The following gentlemen have been chosen as vestrymen of Christ Church: Dr. R. H. Lewis, Dr. V. E. Turner, Dr. F. T. Fuller, Maj. R. S. Tucker, Jas. I. Johnson, Chas. Root, F. P. Haywood, J. C. Drewry and John Ward.

Died.

At Wake Forest College, last Sun at 12 o'clock, Mr. L. L. Lowry, aged 23, after an illness of three weeks. He was a student of the college and a son of Mr. J. T. Lowry, of Anson county. The remains were taken to his home for interment.

Preparing.

The citizens of Charlotte are preparing to have a handsome welcome arch erected in that city for the 20th of May celebration. The News says: "The design submitted is of the Doric capital pillars architecture, one on each pavement with an arch connecting them, representing eight stones, the centre being the keystone upon which the proud event of May 20, 1775 will be inscribed, and on the other seven, great events concurrent with the declaration. It will be a beautiful addition to the other attractions."

Personal Mention.

Mr. W. F. Kornegay, of Goldsboro, the popular President of the North Carolina Railroad arrived in the city yesterday. He talks dolefully of the effect of the frost upon the trucking interests of the east. Ex Governor Jarvis is in the city. Judge David Schenck, of Greensboro, is at the Yarboro. We are sorry to state that Mr. W. T. Woodward on South Dawson street, who has been sick for several days, is much worse today.

Oh, Julia, let me tell you, don't you remember some time ago I asked you about the nice place you are living at?
Julia—Yes.
Mary—Well, I told George about the lot and what a splendid opportunity J. M. Broughton & Co. were giving the working men to buy building lots, and he went right down and bought that very lot we were talking about, and is going to build me a nice little home, and then won't we be happy?
Julia—Did you ever hear of such terms as J. M. Broughton & Co. are giving?
Mary—No indeed. The great wonder to me is that every young man in Raleigh don't buy one or two of those nice lots. Just think of it, Julia, $200 for one of those pretty lots over there on Elm and Lane streets, $5 down and $5 per month until you have paid one fourth of the price of the lot, $200. The balance, $150, they will take your note for and give you—well, anywhere from 5 to 40 years to pay it in. There are only a few more of these lots left now, and since they have fixed up the streets so nice and planted shade trees, I am sure they will all be sold in a short time. Well, good bye, Julia, I must go. Come to see me.
Julia—Well, you come.
Mary—Well, you come.
