Cloudy, threatening weather, with rain and snow continues east of the Mississippi river.

RALEIGH AND VICINITY.

CITY IN BRIEF.

See notice of sale by W. C. Stronach, mortgagee.

The days and nights will soon be equal.

The early gardeners are having a real set back just now.

A Literary Society is the latest organization in Durham.

The members of the Charlotte naval battalion are drilling daily in anticipation of their visit to Norfolk.

The whereabouts of Mr. John T. Davis who is wanted in Richmond Va. for forgery, &c., are still unknown.

The regular inspection of the naval battalion at Charlotte last Monday showed seventy men in line.

Candidates are springing up in all directions. The heat of political battle will soon be here.

The Durham Sun says that the merchants of that place are purchasing larger stocks of goods this season than usual and they are coming in by every train.

The visit of Gov. Hill to Charlotte on the 20th, of May, will be a big bonanza for that city. Extensive arrangements will be made to accommodate the vast crowd that is expected.

Let our generous hearted people remember that St. John's Hospital is much in need of aid for several important purposes. It is a most noble charity and should by all means be fostered to the fullest extent possible.

We hear it intimated that the force of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad shors, in this city, is likely to be resumed at an early day. We sincerely hope that it may so turn out.

The VISITOR is requested to state that the children's meeting of St. Agnes' Guild will be held Friday the 13th inst at 4 o'clock in the chapel of Christ Church. All the older members are requested to be present.

The new members of the Governors Guard are having their uniforms prepared. We hope the membership will continue to increase until the company becomes one of the largest in the South.

A large number of statistical blanks are being sent out on which the list takers are expected to make out returns as to crops, cattle, &c. We hope that the returns may be as full as possible, as it is a matter of much importance.

The public roads of Wake county, and especially those of Raleigh township, are better now than ever at this season of the year. This is highly commendable both to the County Commissioners and to the Supervisor. It is, of course, much to the advantage of Raleigh, and its good effects in trade must be perceptible.

Our champion crockery dealer Mr. W. H. Hughes is moving into more commodious quarters. He has secured the Andrews' building where he will have more room for the display of the fine class of china, glass and crockery ware which he handles. In his new quarters he will have increased facilities for adding to his stock which he will doubtless take advantage of and divide it with his appreciative customers.

St. Patrick's Day.

The Caraleigh Cotton Mills are fast nearing completion.

The railway commission is again in session here.

The Revenue officials are after the moonshiners in good earnest.

We are glad to learn that officer Lewellen is considerably improved.

A new brick machine has been received by the Caraleigh company.

The name of Smithfield Collegiate Institute has been changed to Turlington Institute.

The Methodists, of Durham, have raised about $10,000 towards the rebuilding of Trinity Church.

There is a steady improvement in the membership of the Knights of Pythias in this city, there now being about 225 in the order.

Much needed improvements are being made in the tracks of the R. & G. Railroad in the vicinity of Johnston street station.

This has been a pretty bad day for gathering locals. It can almost be summed up in the words, "nothing doing."

Rev. Dr. C. T. Bailey continues to improve and it is hoped that in a short time, he will be able to resume his duties as editor of the Biblical Recorder.

The State Agricultural Society will hereafter hold monthly meetings. It is the intention to make the coming fair a first class one in every particular.

Mr. John C. Brewster, of the Grand Army of the Republic, is pursuing a very commendable course in sending to each post a circular asking aid in behalf of the Soldiers' Home.

The messengers of the Western Union Telegraph office have donned new uniforms and caps of beautiful design. They are sprightly boys, all of them.

At a meeting of the officers, teachers and pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind held yesterday, resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Miss Nettie Marshall were passed unanimously.

Now that there is a lull in the amusement line, it will be a good time for our Board of Aldermen to talk about a centennial. It will be a great thing to dispel the surplus of politics with which we are threatened this year.

Mr. L. P. Hall, Superintendent of the Raleigh street railway, will retire about the 1st of April. He will be succeeded by Mr. S. W. Huff, of Baltimore who is said to be a most competent business man and a polite and affable gentleman.

There will be a convale of Raleigh Commandery, K. T., No. 4, this evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of conferring the order of the Red Cross. All Sir Knights invited to attend.

W. A. WEATHERS,
Commander.

The members of the Democratic Congressional Committee for this district will meet at the Yarboro House on Thursday next, 24th inst at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting the time for holding the nominating convention.

Attention is called to the change in J. W. Evans advertisement. He makes substantial repairing a special feature in his business. He is prepared to supply your Frazer carts or any other, with shafts. Send him your work if you want something substantial.

A very beautiful design has been gotten up by Mr. Thomas C. Harris for the engraving on the silver service to be presented to the cruiser "Raleigh." The coats of arms of the original thirteen States are, set in stars around the rim. Just above the centre is a larger star with the coat of arms of North Carolina. There is room for the inscription.

Personal Mention.

Mr. D. B. Avera, of Johnston county, is in the city.

Mrs. E. H. Burch left this morning on a visit to relatives in Lynchburg and Richmond Va.

Dr. D. E. Everitt has returned from Farmville, Va.

We had a pleasant call today from Mr. W. C. Bright, of New Hill.

Miss Mamie Heartt of Durham, is visiting friends in this city.

The condition of Hon. John A. Gilmer is extremely critical. It is thought that he cannot much longer survive. This is indeed sad news to thousands in North Carolina.

We regret to note that Mr. D. L. Shively, who was taken sick some time since at Selma, while assisting Rev. J. W. Lee, the evangelist is still quite ill with the grippe.

Woman's Devotion.

At an entertainment recently given in Concord, N. C., one of the scenes illustrated woman's devotion. Descriptive of the scene the Charlotte News relates, the following incident:

A Winchester girl, after one of the many battles that took place near there, hearing that her lover had been wounded and left on the field to die, went alone to find him. As night came on she was weary and sad to discover no trace of him; at length she heard a voice at her feet asking in God's name for a drink of water. She stooped and raised a rebel soldier and reached a canteen near to give him the refreshing draught. As she did so a Yankee surgeon galloped by to whom she appealed for aid. He said the wound had ceased to bleed, but remarked, "When you put him down it will start afresh and he will soon bleed to death. I must fly for the enemy are upon us." Did she lay him down? And did he die?

You who have known and proved a Southern woman's devotion will not be surprised at the sequel. All night amid the dead and dying, with no witness but God and the angels who must have hovered near them, she supported the unknown and unconscious soldier until morning dawned and brought relief. The soldier was Randolph Ridgely, of Maryland, and the noble woman Miss Russell, of Virginia.

There are now a smaller number of convicts in the penitentiary than for several years past. We presume this is accounted for from the fact that many of the counties send their convicts to work on the public roads under the provisions of the law authorizing them to do so. It may be, however, that crime is on the decrease.
