CITY IN BRIEF.

The new street cars are beautiful. The pupils of the graded schools took holiday today. The health of our city for this season is equally as good as the average. After this cool snap, gardening in earnest, will be in order. The capitol square is being nicely fixed up.

Appeals from the 4th district are being heard in the Supreme Court today. There is still an anxious enquiry concerning the running of the street cars on Hargett street.

There will be an electric light plant in full blast at the Insane Asylum in a short time. We hear that many improvements will be put in Brookside Park, by the time the summer opens.

We are glad to note that the outlook for a large crowd at Morehead this summer, continues to improve. The Seaboard Air Line has entered the corporate limits of Atlanta. Now for the through line.

"Farm and Factory" is the name of a new paper just started at Statesville with C. W. Hyams, as editor. Remember that little Mabel Paige is with Harry Lindley's Company. To use a current phrase, "she is a daisy."

The National and State flags were displayed on the capitol and other public buildings to day in honor of Washington's birthday. The mayor had an unusual slim docket today for Monday. Only a case or so of over indulgence on yesterday.

Greenstboro is to have street cars at last, and efforts are being made to establish a telephone exchange. The "Flower City" is booming up. We regret to hear of the loss by fire of the mill and cotton gin of our friend Dr. L. P. Sorrell, near Flint which occurred last Friday night.

The county commissioners have ordered the sheriff to publish the delinquent tax list after the last of February. Call and settle and avoid extra costs. The ladies aid society of Central M. E. church will meet tomorrow, Tuesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock at the church. All the ladies of the church are urged to be present.

We call attention to the advertisement in this issue, of Wayne Allcott, agent of the Covenant Building and Loan Association of Knoxville, Tennessee, which is one of the most progressive and popular companies in America.

We are pleased to see in the city, Ex-Manager Brown formerly of the Western Union Telegraph Office, in this city, now of Washington, D. C., who is on a visit to friends. He is looking remarkably well.

The concert of the University Glee Club at Metropolitan Hall was well attended last Saturday night. The programme was excellent and most admirably rendered.

The question of a new station house is one that will not down. It is imperatively demanded by the people and the Board of Aldermen should lose no time in having another one suitable to the wants of the times.

At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen held last Saturday afternoon the matter of purchasing a steam street roller, as recommended by the committee, was thoroughly discussed, but no final action was taken. It was postponed until the next monthly meeting of the board.

Messrs. S. & D. Berwanger announce today that the final stock has been taken and they have determined to give their customers the benefit of the goods left over. This is one of the rarest and best chances to obtain bargains that has ever been presented in Raleigh. Call and make your selections.

We have heard a desire expressed that the Leazor and Pullen Societies of the Agricultural and Mechanical College may soon have another entertainment in the way of discussion. Although there was a considerable crowd in attendance at the late speaking, the inclement night prevented the attendance of many who otherwise would like to have been present.

By common consent this is the birthday of George Washington, known in history as the "Father of his Country." In the family records, however, it says, "George Washington was born on the 11th of February, (O. S.) 1732. From some cause or other, of which we are not definitely informed, the date is placed February 22nd, and such is, it seems universally acknowledged. At any rate he was born and by his valor and self-sacrificing devotion secured to us the great boon of liberty and independence. Above all he declined a third term for the presidency, thereby establishing such a precedent that even Gen. Grant, with all his laurels was unable to overthrow. Peace to his ashes. He will live in the memory of mankind forever.

Died.

On yesterday, February 21st, at the residence of his father, in Mark's Creek township, Wake county, Mr. Buddie House, about 23 years of age, of consumption. He was the son of T. W. House and was a most worthy young man.

Dixon and Ingersoll

Rev. A. C. Dixon, a North Carolinian and a brother of Rev. Thomas Dixon has gotten into a difficulty with Col. Robert Ingersoll. An exchange says:

"In a sermon recently Mr. Dixon, in speaking of the sending of obscene literature through the mails, alluded to one case in which a man was arrested for the offense and that Col. Ingersoll appeared as counsel for the defendant, and added that Col. Ingersoll was paid to pollute the minds of the young. Col. Ingersoll wrote him a private letter in which he demanded a public retraction of the words used and if this was not done he would begin an action against Mr. Dixon for criminal libel.

Mr. Dixon does not seem inclined to retract and there will be a suit for libel, we presume.

An Auditorium.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Charlotte News says:

Just one year ago this month, work on Charlotte's big auditorium was commenced. Since this building was finished, the wonder has been that Charlotte was able to do without it for so long a time. It was dedicated by the great music festival. Following that were the five meetings, the armory bazaar, the Sam Jones meetings and the political meetings. It proved more than equal to every occasion. It is just the thing for the State convention, no doubt about that.

We publish this merely to show that our Charlotte friends fully realize the importance of an improvement, for which Raleigh is still suffering. It must be conceded by every observant person, that if an auditorium proves a convenience in Charlotte, it certainly would be in Raleigh, the capital of the State, where there is always some large assemblage. We hope the experience of Charlotte may soon be felt in Raleigh. There is no time to lose.

Personal Mention.

We regret to state that Capt. S. A. Ashe is quite sick.

The health of Justice J. J. Davis, of the Supreme Court, is improving. We regret to learn that Mr. S. L. Arendell continues very ill.

Robin Seawell, the old colored man injured by the falling of a house on Bledsoe's plantation last Friday night, is improving.

Accident.

Yesterday (Sunday) morning about 11:25 o'clock, when near the residence of Col. A. B. Andrews, on Blount street, the motor apparatus of one of the street cars became detached and fell heavily to the ground causing a sudden stoppage. The shock was so great as to throw the motorman, Mr. Chas. Wrenn, against the car railing bruising him considerably. Mr. Reavis, the conductor, was not hurt. The accident was not caused in any manner from the power machinery, or in any way connected with it. There were no passengers on board at the time.

Harry Lindley's Company.

Tonight the famous Harry Lindley Company will occupy the boards at Opera House. The beautiful patriotic drama "Sentenced to Death" will be presented for the first time in this city. Little Mabel Paige, the petite carnevita will appear in her latest success by Julia Holmes, entitled "Jack's Little Sister, Kate," for which she has received the author's eulogium. The five act play will terminate with a roaring farce entitled "Is Marriage a Failure?" Popular prices 15, 25 and 30 cents.

Singular Accident

The Ashboro Courier gives an account of a singular accident to Mr. R. M. Burke, a prominent farmer of Chatham county, which occurred a few days since at a government distillery. In company with several other gentlemen, Mr. Burke was looking through the distillery when he became sick, his head swimming from the bad odor of bad whiskey, fell over into a slop tub and when taken out he was dead, the only dry place about him being the back of his head. Mr. Burke was a consistent christian and never tasted a drop of whiskey. He leaves an excellent wife and a family of fourteen children, seven boys and seven girls. Mr. Burke was in his 78th year.

Old Bonds.

When it is considered, that the old bonds of the State, the funding of which are provided for under the "act to compromise and settle the State debt," do not carry interest, it would seem to be an act of folly that the holders do not come forward and have them exchanged. The hope that any better terms will be given is a fallacious one, and as the terms of the act expire in July next, there is no assurance that they will be extended. There are still a quarter of a million of dollars of these bonds out. Their surrender would be not only a source of benefit to the owners, but of much convenience to the chief financial officer of the State in properly estimating the bonded indebtedness of the State. We have earnestly called attention to this matter on several occasions, because we believe it to be one of much interest to all concerned.
