MOON'S PHASES FOR FEBRUARY.

First quarter, 5th—4:35 A. M.
Full moon, 12th—2:24 P. M.
Last quarter, 20th—7:00 P. M.
New moon, 27th—10:33 P. M.

CITY IN BRIEF.

It missed a good chance to snow last night and this morning.

Divorce at Metropolitan Hall to night. Let all go and see it played.

See notice of sale by Andrew Syme, administrator of W. E. Anderson.

There are now 132 telephones in use in Raleigh.

Travel over the street railway is increasing considerably.

Chicken thieves are getting in their work in some parts of the city. Look out for them.

The fish, game and oyster fair at New Bern, will be written up by Col. John D. Cameron.

See the interesting dialogue between Julia and Mary as they swap confessions.

The end of February is much unlike the commencement so far as weather is concerned.

Paint is being freely used on several residences in different parts of the city, preparatory to the opening of spring.

Don't forget the readings and recitations of Prof. Warman at Peace Institute tonight. It will be a rare intellectual treat.

The Harry Lindley Company will close its engagement here tomorrow night. All lovers of first class amusements should see it. It is a splendid company.

It is singular, that no tidings of any sort have ever been received concerning the colored woman, named Perry, who so mysteriously disappeared some time since.

The beautiful society play of Divorce will be rendered by the Harry Lindley company tonight. It is a most beautiful play, and the ladies should turn out in force.

Jordan Chambers, a very worthy colored man, who some years ago was an employee in the state house here, died a few days since at his home in Statesville. He was well known in Raleigh.

The "Ever Bearing Mulberry" is a new article of food for stock which is gaining some reputation in Johnston and other counties. Several farmers have tried it with most complete success.

We are requested to say the ladies of the Tabernacle Church are getting up a contribution for the Thomasville Orphan Asylum. Persons who have clothing or other valuable donations will send the same to Mrs. Dr. J. J. Hall, corner of Person and Martin streets, this week.

Tomorrow afternoon Harry Lindley's fine company will hold a Matinee at Metropolitan Hall at 3:30 o'clock rendering the beautiful and popular play of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," by special request. Little Mabel Paige will sustain the title role in which she is famous. We sincerely hope there will be a very large turnout. Let parents bring their children to see it. It will be a rich treat for them. The schools should be on hand. Children 10 cents, adults 15 and 25 cents.

We have quite a nice lot of building lots all over the city. Six on Harrington and Lane streets ranging in prices from $275 to $400; size of lots 52x157. These are beautiful lots and are very cheap. We have other lots on all of the leading streets in the city, and would be glad to show and price them to anyone desiring to purchase, and if it is so you can't come to our office drop us a postal card and we will call to see you. Put your money in Raleigh dirt and you will not regret it.
J. M. BROUGHTON & Co.

Miss Ella Riddle has returned from a trip to Durham.

See notice of sale of land by J. H. Holloway, Commissioner.

The Wilson Advance has recently gotten out a twelve page edition, of 5,000 copies.

About two thirds of the sheriffs of the State have settled their taxes, either in whole or part.

Lookout for your premises; the sanitary officers will be after you if they are not kept in good order.

Gen. W. R. Cox says he intends to go largely into the raising of peanuts this year, and will reduce his crop of cotton accordingly.

Death of Hon. B. S. Gaither.

The many friends of this well-known gentleman will regret to learn of his death, which took place at his home, in Morganton early yesterday morning, aged 85. He was well known by the elder citizens of Raleigh, having been, at one time President of the State Senate. He was also a member of the Confederate Congress.

Lecture

S. M. Finger, Esq., State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will deliver an address at the Agricultural and Mechanical College tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. It will be one of a series of lectures to be delivered monthly by members of the faculty and others. They are intended mainly for the students, but the public will be welcomed. They will doubtless be very interesting.

I. O. O. F.

Regular meeting of Seaton Gales Lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. F. this evening at 7:30 o'clock, sharp. The initiatory degree will be conferred and other business will come before the lodge, which requires the presence of every member. Members of Manteo lodge and visiting brethren are cordially invited. Candidates will present themselves for initiation promptly at 7:45 o'clock.
THEM, Sec'y.

A True Bill.

The Wilmington Messenger says: The most absurd thing an editor can attempt is to try to please everybody. Everybody thinks himself fully equipped for journalism, and hence the frequent and lamentable failures of everybody. There are some people who cannot write English who would not hesitate to take charge of the London Times, as there are some scribblers of verse, who do not know a rule in prosody who would be glad to succeed Tennyson as poet laureate. Let an editor be loyal to God and his own enlightened conscience and do the best he can each day. The grumblers can keep on grumbling.

A Fine Exhibition.

"Ben Hur" is a most remarkable book. It is so, in more ways than one, because it is of peculiar interest in establishing the truths of Holy Writ if, indeed, such proofs were needed. It has probably had as extended a circulation as any book extant, having been published in almost every known modern language. A representation of its characters will, therefore, be of great interest and the presentation of them at Metropolitan Hall, next Monday evening, will doubtless attract a large audience. Wherever this presentation has been made the public have been delighted. Seats are now on sale at the book store of Messrs Alfred Williams & Co. Reserved seats 75 cents; general admission 50 cents; gallery 35 cents.

Spring Styles, Dunlaps Hats.

Saturday, February 27th, we will display the new styles, Dunlap's Hats, for spring 1892.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co.

Found.

A gold thimble. Initial and date on it. Call on Wyatt & Co.

Doll Reception.

The "Faithful Circle" of Kings Daughters will hold a doll reception tomorrow, Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Hanff on Saunders street, beginning at 4 o'clock. A handsome doll will be given as a prize to the little miss bringing the prettiest doll. While for the ugliest doll there will be something nice too. Refreshments will be served to the little folks and a good time will be given to all. Admission free.

A Merited Compliment.

Last night a most pleasant occurrence took place at the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of a large congregation. After the close of the services Mr. W. S. Primrose, on behalf of the ladies of the church, presented to Rev. Dr. John S. Watkins, their retiring pastor an elegant rosewood case with one dozen silver tea and table spoons, forks, &c. The following is the card of presentation.

This testimonial is presented by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church of Raleigh, N. C., to the Rev. John S. Watkins, D. D., as a token of the affectionate regard in which he is held by the members of this church and congregation.

A. HARRIS,

205 Fayetteville street.

Found.

A small red pocket book with one pocket only. The owner can get the same by applying to Mr. H. F. Fuller, No. 220 West Cabarrus street. The finder had a dream before finding it which has come to pass in part, and now he offers a present to the owner who will prove property. He does this to see what about the dream. The book was found near Mr. A. M. McPheeters' gate.

For the Love of the Almighty Dollar, Why Don't You Get a Move on You.

Don't you know, or can't you swallow and digest the fact that time is flying; that in a short time Swindell's closing out sale will be a thing of the past. Now you can buy any kind of dress goods at cost, and inside of thirty days you must pay the full price for the same goods. While thirty days is the time set for Swindell's move, yet the thing is liable to come to a sudden close at any time. Then you will likely say, "I wish I had acted wisely and bought when the goods were cheap." Swindell has a big stock of dress goods, and clothing, and carpets, and hats, and shoes and you are charged no profit on the goods. Is it wisdom to buy now or is it wisdom to wait. This writer had a little experience in the folly of procrastination yesterday. While admiring a big wild turkey at Eberhardt & Pescud's and gloating over the big dinner I should have of the turkey, a gentleman came up and said, "Pescud, what's the turkey worth?" "$2.50," said Pescud. "I'll take him," said he. You ask how I felt? I felt turkeyless left.

Yours truly,
D. T. SWINDELL.
