

The Asheville Fire.

The following additional particulars have been received relative to the destruction by fire early yesterday morning of the Belmont Hotel near Asheville: It seems that the fire originated in the laundry room and spread to the upper stories of the building before it was discovered. There were about 170 guests in the house at the time, all of whom were saved with narrow escapes. Several persons jumped from windows to the ground and, in doing so, sustained injuries to a greater or less extent. Most of the guests lost all their personal effects. A lady named Mrs. Carne, of Charleston, S. C., lost about $5,000 worth of jewelry and another guest $3,000 in cash. A number made their way out of the hotel in their night clothing. The building cost about $60,000, and the insurance, so far as ascertained is in the neighborhood of $25,000. The furniture was fully insured, as was the property of the lessee, Dr. Carl Van Klee. Among the guests were Mrs. George E. Wilson and son, of Charlotte, Dr. Hawkins and family, of Raleigh, and Mrs. Green, of Wilkes. Mrs. Col. A. B. Adrewe and daughter, of this city, were also in the hotel, but were uninjured.

EUROPE BLISTERED BY THE SUN.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A dispatch to the Times from Lucerne says: The heat has caused a fall of ice from the glaciers in the valley of the Visp, which almost destroyed the village of Tasch, near Zermatt. A torrent has destroyed portions of the Vi p Zermatt Railway and travelers are now transported by mules. There are various indications of the expansion of the upper snow fields by the heat. Climbers should be warned of extreme danger from avalanche.

A THIEF SPOILS THE TRIP.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Aug. 20.—Unity Division, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, did not start for Kansas City at noon today according to programme. Forty members had arranged for the trip and were greatly disappointed. The difficulty was a lack of funds. Last night some bold thief stole the trousseau of treasurer Fred Davis, and they contained over $800 belonging to the members, they having paid their last assessment last night.

The burglary is a rather mysterious one, and Chief of Police Tenny and his force are unable to solve the problem. Mr. Davis says he counted the money before going to bed and put it in his military trousers with his gold watch and chain. He hung the trousers on his bedroom door, but this morning they were gone. A curious feature of the affair is that $30 left lying on a bureau was untouched. The only indication of how the thief gained entrance was an open kitchen window. Both he and Mrs. Davis say they were awake the greater part of the night, but heard no mysterious noises. In the meantime the Knights are trying to raise enough money to take the trip.

The usual programme which follows the visit of robbers to the cashier on pay day was somewhat changed in Alabama the other day, when one of the robbers was killed and the others were glad to escape without insisting upon carrying any of the cashier's money with them.
