CITY IN BRIEF.

We are pleased to learn that Master Claude Denson is still improving.
The excursion train from Winston to Morehead will pass through Raleigh tonight.
Call at Dugh's and see those rare specimens of the feathered tribe that he brought from Baltimore.

When weak, weary and worn out, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to restore your strength and give you a good appetite.

During this week, on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights, tickets on the Switchback will be 5 cents for a round trip. As street car tickets can be had at the rate of six for 25 cents, the fun is within the reach of all.

A gentleman of a very observant mind remarked today that a ride in the suburbs on the street cars these delightful evenings was equal to a visit to the seaside or mountains so far as health was concerned. It is just superb and invigorating. Try it.

Mr. I. N. Harward, who for some time past has been employed by the Raleigh Street Railway Company, left yesterday afternoon to accept a position on one of the electric lines in Baltimore. Mr Harward is a most efficient electrician and we most sincerely wish him success in his new sphere.

We print a communication to day from a well known, intelligent citizen, which, to some extent, defends the action of the Board of Aldermen, on the light question. This is as it should be. We want a free and full discussion of the matter from all standpoints. We have given what we believe the controlling sentiment of the community, but we like for all sides to be heard. In a "multitude of council there is wisdom."

A Lawn Party.

The ladies of the Tabernacle Baptist church will have on Friday night a lawn party and furnish ice cream, cake, fruit, &c., at the premises, corner of Bloodworth and Hargett Sts. Everybody invited to come and have a pleasant time.

A Few Suggestions.

We are pleased to note that the additions to our advertising columns during the past few days, evince a disposition on the part of our business men to push matters during what may be termed the "dull season." This is in accordance with our views of what constitutes strictly business energy and push. It is absurd to suppose that our merchants can sit idly and expect at a time of lethargy to have trade rushed to them with all the competition now in existence in the various callings. Now, above all others, is the time to exercise energy and tact, and there cannot possibly be any better mode to tide over the tight times than by a judicious system of advertising. In order to place matters of this kind in as favorable light as possible before our business community, the Visitor is ready to co-operate upon as lenient terms as possible, and merchants and business men of all callings will find that its columns can be secured now with mutual advantage. We stand ready to meet the business community at least half way, so that there may be as little as possible of lagging in trade between now and the full opening of the fall season.

We cordially invite the merchants to think over the matter. Of course there is a certain amount of self interest among all classes of people, and we surely do not claim to be entirely exempt from it, but we can assure the people of Raleigh that we are willing to make all reasonable sacrifices to aid the public.

We need not re-iterate the claim of the Visitor to the largest local circulation. This is conceded we think, on all sides. Whenever therefore, advertisements are desired for effect in the city of Raleigh or vicinity we do not hesitate to assert that through the columns of this paper they will be as productive of good as by any other means that can be adopted.

We invite a special call at our office from the business men generally or a conference with our local representative who can be seen almost at any time on his daily rounds. We most think that mutual benefits can be secured. Think and act upon these suggestions.

A Mystery.

There is an old grave yard west of Federal cemetery, on the lock quarry road. There has long been a rumor that there was money buried there. It was dug up about two ty years ago. Who dug it, or what valuables they got was never known.

Lately an old colored man named Henderson, who keeps a store, claims that he has talks with God and that God informed him that there was money buried there. Henderson went to Washington to get permission to dig up the treasure buried there. They referred him to the State authorities who referred him to the sheriff. Getting no satisfaction or permission from any of them he continued to talk about his conversation with God about the treasures that were buried.

Saturday night some people went to the grave yard and placed a guard around the grave while others dug it up. What treasure they got for their trouble is not known. Several colored men passed by while they were at work. One stopped and a gun was pointed at him, and he was told if he didn't leave there would be a hole shot through which a buzzard could fly. The man left, and there the tale comes to an end. There is a mystery somewhere. What is it?

Are You Ready? Have You Money?

If you have money on hand take it down to Swindell's and invest. Don't wait the probabilities, and that you will not get another such opportunity to buy goods at wholesale cost, with a tremendous stock to select from and all goods at exactly cost, is a thing not often found. This sale will last 40 days but those who come first will get first pick.

D. T. SWINDELL.

A Large Tomato.

We have been shown a tomato that was raised by Mr R. M. Utzman who resides at 127, corner of Dawson and Jones streets. It is the finest specimen we have seen, measuring eighteen inches in circumference and weighing one pound and eight ounces. Mr. Utzman has on sale the finest vegetables to be found in the city, cut fresh and fine every morning, and sells them on moderate terms.

Bold Thief.

At Durham, last Thursday, a colored man named Dink Holmes stole a hand trunk from Henry Rogers also colored, and gave it to a train hand directing him to bring it to Berry Hinton in Raleigh. Hinton returned the trunk to Rogers who upon examination found that the trunk had been broken open and sundry articles taken therefrom, including a nice hat and other wearing apparel. It seems that the thief had been to Wilmington and returned going through Raleigh where he lives, to Durham. He was arrested at the depot here this morning and some of the stolen property found in his possession. As the crime was committed in Durham the authorities were notified of Holmes' arrest and he will be sent to that place for trial.

About the Growth of Cities.

The following article is from the pen of Dr E. L. Perkins, written for the Morehead City News. It is so much to the point that we reproduce it as food for reflection among our people.

The growth of any town or city depends upon the enterprises by which such a place is sustained. Cities that grow are always busy places. A city of idlers would be a curiosity. Places that have stopped growing furnish such characters as those who "loaf around" in idleness. As you travel about in the world notice carefully the towns you pass through. If every body is busy the place is thriving, and will be likely to grow, but if there are many idlers, "loafing around" the place is done growing or growing smaller.

To boom a place successfully the people must increase the number of its enterprises. One permanent enterprise which employs 20 operatives will support 160 population. Five enterprises, employing 20 operatives each, will support a population of 500 people. So as new enterprises are planted they call for increased numbers of abiding citizens. Whenever the population overruns the demand for operatives in the various branches of business, there will be idle people, or else the surplus labor will seek employment elsewhere. There will be houses "to rent" instead of houses to be erected. The main reason why so many booming towns have ceased to boom is that enterprises have not kept pace with incoming population. A little reflection will teach any one that every new enterprise adds to the chances for increase population that makes a successful boom.

Education at enterprise always attracts the best population. When there is most intellectual development there you will find the greatest and the grandest physical results. Let educational enterprise take the lead, and not a piece in the rear. The school house in any neighborhood is an index to the thrift and taste of the people near by. A shabby school house is a pretty sure sign of an indolent people. Grand preparations for educating the children is indicative of a boom that is likely to be permanent.

Seed for canaries and mocking bird food. Birds are like blind men—they won't sing unless for a nickel or so. Feed the birds and they will entertain you. A. DUGH.

Disappointed Once.

Many people who came in Swindell's store today expressed themselves as being disappointed. Said they really did not believe this sale was a genuine selling at cost sale, but had found the goods as low as they wanted them, and if we were making anything on them we were welcome; that they did not want them for any less. Don't hold back. This thing is all right and you are to be benefited. D. T. Swindell.
