

EMIN AND STANLEY.

New York World.

Emin Pasha having turned up alive again it remains to be seen whether Mr. Stanley will feel at liberty to prosecute his intention, newly announced, of entering Parliament at the coming election. While Emin survives, Mr. Stanley can hardly feel sure enough of continuing out of a job to undertake any serious new occupation.

MARINO DIDN'T LIKE BAD OMENS.

Rosa Marino, a pretty Italian girl of No. 78 Oliver street, is keeping company with a young man who does not stand well with her uncle, Pauno Marino, with whom she is stopping. The young man called at the house Sunday last and thought of getting into the uncle's good graces by presenting him with a razor. Then he and the girl started out for a walk. Five minutes later the uncle was running through the street with the razor in his hand, and was arrested. He explained that he was looking for Rosa's lover, as it was a bad omen to take a razor as a gift. In the Tombs Police Court yesterday he was fined $4 -N. Y. World.

MONTANA A WONDER LAND.

Much has been written about the Bichloride Springs and the vinegar mine in that State, but now comes the statement of the discovery of a mountain of pure alum in the Beaver head range of mountains, by Col. John Boyle. A shaft has been sunk 200 feet in a solid mass of pure alum.

A good many of The World's "Don'ts" have been heeded, and those that have been disregarded have had their wisdom vindicated.

The perpendicularity of a tall monument is affected by the rays of the sun. It leans away from that luminary, owing to the expansion of the side on which the rays fall.

"Cool as a cucumber" is said to be correct scientifically. Investigators claim that this vegetable usually has a temperature one degree less than the surrounding atmosphere.

The Florida oranges are now shipped direct from Florida to Europe, where they are supplanting those from the Mediterranean. In the Liverpool market they bring nearly double the price of other oranges.

A timely rain in Dallas, Tex., has averted a lynching by scattering the mob. The one element which no mob can withstand is cold water. A fire plug and section of hose in every jail yard would be worth much in increased respect for the law.

Advices from Venezuela say that Palacio, the fugitive dictator, is remitting quantities of gold and silver to London on private accounts and has emptied the national treasury. Palacio's concern for his private account is by no means the first exemplification of his faith that public office is a private snap.

The Associated Trades of New York have declared against closing the World's Fair on Sunday. Probably a Sunday half holiday would be the only means of satisfying everybody—closing in the forenoon in order to give every one a chance to go to church, and opening in the afternoon so that every one might see what religion and civilization have done for the betterment of mankind during the last four centuries.

Out in California the outlaw and the desperado still flourish here and there, but their exploits are chiefly confined to stage robbery, and even this occupation, once so safe and profitable, has become extra hazardous. The capture and fatal shooting or Sunday night of the perpetrator of the sensational robbery of the Redding stage, which took place a month ago, is likely to exercise a powerful deterrent effect upon men ambitious to follow the perilous trade of the highwayman.

RALEIGH, JUNE 23, 1892.

The Weekly Times, a new candidate for public patronage in the news paper field, has been launched at Granite Hill, Iredell county, N. C., Mr. W. B. Brawley, editor and proprietor. Newspapers and newspaper men are becoming almost as numerous as life insurance agents. Well, they are alike engaged in good work if they prosecute it aright. May they live long and prosper.

THE FOURTH AT GUILFORD BATTLE GROUND.

The celebration of the Fourth of July at the park of the "Guilford Battle Grounds Company" on the site of the "Battle of Guilford Court House," about five miles north from Greensboro, promises to be a very enjoyable occasion. Judge Walter Clark will deliver the oration of the day, on the life and services of Gen. William R. Davie of North Carolina and Mr. W. A. Guthrie will address the ex-Confederate veterans. The committee on invitation are Hon. D. Schenck, Hon. R. P. Dick, Hon. James T. Morehead, Hon. D. F. Caldwell and Col. James E. Boyd.

We acknowledge our indebtedness to the committee, for an invitation to be present and shall certainly esteem it a privilege to be able to do so.

The Philadelphia Record says: Conservative authorities estimate that $100,000,000 will be needed to meet the demands of the pension service in the next fiscal year; and Mr. Enloe, who has looked into the question more fully than most of his fellow Congressmen concedes that these figures are by no wise extravagant. As the customs receipts for the present year will not be above $175,000,000, it will be seen that it will just about take the custom house to run the Pension Bureau, with little, if anything, left over for the countless other necessities of the government. One thing very evident from this showing is, that coast defenses and other excuses for the maintenance of the war tariff will no longer be necessary. Even with taxes on a war basis, shrewd financing will be required to make ends meet.

Russia is not to be allowed to continue her aggressive movements in Central Asia without opposition; and that, too, from an unexpected quarter. Her claim to Pameer, "the Roof of the World," has alarmed China, and a large force of Chinese troops has already been sent to the frontier to prevent aggression, and, if need be, to take the offensive against the soldiers of the Czar. Russia has long been spoiling for a fight, and perhaps the almond-eyed Celestials may accommodate her. In such an event the pressure in Europe would be considerably relieved.
