

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, MONDAY, OCTOBER 24. 1892.

NO. 2

CITY IN BRIEF.

The county candidates were at Cary today.

The sales of fertilizer tags continue very large.

The market house will hereafter close at 7 instead of 7:30 p. m.

There is a considerable increase lately in the way of marriage license.

A new barn is in progress at the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The cotton receipts for the past few days have been rather small for the season.

"Handsome is that handsome does," and if Hood's Sarsaparilla doesn't do handsomely then nothing does. Have you ever tried it?

It is now understood, that the stockholders of the wagon factory here, have ordered an assignment and the property will be sold.

There is a great increase in the attendance at Wake Forest College, and it will soon rank among the foremost institutions of the south.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald, of this city, took the premium for bread, jelly cake and stuffed pepper pickle at the fair. Hurrah for our Raleigh ladies.

When will the question of an extension of the corporate limits come up? We suppose that this will be the next vital matter to agitate our people.

"A Breezy Time" is booked for Metropolitan Hall on the night of the election. It has been arranged to read the election returns from the stage.

They say that president Winston has set his head to the task of making the University at Chapel Hill the peer of any of the northern colleges. He will do it.

Attention is invited to the advertisement of the Inter-State Trust and Brokerage Company which offers money to loan on life insurance policies, &c. Read it.

A protracted meeting commenced at Brooklyn M. E. church last night and will be continued during the week. Dr. Cuninggim will preach there tonight. All invited to come.

Our people will not be at a loss for first class amusement during the coming winter. Manager Heartt is always on the look out, and he will cater well for the public convenience.

The Goldsboro Argus compares "Columbus Day" in that city, to the Mardi Gras. Suppose our brother had been in Raleigh on Tuesday of last week. He would have been paralyzed—with wonder.

The brilliant success of the late fair should put an end to all talk about its removal from Raleigh. This is the best and most appropriate place for it, and it should remain a perpetual institution in our midst.

The bird law expires on the 31st of this month and sportsmen can get their guns in order. It would be well however to guard against trespass. In this connection we would call attention to the fact that there is an ordinance of the city of Raleigh which prohibits hunting in Pullen Park under penalty.

The case of the Atlantic Express Company against the Richmond and Danville and the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Companies occupied much of the attention of the Supreme Court during the past week. This is the case in which it is sought to compel the railroads to furnish transportation for other express companies besides the Southern.

We invite attention to the advertisement of the Rosenthal Clothing Company, of which Mr. "Dave" Rosenthal is the leading spirit. Now that the rush of the centennial and fair is over, the home folks are appealed to so that they can call and see the immense bargains being placed before them. Read the advertisement and you will see that it is "no wonder" this grand emporium has such an immense trade.

Davidson College.

Earnest efforts are being made for the increase of the endowment fund of Davidson College. In the Presbyterian synod in session at Statesville a resolution was adopted urging that an annual collection be taken up for the purpose. The wants of the institution are said to be great.

Death of Dr. A. R. Vann.

The many friends of this gentleman will deeply regret to hear of his death, which took place at his home, at Wake Forest last Saturday morning, aged 71, of valvular disease of the heart.

Dr Vann was a prominent physician and practiced extensively in Granville county before the late war. After the surrender he moved to Forestville for the purpose of perfecting the education of his sons, who are business men of ability. His wife survives him.

Thanks

We are authorized and requested by Mr. E. H. Love to extend, in behalf of himself and family, their most sincere and heartfelt thanks for the expressions of generous sympathy and aid rendered them arising from the distressing accident that befel their little daughter Alice on the night of the firework in Moore square. Their gratitude for this manifestation of the people of Raleigh is unbounded and will never be forgotten. They are pleased to say that the little girl is improving as fast as could be expected under the circumstances.

The Champion.

The following letter was received today by Chief of Police Heartt. It speaks for itself:

NORFOLK, Va., Oct 21st, 1892.

Sir—I wish to make it known to the good people of Raleigh that Noah Wilson, the great champion boot black of the world, who will enter the contest for the prize at the world's fair at Chicago, is a native of North Carolina, and he will come to your city soon on a visit. Please have one of your most trusted police to meet him at the train so that he may not be in danger of being run over by the vast crowd who will no doubt be at the depot to see him. Please let us hear from you and direct your reply to 38 Church street. X.

P. S.—Don't forget to let us know if you will have the police ready to receive him. He is the champion of the world.

October.

It has been the general observation that the present month, although a pretty one in our climate, has this year more than sustained itself. This seems to be the case throughout the country. Alluding to it the New York World says:

For nearly two months the skies have been propitious and the sunshine golden. This has been all the more delightful because in these charming times occurred our great Columbus celebration, with its out-of-door pageants on land and water. Sometimes in the evenings and in the early mornings a sharp nip of frost, precursor of approaching ice and snows, has helped us to a little longer sleep and stimulated us to a little more activity. The warm sun of summer, without its deep effect, has made overcoatless middays possible. Nature has loudly called us into the open air, and if we have been wise, or not under the harrow of daily occupation, we have accepted the invitation and have laid up a store of health that will enable us in the wintry weather to keep off influenza and grip.

Lieut. Shipp who has been officially engaged in duties in North Carolina for several months, in connection with the State troops, has been, at his own request, relieved and will join his command in the 10th, U. S. Cavalry.

The Weather Today.

For North Carolina: Showers, followed by clearing in the east portion; fair in west; colder in southeast Tuesday morning.

Local forecast for this vicinity: On Sunday: Fair weather, colder. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

Maximum temperature, 79; minimum temperature 48; rainfall 0.0.

Last Week.

We have taken occasion to day, to make enquiries of several of our merchants relative to the benefits reaped during the ceremonies of last week, and so, the opinion is that the mercantile interests of our business men have been greatly subserved. It is sometimes said that large crowds do not bring any material advantage in the way of trade, and that expenses made either by the city or individuals for great occasions, do not bring corresponding returns. This, it seems to us, is a great error. It must be, that strangers visiting the city, leave considerable money among us in one way or the other, and this eventually finds its level by something like an equal distribution. At all events, it has become the practice of our leading towns to encourage celebrations of various kinds, and the good results are almost invariably acknowledged.

Manager Heartt with the usual vim and foresight that he has credit for, proposes to utilize the decorations used by the city last week to adorn Metropolitan Hall, and to effect this our friend "Tobe Marshal" will doubtless try his hand. We guarantee it will be done well.
