me one other favor."

"What is it?"

"Don't, please don't let any other young man know about that button until after the wedding. I don't want to take any chances."
