CITY IN BRIEF.

Now, it is Park Avenue. Don't forget it.

Get ready for the excursion to Clarksville next Wednesday. It will be one of the best of the season.

Did you see that big cabbage in James McKimmon & Co.'s drug store window?

Meeting of county commissioners and justices of the peace next Monday. They will be important meetings.

North Carolina 4 per cent consols still keep near par. This is a good showing for our State in the financial line. There are no safer investments.

Nearly every one has need of a good spring medicine, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is undoubtedly the best. Try it this season.

Let us hope that our new opera house will be ready for occupation next winter, so that the members of the General Assembly can enjoy their taste for the drama to the fullest extent.

It is claimed that Durham has $145,000 of new buildings under way. Don't this include the prospective government building? We merely ask for information. Hope we don't offend.

The Rev. Robert Adams, of Americus Ga., will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m. A cordial invitation is given to attend these services.

An excursion will be run on the 6th of July from this city to Asheville. It will be a first class excursion in all particulars, and will be specially devoted to the comfort of ladies. Full particulars soon.

We had a rare and rather enjoyable experience this morning while out trying to collect a little money. We called on friend Brestch who paid us without a grunt, and then had us to sample his fresh made pine apple cream, which we think was the finest we ever tasted.

Col. A. R. Andrews states that new rail will be laid upon that part of the Murphy branch of the Western N C Railroad, considered unsafe, in the next 90 days. This is an answer to a complaint from the Railroad Commission on the matter.

In answer to enquiries we are inclined to the belief, without examination, that when justices of the peace are chosen by the legislature and refuse, or fail to qualify within the prescribed time, then the appointing power is lodged with the Governor. If after having qualified and served, there should be a vacancy, by death or otherwise, the appointment is lodged with the clerks of the Superior Courts. If we are wrong we are open to correction.

Special Slipper Sale Tonight.
We have the largest stock of low cut shoes in ladies and misses slippers and Oxford ties, and tonight we will give our customers advantage of a reduced price, and have instructed all clerks to sell slippers at a reduction of 25 per cent in price.
D. T. SWINDELL.

A Bold Thief.

Yesterday afternoon, just as we were about going to press, information was received that Mr. A. B. Forrest had recovered a fine two year old colt which had been stolen from an enclosure the night before, and for which he had written an advertisement offering a reward. It appears that the colt was taken from the enclosure on Thursday night and carried by a negro to Garner where it was traded off to Mr. Jno Carter for another horse and a check on the Raleigh National Bank for $18. During the day yesterday Mr. Carter brought the colt to the city for the purpose of having it shod, and at the same time, finding out whether the transaction was an honest one. Being convinced that the negro had betrayed him into what might have proven a serious matter, Mr. Carter, of course, at once surrendered the colt to its owner, Mr. Forrest, and took steps to prevent the payment of the check. In the meantime the matter had been placed in charge of Maj. C. D. Heartt, Chief of Police, who had taken the precaution to have telegrams sent to different points for the purpose of apprehending the thief. The negro gave his name as Tom Mason, and stated that he had lived at a place called Hickory Springs. Both of these statements are found to be misrepresentations and altogether misleading.

AN EXCITING PURSUIT.

Acting upon information received that the negro had been seen out near the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Chief of Police Heartt at once sent out a force for the purpose of arresting him. The police went out on the street railway, and when near St. Mary's school, at a bend in the road, they saw the man coming. He was approaching fast, and as it took a little while for the police to get off the car and make pursuit, the negro gained some considerable headway. He was followed until he reached a point near the residence of Mrs. Julia Fisher, when he deserted the horse and fled across Ash square. For a time, at least, he seems to have evaded his pursuers, but during last night and today clues have been followed up, and it is expected by the Chief of Police that his capture will be effected soon. The horse was taken in charge and returned to Mr. Carter so that he actually loses nothing.

The Terrible Work of a Cyclone.

A letter received by Mrs. C. P. Wharton of this city, from Anvergne, Ark., informing her that her sister was dangerously hurt internally though it is hoped not fatally, by a cyclone at Anvergne, Arkansas, on May 28th, as was also Prof. Paisley, gives a sad picture of destruction by these fearful air commotions. The storm struck the town about 8:30 p. m., literally scattering the timbers to the four winds—the Anvergne Academy building, Prof. Paisley's residence and the Methodist church. They were just taken up, torn into fragments and scattered in all directions by the winds. Prof. Paisley, his wife, their two children and a young lady boarder were in one of the down stairs rooms when the storm struck the building. None were hurt except Prof. Paisley and his wife.

Prof. Paisley went from North Carolina to Arkansas some four years ago, where he has been engaged in teaching. He settled at Anvergne, and erected a fine Academy building, built him a home, and was succeeding nicely in his noble work, but it is all destroyed in a few minutes. The people of the town have exhibited great sympathy and kindness to him and his family. We feel more interested in a case of this sort, among the many cyclone stricken sections out west, because of the sympathetic touch in our own community.

Sugar cured hams cheap at C. O. Ball & Co's.

Personal Mention.

Rev. J. I. Foster and wife returned home yesterday afternoon from a two weeks visit to relatives and friends in Alamance county much refreshed. Mrs. J. N. Hubbard who has been quite sick, is improving. Gov. Holt has returned to the city from Chapel Hill much improved in health. Miss Lennie House is visiting friends at Wake Forest.

Board of Aldermen.

The board met in regular session last night. Liquor licenses were granted to 18 applicants. The name of Martin street was changed to Park avenue by a vote of 10 to 3. All the old police force were re-elected. Mr. P. C. Hardie and Mr. Miles Goodwin were made turnkeys. C. W. Lambeth was re-elected clerk and J. N. Holding city attorney. An ordinance was adopted abolishing surface water closets in the central part of the city and requiring connections with the sewerage. The resignation of W. N. Jones as a member of the township school was accepted.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Among the most important resolutions of the board was one proposing a proper celebration of the coming Fourth of July, and the appointment of a committee to make suitable arrangements for the same. (The Visitor would here most respectfully suggest the early organization of the committee for actual work. If we are to have such a celebration as we wish, prompt action is desirable.) The reports of Mayor Badger, Chief of Police Heartt and other officials were presented.
