The Weather Today.

Local forecast for this vicinity: On Thursday: Fair weather, continued warm.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

Maximum temperature, 91; minimum temperature 74; rainfall 0.00.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Rev. F. L. Reid is working in the interest of Trinity College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hubbard have gone to the country to visit friends.

It is not probable that there will be a very large docket at the next term of the Superior Court.

Let the business men come to the rescue and aid in getting up a grand celebration on the 31st inst.

The building for the chemistry department at the university is to be enlarged and otherwise improved.

Mr. A. Moses and children of Norfolk Va. are in the city visiting relatives and friends.

The political events of next week will be the Congressional and State conventions of the third party.

There seems to be no sign at present of an abatement of the heated term.

And now we are promised that the new depot may be ready for use by the 15th inst.

The old Jail of Mecklenburg County has been condemned and a new court house has been recommended.

The colored firemen's tournament was in progress here this afternoon. There is much excitement and interest in the contests.

"I would like to sound the praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla over the entire universe," writes Mrs. Longenecker of Union Deposit, Penn.

The formal opening ceremonies at Brookside Park, it is probable will take place one day next week. Due notice will be given of the program, &c.

Our friend, Hal Robbitt, says the Lithia water he is now selling on draught is fast gaining popularity. Its health giving properties are acknowledged on all sides.

Mr. C. P. Vanstory, of Greensboro, will be here the latter part of this week with a fine lot of high bred horses for the races on the 17th and 18th insts.

The paving of the portion of Hillsboro street from the railroad bridge to a point near Mr. Julius Lewis' residence is nearly completed.

The funeral of the late Mrs. P. A. Crawford took place this afternoon from the First Baptist church and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Cheatham of the Presbyterian church. There was a large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends in attendance.

There will be a meeting of the retail grocers protective association this evening at 8 o'clock at their rooms; every member urgently requested to be present.

The Primitive Baptist Association will begin a meeting at Dutchville in Granville county next Friday, to last three days. It is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance.

The great event of the season, this summer in Asheville, will be the grand costume ball at the Battery Park on the night of the 12th inst., to aid in constructing the World's Fair building for North Carolina, in Chicago. It will be a magnificent affair.

The law incorporating the city of Raleigh it seems, declares that the names of certain streets shall never be changed. An ordinance passed by the Board of Aldermen declares that Martin street shall hereafter be known as Park Avenue. Now, what are we to do about it? Is it Park Avenue or is it Martin street. Let the Board either make it legal, or let the people know why. We are left between the old boy and the Deep Sea.

President Winston, of the State University, is in the city today.

There are a considerable number of druggists from different sections of the State in the city.

As we go to press there is an immense crowd in Fayetteville street witnessing the reel contests of the firemen. Great enthusiasm prevails.

North Carolina six per cent. bonds are now quoted at 125, and the four per cent. consols at 99. This is pretty good.

The cotton market continues unusually dull. In fact there is little or nothing doing and prices are at a stand still.

The firemen's tournament was witnessed by a very large crowd this afternoon. The late hour at which it came off prevents us from giving the result.

The Pharmaceutical Association met here today in the hall of Phalanx Lodge and proceeded to business. The Association was organized in Raleigh thirteen years ago and this is its first annual meeting.

We have been asked if Congress passed an act ordering the macadamizing of the road to the National Cemetery. We do not know, and, if some friend cognizant of the matter will answer the enquiry, we will be under obligations.

The extension of Morgan street must come sooner or later. The necessities of the people will demand it. Whether it will be consummated in the near future is a matter which we have long ceased to discuss. We hope for the best.

The merry-go-round at Brookside park is fast growing in popularity. Many ladies and gentlemen take advantage of it for the purpose of securing a delightful airing these afternoons and nights, while the little ones enjoy it hugely.

The exhibition of the steamer of the Wilmington fire company in front of the post office yesterday afternoon attracted a very large crowd. It showed great efficiency and caused much admiration.

Regular meeting of Seaton Gales Lodge No. 64. I. O. O. F. tomorrow night at 8 o'clock sharp. Degrees will be conferred upon candidates who are entitled to them and present themselves, other important business to be transacted; members of the lodge requested to attend. A cordial invitation to all odd fellows.

We are authorized to say that Mr. Jno W. Thompson, clerk of the Superior Court and Mr. Miles Goodwin, have in care a pretty, sprightly female orphan five months of age whom they desire to place in charge of some worthy family for adoption. These gentlemen will give all proper guarantees as to possession, &c.

Funeral.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Justice J. J. Davis took place yesterday morning at Louisa at 10 o'clock and was attended by a vast concourse of friends and citizens generally. The services were held at the Episcopal church by Rev. McK. Pittinger, rector of Christ church of this city. The pall bearers were Chief Justice Merrimon and Associate Justices Shepherd and Clark, President Winston of the University, Mr. E. W. Timberlake, Hon. O. M. Jooke, Mr. F. S. Spruill and Mr. B. B. Marsenburg.

Among those present were a large number of colored people who thus evinced their high regard for the lamented dead. The court house in Louisa is draped in mourning and business generally suspended. The bells of the churches were tolled and every mark of respect shown.

Wanted.

A real good salesman and a real good saleslady of experience in dry goods, can get a position at D. T. SWINDELL'S.

Captured.

Last Monday morning Messrs. P. T. Massey, J. H. Ausin, J. B. Holland and C. E. McNamara, captured an illicit distillery in Middle Creek township, near Varina, destroying about 300 gallons of beer.

The Business Meeting.

The attendance at the business meeting in Morehead is represented to be considerable. There are representatives from Salisbury, New Bern, Warrenton, Greensboro, Wilson, Henderson, Rocky Mount, Aurora, Goldsboro, Fayetteville, Winston, Windsor and other points. The outlook is good for much business of great importance to the State at large.

Moving a Mole Hill.

Have you ever seen the motion of a mole just under the ground. Awfully slow, awfully tiresome, isn't it? The mole is in his proper place, he has not missed his calling. Many of the merchants of the present day should be moles the only thing is they have missed their calling. They know nothing of the art of buying goods then their business is grave yard. Why, because they do not know where they should buy. Six of each hundred who enter the business succeed; ninety-four fail. Why, because so many moles think they are merchants. Go in some of the stores now in the dull season and you will think you have struck a Morgue. Go to Swindell's, you see a crowded store at any hour of the day, and why, echo answers why, the goods are bought below the market price and when it is time to do so Swindell is able to choke off the moles, and send them in the hole and make them pull the hole in after them.

D. T. SWINDELL.

Ho! For Richmond!

The last and grandest excursion of the season will be run from Raleigh to Richmond, Va., leaving Raleigh at 7:30 a. m. on August 24th and arriving at Richmond at 4:30 p. m. This train will reach Richmond in ample time to take the steamer or train for Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, returning in time for train which leaves Richmond for home Friday, the 26th at 11 a. m.

Special cars for the benefit of our white friends will be attached, and every attention given to insure them a pleasant trip.

No pains will be spared to make this the grandest excursion of the season.

The refreshment car will be well supplied and ice water in every car. This excursion is run under the auspices of the colored Odd Fellows—the same as last year and year before.

The price of round trip tickets is $2.75. Children under 12 years, half price. Tickets can be obtained from the committee.

For Sunday Schools.

While in New York last May, we bought several hundred Sunday School books, nicely bound in cloth and this morning we concluded to sell these books at 3 cents each in quantity to Sunday Schools. The books are worth from 5 to 30 cents each. Now this is for quantity of 25 or more. A rare opportunity and Sunday School people should take note.

D. T. SWINDELL.
