SYNOPSIS OF THE WEATHER.

The following is the synopsis of the weather at 8 a. m. today:

The clearing condition (high area) has moved to the North Atlantic coast. The high pressure extends south to Florida.

A part of the low area yesterday central over Texas has moved with great rapidity to Lake Michigan, with a trough of low pressure still extending to Texas.

Light rain has fallen in the upper Mississippi Valley, and snow in Wisconsin.

The temperature is falling in the extreme west, but rising rapidly in the central valley.

RALEIGH AND VICINITY.

Fair weather; much warmer, till 8 p. m. Wednesday.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Moon on the last quarter.

Moon on the last quarter.

High Point now has electric lights. Remember the meeting of the Royal Arcanum tonight.

Good weather is again with us, and the farmers are busy.

Quite a number of military are in the city today.

"The Great South," lately published here, has been removed to Danville, Va.

The Supreme Court is now engaged on cases from the Eighth Judicial district.

Another National Bank is to be started in Oxford in a short time, with a capital of $50,000.

The State Chronicle appeared this morning as a six column, four page paper.

The Bank of Oxford has closed doors, the stockholders desiring to quit business. All stockholders and depositors were paid in full.

The handsome residence being erected for Dr. Hall corner of Person street and Oakwood Avenue is very nearly completed.

The musical festival in Charlotte this year promises to be of an unusual interest. Over $1,000 has already been secured.

Regular convocation of Raleigh Chapter, No. 10, tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Full attendance desired. Visiting companions invited.

The State business agent of the Alliance, reports, that the general business in his department is from 50 to 100 per cent greater than last year.

The name of Gen. "Bob" Vance, is being agitated in the western part of the State in connection with the office of Governor.

Attention is called to the advertisement of J. T. Morris & Co. Call and examine their mattresses, satin bed quilts and bargains in furniture generally.

The Durham and Northern Rail way will sell round trip tickets to parties desiring to attend the launching of the "Raleigh" at $3.85 for the round trip from Durham.

Mr. N. P. Lee, aged 80 years, died last Friday in Caswell county. He was a true friend of education and had contributed several thousand dollars to Wake Forest College. He also aided quite a number of young men to enter the ministry.

Now that the Young Men's Christian Association is about to be re-established in Raleigh on what appears a firm basis, we want to see it fostered by our people. It is a noble institution in which all should take a just pride.

President Crowell, of Trinity College, has been selected by the American Economic Association to deliver an address at the next annual meeting at Chatauqua, New York, on the subject: "The Farmers' Movement in the South."

Shad abundant in market.

Spring poetry now in order.

The sun has crossed the line at last.

The health of our city is now considered excellent.

Clean up your premises. This is the best preventive of disease.

A fine lot of small sugared hams just opened at D. T. Johnson's.

Soon be time to shake out the carpets.

And now Asheville has started a fund for the cruiser "Raleigh."

Mrs. Richard Jones, who has been very ill, we are glad to note is much improved.

Much warmer is now the prediction. Gardeners will be glad to hear it.

A sensation report was started about 1 o'clock today that the phosphate mills, near this city, had been blown up. An investigation proved that there was nothing in it.

The faculty of Trinity College will remove to Durham as soon as possible after commencement. By the first of July all will be at their new homes.

The No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Parlor Cabinet, running in L. R. Wyatt's window, is a beauty. Call on Messrs. Wyatt & Watts and look it over.

Our Arsenal.

Comparisons are odious, it is said, but we cannot refrain from noticing the fact that Charlotte boasts of the finest armory in North Carolina while what is facetiously called the State arsenal in this city is a disgrace to our people. Not only so, but the location of the old hull mars the beauty of one of the finest public squares in the south. We have often called attention to the matter, and we now enter our protest against its longer existence, if there be any possible legal pretext by which it can be removed.

Read This.

An Exchange says: "For a general business I believe there is but one perfectly satisfactory advertising medium—the daily newspaper."

No matter what the nature of a community is, if a daily paper has a chance at the people it sorts them out as certainly as if they were put through a mental sieve.

The progressive, enterprising, wide awake, money spending, life enjoying citizen, wherever he is is always hungry in the head—he wants a daily paper, he'll get one if he can.

The pinch penny, slow going, yesterday man; the too poor or the too mean to buy, are never in the daily newspaper procession.

Put an advertisement before the readers of a daily paper and you take the cream of any population. You go straight home to the people who can buy and who are ready to buy.

That's one side of it.

The other is the merchant's side. He too must be wide awake. There's no use in lugging a hide bound business in a moss grown way before such a constituency.

Arrived To-Day.

We received today a large and elegant assortment of straw-matting direct from China, which are the very latest and most fashionable designs that can be procured. To those who want anything in straw mattings we will say that we are now fully prepared to suit you in style, quality and price. We also received today a line of cocoa matting and ingrain and hemp carpeting, and a other tremendous lot of white goods which contains the greatest bargains that it has ever been our pleasure to produce. Come and see these many bargains and you will be convinced that all we have said is true. All are invited to come and see our immense stock of new spring goods.

Yours truly,

D. T. SWINDELL.

Re-Opened.

It now appears that Greensboro has failed to comply with promises made to secure the location of the Colored Agricultural and Mechanical College, and the question has been re-opened. Tomorrow the board meets and proposals are again in order. Will Raleigh enter the field of competition? It would seem that our city is the most appropriate place for the institution.

Destructive Fire

This morning about 4 o'clock the gin house on the plantation of Mrs. Julia Fisher, between the Tarboro and Pool roads, about two miles east of the city, was burned, together with a large number of bales of cotton. It was evident that some of the cotton was stolen, as fresh wagon tracks were discovered near by. About seventeen bales of the burned cotton, we hear, was the property of Mr. Jas. Moore. It is not known with any degree of certainty how the fire originated, but all the indications are that it was the work of incendiaries. Mrs. Fisher's overseer came to the city this morning and reported the facts to police headquarters in hope that if any of the cotton was brought to market the thieves might be apprehended. No insurance.

Our Centennial.

We notice that some of our Exchanges allude to the "Raleigh Centennial" celebration, as something definitely agreed upon. In other words, it seems to be thought as a matter of course, that it will take place at some time during the present year. Now, so far as we know, there has been nothing done about the matter outside of a considerable amount of outside talk. The City Aldermen have not, within our knowledge, even alluded officially to the subject, nor have we heard of any serious determination to do so. This, no doubt, seems rather strange to the outside world, and it is, we confess, somewhat of a surprise to us considering the apparent wishes of a large portion of our people. Why there is such lethargy upon the eve of so important an event is hard to understand. As a matter of pride alone, to say nothing of the advantages to accrue, we ought, in some appropriate manner, note the hundredth year of our municipal existence. Such celebrations, it must be conceded, are productive of good, in many ways. If, in no other, it brings to our city large crowds, that are sure to leave their impress in the matter of trade. All centennials have resulted in benefit to the communities in which they are held. As to the time, it may be that the next fair will be opportune. If this is decided upon, there is no time to lose, and we commend the matter to the earnest consideration of our City Fathers.

SUICIDE UNDER A TRIP HAMMER.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—Fred Heagle, a goldbeater employed by Pierce, Kursh & Co., at Thirty sixth and Market streets, deliberately placed his head under a heavy trip hammer today. The hammer weighed 100 pounds and had a fall of six feet. He leaves a widow, to whom he was married a year ago.
