The Weather Today.

Local forecast for Raleigh till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair weather, stationary temperature.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

Maximum temperature, 71; minimum temperature, 66; rainfall 0.50.

CITY IN BRIEF.

These moonlight nights are splendid for visiting the parks.

Several shows, such as minstrel troupes, &c., are in sight for the near future.

The 4th of July fireworks will be here in a day or so. They will be a first class assortment.

A grand program has been mapped out for the Press Association at their meeting on July 27th.

The Omaha convention is the next political sensation. The North Carolina delegation have gone.

Commissioner Robinson has returned from the western part of the state. He looks unusually well.

We are requested by residents in the vicinity to call for lights at the Hillsboro street bridge. It is said that they are badly needed.

No other Sarsaparilla has the merit by which Hood's Sarsaparilla has won such a firm hold upon the confidence of the people.

What a world we live in. A couple of gentlemen in Davidson county recently had a big fight over a piece of blackberry pie.

Let every member of the 4th of July committee be on hand at 6:30 this afternoon. Much business of special importance.

Heavy washouts are reported in several sections of the state, the result of the heavy rain last Monday night.

Although the union depot is not exactly finished, we hope the 4th of July committee will endeavor to have the first train to run into it next Monday.

We frequently hear complaints about cows running at large. Our people should bear in mind that the stock law is in force here and govern themselves accordingly.

A very heavy storm prevailed at Morehead City last Monday night. We suppose it was the main portion of the storm that we got the shank end of in this vicinity.

It seems to be the general idea that Hon. K. P. Battle would be a most competent gentleman to deliver an address at the centennial celebration of Raleigh's existence.

The regular monthly meeting of Epworth League of Central M. E. Church will be held at the church on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Every member earnestly requested to be present.

There will be a Prohibition convention held in Raleigh on Saturday, July 16th, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State convention to be held in Greensboro on July 20th.

J. M. TEMPLETON,

Ch'n Prohibition Co. Ex. Com.

Secretary Sherrill, of the N. C. Press Association, is arranging for a grand excursion to Washington, New York and other points north to take place immediately after the adjournment of the association. The particulars will be forthcoming at an early date. It will be a splendid opportunity for the overworked quill drivers to have a good time.

Messrs. Hammill & Hunnicutt, one of our most enterprising building firms, have contracted for the building of the new cotton factory, which is to be situated a few hundred yards north of the N. C. Car Company's works, near the R. & G. Railroad. We learn that the work will commence early next month and be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The building of the present cotton mill near the same site was erected by the firm.

I. O. O. F.

Seaton Gales Lodge, No. C. I. O. O. F., meets tomorrow night at 8 o'clock sharp. Work in the degrees. Election of officers for ensuing term and other important matters to be attended to, which requires every member of the lodge to be present. Visiting brethren cordially invited.

Independence Day.

There will be a meeting of the 4th of July committee this afternoon at 6:30 o'clock at which a full program will be mapped out for Monday next. The committee has placed an order for $200 worth of fireworks, and the display, it is now understood, will take place at the south gate of the capitol square. Several gentlemen are spoken of to choose from as orator and readers of the National and Charlotte Declarations. As soon as perfected, we will print the program in full.

A Raleigh Boy at the Head.

Jack L. Adams, son of our townsman L. H. Adams, who is at Eastman College, N. Y., taking a commercial course, says he feels good as he has just stood his first examination in a class of 39 students from different sections of the United States and he stood at the head of his class and only one out of the class stood equal to him. Hurray for the Old North State, for her sons will be heard from wherever they go. We are proud for our esteemed friend, Mr. L. H. Adams, and his promising son.

Heroic Act.

Last Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, Mr. Ed D. Straughan, a printer from this city but of late working in Wilmington, came near losing his life by drowning at Carolina Beach. He had been in surf bathing and got beyond his depth. His cries for help attracted the attention of Dr. A. L. Scott who went to his assistance and pulled Mr. Straughan far enough for his feet to reach bottom thereby saving his life. Both were much exhausted by their efforts, and Dr. Scott was rendered quite sick. It was a heroic effort and elicited the warmest praise.

Far Off.

Our highly esteemed friend, Mr. Joseph P. Goodwin, clerk in the office of Register of Deeds Mial, has received a most interesting letter from Sitka, Alaska, written by Mr. Louis Rivers, a former resident of the western part of Wake county. He has had a most varied experience, and drifted to the Pacific coast, from whence he found his way to Alaska on a man of war stationed on the Behring sea. He enlisted for three years, and says that under the rules, when his time is out, he will be entitled to about $2,600. He then proposes to marry and settle down to making cotton in his native state. He says that most of the time of the crew is taken up with watching the Indians, but he still yearns for the good old state. The letter is very interesting and we wish our space would allow its publication in full.

A Valuable Addition.

Our friend, "Alec" Stronach, (we mean "A. B." firm of W. C. & A. B. Stronach) is much elated today over an increase in his blooded stock of the horse species. Last night Bessie Gray, the grand daughter of the celebrated "Gray Dick" who was owned by Mr. Stronach some years ago, gave birth to a horse colt, the father of which is the celebrated "Pamlico." The colt is a perfect beauty and of the foremost stock in this section. It is a chestnut sorrell with a white spot in its forehead and a white hind foot. Mr. Stronach said it is in strict tally with his prediction, and to say that he prizes this addition to his stock department but feebly expresses it. He is just in the highest pitch of jollification over the event, and expects in the future to contest the sports of the turf with the foremost horses of the south.

Person I Mention.

Miss Addie Goodwin is visiting Warrenton, N. C.

Miss Mary Jane Horton is sick at her residence in the northern part of the city.

Gov. Holt returned to the city today.

Mr. C. F. King, of the Atlanta Journal is the city.

Rev. Thomas Dixon will preach at Morehead next Sunday.

Confederate Encampment.

We learn from Mr. W. C. Stronach that as yet, no specific time has been set for the proposed encampment of the ex-confederate soldiers at the camp at Wrightsville, but it will probably be about August 15th. It promises to be an occasion of much enjoyment and no doubt there will be a large crowd in attendance.

Meeting of the Royal Arcanum to night at Jones & Powell's office at 8 1/2 sharp.

The Sunday school picnic of the Church of the Good Shepherd will take place tomorrow if the weather will permit.

Everybody is pleased at the idea that Col. A. B. Andrews will retain his office in this city.

The lecture entitled "The almighty dollar" will be delivered by Rev. Thos. Dixon at Morehead on the night of July 5th.

It is not probable that nominations by the different parties in Wake will be made for county officers before September.
