The Weather Today.

For North Carolina: Fair Friday. Local forecast for this vicinity: On Friday: Fair weather, slowly becoming warmer. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a m today: Maximum temperature, 79; minimum temperature 52; rainfall 0.00.

CITY IN BRIEF.

The correspondent of the Atlanta Journal is in the city. Durham is to have another cotton mill. Looks like Robinson's circus was in town. This has been a bonanza for the street cars. The farmers were out in force today. The cotton receipts today were considerable and prices still looking up. The grounds are being put in repair for the military drill at the fair during the centennial. Some of the finest peaches in market we have seen this season were here today. The remains of the late Col. Canada will be interred for the present in Washington City. We learn that it costs $3,500 to secure the "Wild West" show here for the State Fair. Geo. S. Smith colored, has been elected principal of the Washington graded school of this city. Large crowds of country people in the city today drawn hither to hear the speaking. Judge Merrimon is now thought to be out of danger. His condition, we learn has much improved. "I would like to sound the praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla over the entire universe," writes Mrs. Longenecker of Union Deposit, Penn. Notwithstanding the great crowd in the city today everything passed off quietly. Just like our Raleigh people. Always orderly. There is a hole in the railroad bridge on Hillsboro street that needs attention before some person's ankle is broken. Judge Bryan had the Superior Court adjourned for awhile today so that witnesses, jurors, &c, could attend the speaking. Rev. S. P. Huff, father of Mr. S. W. Huff, general manager of the street railway, arrived here today from Westmoreland county, Va. Applications are daily coming in for admission to the Normal and Industrial school at Greensboro. It opens on the 5th of October. About six weeks more to talk politics, and then we can get down to hard pan business. It will be a relief. Tom Leslie, the press agent for Wilson's Minstrels was run over by a locomotive at Wilmington yesterday and had his right arm cut off. A considerable number of students from South Carolina are now in attendance at the University at Chapel Hill. The silver question was the main issue discussed by Gen. Weaver here today. He said the country demanded unlimited coinage, and would have it sooner or later. The latest sensation in the Lemon escapade is the charge brought by Mrs. Lemon No 1, that her husband has appropriated $1,300 belonging to her. The value of steamboats plying in North Carolina waters is about $290,000. This information has been furnished the Governor by the Railroad Commission. The residence of Mrs. John Eudy on Hillsboro street, just beyond the railroad bridge was entered yesterday afternoon during the absence of the family, and several articles stolen including some eggs. The drawers had been opened and some of the contents thrown on the floor. No clue to the thieves.

Ladies fine shoes cheap at C. H. Anderson's.

M. R. Lang, dealer in general merchandise at Greenville and Wilson, has made an assignment with liabilities of $40,000.

The fare on the railroads to the centennial and state fair will be only one cent a mile. At this rate we should have a tremendous attendance.

Several blooded horses have already arrived here for the big races at the State Fair. There is $1,700 in premiums which will no doubt call forth much competition.

Don't forget that the Chick Medicine company will give a performance tomorrow night at Metropolitan Hall in the interest of St. John's Hospital.

We thank the firemen and citizens for their prompt aid in extinguishing the fire at our store yesterday afternoon.

Mr. C. H. Anderson announces his entire stock of shoes for the fall and winter has arrived and he is offering them at exceedingly low rates. Children's and ladies shoes are a specialty and he can furnish them in all styles and qualities. Call and make your selections.

Nearly Ready.

The school map which has been for some time in course of preparation by Mr. T. C. Harris, is nearly finished, and is one of the most complete references ever gotten up in the state for school purposes. It shows about 700 public schools in North Carolina. It will be one of the five North Carolina maps at the World's fair.

The Railroad Commission.

There was considerable business of importance transacted yesterday. In the case of Lucas against the Western Union Telegraph Company. The plaintiff asked leave to withdraw his complaint so that he might prosecute it in the Superior Court of his county. The action was therefore dismissed.

The Great Event

We need something now to divert the attention of the people from the arena of politics to that of amusement. The Deshon Opera Company will be a great attraction at Metropolitan Hall next week, and it comes to us with the finest recommendations. All the press of the country teem in its praise and wherever it has appeared, they have drawn thousands. As a musical genius in the comic line Mr. Frank Deshon has but few equals and no superior on the stage. In brief our people may look out for such a musical treat as is rarely witnessed in this city. We will enter more in detail concerning this musical feast in the near future.

Prompt Settlement.

Mr. J. G. Brown, Treasurer of the Raleigh Council No 551, Royal Arcanum gave a check today to Mrs. E. A. Carver in payment of the sum due her late husband Mr. E. A. Carver as insurance in the case of his death, amounting to $3000. Mr. Carver has been dead only a little over three weeks and this prompt settlement is in full keeping with the usages of the order.

The prompt action in this case is but another illustration of the great benefits to be derived from membership in this most worthy and honorable organization, which cannot be surpassed by any other benevolent order in the United States. This is apparent from the rapid increase of members which now numbers over two hundred and still increasing, consisting of our most substantial citizens. Its success is the best sign of its great merit.

Many a man whom history has written down as a saint might be hard to manage as a neighbor, if your chickens scratched up his peas. —Ram's Horn.

Think of Our Bargains.

No other store can show them. We can. We do, and will continue to sell goods much cheaper than any other store. As we do not expect any trade for love or friendship, of course we must rely on the true merits of our business, and we are confident that our store is a popular place for those who value a dollar. Of course there are cranks whose presence are less tolerable than a dead rat or a pole cat, and when these same unwelcome intruders are around our store the atmosphere becomes very frigid.
