STATE NEWS.

The Wilmington Messenger says on election day a train on the Wilmington, Onslow and East Carolina railroad, ran into a drove of wild turkeys and killed five of them, near a station called Winona, Onslow county.

The following gentlemen compose the committee for the State of North Carolina for the collection of funds for the Jeff Davis Monument association; Major General E. D. Hall, chairman, Wilmington; General H. F. Hoke, Raleigh; Hon. Rufus Barringer, Charlotte; Gen. M. W. Ransom, Garysburg; Mr. H. O. Sherrill, Newton.

The Asheville Citizen says that there died at Gombroon about day break on Sunday morning, of a malignant mountain fever, Jessie Powers, in the 45th year of his age. The deceased was the foreman on Senator Vance's place and his death will be seriously mourned by the Senator, as he was a man of strong mind and character and had lived at Gombroon ever since the present ownership and was greatly thought of by the family and neighbors.

A dispatch from Seeraparta, one of the principle places in the island of Java, tells of a thrilling occurrence which happened there recently. It seems that Motel, a well known prima donna, was singing before a large and distinguished audience. The song closed; the audience broke from spell bound silence into a roar of rapturous applause; flowers fell at the feet of the bowing and smiling singer; the curtain was about to fall for the third and last time when suddenly the actress threw up her hands and, with a shriek, fell forward on her face and died in full view of the audience. The dispatch does not say what she died of.

VANDERBILT INTEREST IN HIS EMPLOYEES.

Asheville Citizen.

A room adjoining Reed's store at Biltmore has been handsomely fitted up and will be used as a reading room for white workmen on George Vanderbilt's estate. This move was authorized by Mr. Vanderbilt himself and the place will be maintained at his expense. All the best newspapers, northern and southern, and the standard periodicals, will be kept on file for the free use of those whom the room was intended. This is another evidence of Mr. Vanderbilt's generous spirit.

Miss Kellogg's earnings on the stage gave her a fortune of $250,000. It is a curious fact that this prima donna, who had sung with brilliant success in all the greater operas, was possessed with an overwhelming desire to take the part of the captain's daughter in Pinafore. She would have done it as a lark, but she always felt she could make something out of the part better than any of those who undertook it have done.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

WHY DO THE LEAVES FALL?

Harper's Bazar.

It is generally supposed that leaves fall in the autumn because they die. This is not a correct view. If we break off a leafy branch the leaves will soon wither but not drop off. In fact, they will cling to the dried branch with greater tenacity than when they were green and alive, requiring some force to ranch or twist them off. The tropical climates they remain green much longer than in temperate countries, and their fall, when it does take place, is not just before the cold season, but during the hot dry season. Many of our own trees, as oaks and hornbeams, retain their leaves dried and withered till the pressure of the new distending bud in spring displaces them.

As in man the seeds of his decay are born with him so in the leafbud there may be discovered the rudiments of a very delicate layer of cells, whose plane is at right angles to the plane of the leaf. When the time comes, this upright growth of cell enlarges, pushing from above downward, cutting through the woody fibers of the stem like a knifeblade. Thereafter,

At every gust, how the dead leaves fall!

There are laughing in Mexico, Mo., over the strategy of an old gentleman who believes in having his family in bed in good season. Not long ago a young man called upon this old man's daughter and remained very late. The parent grew restless at this audacity and resolved upon harsh measures. Crawling out of bed and then down stairs he crept out under a window opening into the room where the victims were. Here he paused a moment for breath and then slapping his thighs he blared out a hearty crow. The hint was sufficient.

WOODWORTH CITY lies about 30 miles north of Chattanooga, within a few miles of Alabama, the county seat of Grundy county, and between Tracey City and the celebrated Bethesda Springs, the Saratoga of the South. It is in the centre of the rapidly developing coal and iron district of Tennessee, and within its confines are found coal, iron, zinc, marble and asbestos, with various hard woods, such as oak, chestnut, maple, peach, locust, hickory, ash, pine, cherry and black walnut in abundance. The village of 10,000, with several hundred inhabitants, contains churches, schools, stores, post-office and telegraph station, and a number of manufacturing industries, all of which are located on the property and form part of Woodworth City.

The process of the sale of these lots will be used to develop the mineral resources of the property and build up a large and thriving city. Quick application for these lots should be made, as the right is reserved to advance the price without notice.
