SEPTEMBER.

The golden rod is yellow,
The corn is turning brown,
The trees in apple orchards
With fruit are bending down,
The gentian's bluest fringes
Are curling in the sun,
In dusty pods the milkweed
Its hidden silk has spun.

The sedges flaunt their harvest,
In every meadow nook,
And asters by the brookside,
Make asters in the brook,
From dewy lanes at morning
The grape's sweet odor's rise,
At noon the roadsides flutter
With yellow butterflies.

By all these lovely tokens,
September days are here,
With summer's best of weather
And autumn's best of cheer.
—Goldsboro Argus.

OLD POINT EXCITED.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept. 22—The citizens residing on the government reservation at Fortress Monroe, Va., have been thrown into a state of great excitement, owing to the receipt of a general order signed by the Secretary of War, peremptorily ordering that every house, including the Hygeia and Chamberlain's new hotel, be vacated within fifteen days from the time of its being of the order, which is dated September 14, 1892, and further ordering the removal and tearing down of all buildings at the owner's expense. The act of Congress, dated March, 1865, gives the Secretary full power in the matter, and the order is issued, it is understood, because of the failure of citizens having residences and hotels on the reservation to comply with the request from the Engineer's department that plans and specifications for a proper sewerage in the citizens' quarters at the fort be handed into the department, but this is due to the unsettled condition of the hotel Chamberlain, which was included in this order.

There is from four or five million dollars' worth of property on the spot, with great interests held by the railroads and other transportation companies, and there is no doubt strong pressure will be brought to bear upon the Secretary to have him modify his order, which, if carried out, would be very disastrous to the whole vicinity, including Norfolk, Hampton, Newport News, &c.

THE CHOLERA.

A dispatch of the 22d says: Up to date there have been 23 deaths from cholera in New York. The result of the bacteriological examinations in the case of John Carr, owner and captain of the canal boat, Henry Cahill, who died at his home, New Brunswick, N. J., was reported to the health board today by Prof Biggs. The report sets forth that germs of Asiatic cholera were found. Carr's boat had been laying in North River at the foot of West Thirtieth street, since last week under quarantine. This will be raised on her today, as she has been thoroughly disinfected. The New Brunswick Board of Health was notified today that Carr's death was due to cholera.
