RALEIGH, SEPT. 22, 1892.

A GREAT SCHOOL DAY.

Official Programme for the Coming Columbian Celebration.

In obedience to an act of Congress, the President on July 21 issued a proclamation recommending that October 21, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, be celebrated everywhere in America by suitable exercises in the schools.

The following is the official program:

The schools should assemble at 9 a. m. in their various rooms. At 9:30 the detail of veterans is expected to arrive. It is to be met at the entrance of the yard by the color guard of pupils, escorted with dignity to the building, and presented to the principal. The principal then gives the signal and the several teachers conduct their pupils to the yard to beat of drum or other music, and arrange them in a hollow square about the flag, the veterans and color guard taking places by the flag itself. The master of ceremonies then gives the command, "Attention!" and begins the exercises by reading the proclamation.

1. Reading of the President's Proclamation by Master of Ceremonies. At the close of the reading he announces: "In accordance with this recommendation by the President of the United States, and as a sign of our devotion to our country, let the flag of the nation be unfurled above this school."
2. Raising of the Flag, by the Veterans. As the flag reaches the top of the stand the veterans will lead the assemblage in "Three Cheers for Old Glory."
3. Salute to the Flag, by the Pupils. At a signal from the principal the pupils, in ordered ranks, hands to the side, face the flag. Another signal is given, every pupil gives the flag the military salute—right hand lifted, palm downward, to a line with the forehead and close to it. Standing thus all repeat together, slowly: "I pledge allegiance to my flag and the republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." At the words "to my flag," the right hand is extended gracefully, palm upward, toward the flag, and remains in this gesture to the end of the affirmation; whereupon all hands immediately drop to the side. Then, all standing, as the instruments strike a cord, all will sing America—"My Country, 'tis of Thee."

4. Acknowledgment of God. Prayer or Scripture.
5. Song of Columbus Day, by pupils and audience.
6. The Address. "The Meaning of the Four Centuries." A declamation of the special address prepared for the occasion by the Youth's Companion.

7. The Ode—"Columbia's Banner." A reading of the poem written for the occasion by Edna Dean Proctor.

Here should follow whatever additional exercises, patriotic recitations, historic representations or chorals may be desired.

8. Addresses by Citizens, and National Songs.

FRANCIS BELGAMY,
Chairman Executive Committee.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

President Johnson, of the Chamber of Commerce, has decided to do ever; though he can to interest the business men and citizens of Raleigh, individually and collectively, in the coming Centennial celebration.

While a great many citizens are already taking a very active and effective interest in this event, there are still quite a number who have not seemed to realize that it is something which occurs only once in a hundred years; an event which they have not seen before and will not see again. The interested citizens are puzzled over the apathy of those, who are going on every day without manifesting any inclination to help make the Centennial celebration everything it should and ought to be.

The number of moss-back citizens in Raleigh is very few, but still there are some who need to rub up against something now and scrape the dead moss off. It is every Raleigh man's business and duty to do everything he possibly can to aid [the undertaking to make Raleigh's first Centennial celebration a historical event.

He is not a good citizen who sits still and thinks that others will do it without him.

President Johnson's first effort to make the interest general will be the calling of a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on next Friday night, to which every business man in the city will be invited. And this invitation will mean a pressing request that every man should come out.

It might be well enough to reserve some space on this night for the attendance of ladies; for with their assistance the absence of a great many men will not be missed.

The press of the city will keep the announcement standing from now till Friday night, and everybody that sees it should tell everybody else that it is here.

Raleigh is by no means a non-progressive town, but the work done heretofore has been done by comparatively a few of her energetic business men, and it would be quite an event to see every man in the city unite in one undertaking; let that undertaking this year, be the success of Raleigh's Centennial celebration.

A SIMPLE TEST OF A LOG.

The following paragraph has appeared in several of our exchanges. It can be very easily tested, and may prove a valuable "wrinkle" to log buyers:

The soundness of a log of timber may be ascertained by placing the ear to one end of it, while another person delivers a succession of sharp blows with a hammer or mallet upon the opposite end, when the continuance of the vibrations will indicate to an experienced ear even the degree of soundness. If only a dull thud meets the ear, the listener may be certain that unsoundness exists.

In Mississippi women have a right to vote on the fence question. How they will vote depends somewhat on their age and whether the fence have gates near the front door—Wilmington Star.

Sale of Valuable Real Estate.

By authority of a consent judgment of the Superior Court of Wake county in an action entitled W. K. Davis and N. P. Jones, Ex'rs, and others vs. Louisa L. Cosby and others, entered for the purpose of making assets to pay certain legacies and charges set forth in a judgment in the aforesaid action. I, will, as administrator of Mary A. Morehead, deceased, and as commissioner on Monday, 3d day of October, 1892, at twelve o'clock m. at the court house door of Wake county, sell to the highest bidder the following described real estate belonging to the estate of said Mary A. Morehead, deceased, to-wit:

First—The lot on Fayetteville street, now occupied by John S. Pescud as a drug store fronting 28 feet on Fayetteville street and running back 210 feet to Salisbury street, being part of lot No. 193 in the plan of the city of Raleigh.

Second—That city block in the city of Raleigh, bounded on the North by Jones street, on the East by East street, on the South by Edenton street and on the West by Bloodworth street, and now occupied by Morson & Denson's school, containing two acres.

Third—A tract of land, four miles north of the city of Raleigh, adjoining the lands of Mrs. Kimbrough Jones' heirs and others, and known as the Crabtree or Tavern tract, containing 963 acres, according to survey, and is particularly described in a deed from B. S. King to R. Smith, book 12, page 454, Register of Deeds' office for Wake county. This tract of land contains a large quantity of timber, original growth.

Fourth—A tract of land lying near the western corporate limits of the city of Raleigh, on the south side of Rocky branch, known as the Williams tract, adjoining the lands of Pullen Park, J. M. Heck and others, containing 277 1/2 acres, according to survey of F. Beve's surveyor, in 1879. Particularly described in a deed from James I. Williams and others to R. Smith, book 17, page 171, Register of Deeds' office for Wake county.

The last three parcels of the above described lands will be divided to suit purchasers. Maps of the proper showing divisions can be seen by applying to undersigned.

Terms of sale, one-third cash, balance six months from sale day, with interest at 8 per cent. Title reserved until purchase money is paid.

WOODWORTH CITY lies about 30 miles north of Chattanooga, with a few miles of Alabama, the county seat of Grand county, and between Tracey City and the celebrated Beersheba Springs, the Saratoga of the South. It is in the centre of the rapidly developing coal and iron district of Tennessee, and within its borders are found coal, iron, zinc, marble and asbestos, with various hard woods, such as oak, chestnut, maple, beech, locust, hickory, ash, pine, cherry and black walnut in abundance. The village of Gruettli, with several hundred inhabitants, contains Churches, Schools, Stores, Post-office and telegraph station, and a number of manufacturing industries, all of which are located on the property and form part of Woodworth City.

The proceeds of the sale of these lots will be used to develop the mineral resources of the property and build up a large and thriving city. Quick application for these lots should be made, as the right is reserved to advance the price without notice.
