The Weather Today.

For North Carolina: Fair, colder Friday morning

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

On Friday: Fair weather, stationary temperature, northerly winds. Maximum temperature, 47; minimum temperature 31; rainfall 0.00.

The State Returning Board.

This important body met at 10 o'clock today in the hall of representatives in the Capitol to canvass the recent vote of the people of the state for the various officers. Although the board canvasses the returns for the state officials, Congressmen and Judges, the final canvass for Governor and Lieut. Governor is made by the legislature. The vote for Governor will however be computed and announced for the information of the public

Death of Capt. J. M. Pugh.

We regret to announce the death of this well known citizen of Wake county who died at his residence in Morrisville last night at 8 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Capt. Pugh was well known in Raleigh where he made frequent visits on business being a man of considerable wealth. He was we believe about 70 years of age and was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity. He was Master of Hiram lodge of this city, the members of which will leave tomorrow morning to attend the funeral.

A Noted Case.

A most important case will come before the United States Circuit Court next week, being a suit brought by Mrs. L. A. Crabtree vs. the Old Dominion Steamship Company. It is alleged by the plaintiff that the Old Dominion Co. is engaged as common carriers and that in the year 1889 she was a passenger on the steamer Manteo, from Washington to New Berne, N. C. During the voyage she fell while descending a stairway, sustaining serious injuries and that the accident was the fault of the defendants, owing to the want of proper lights. The damages claimed are $15,000. It will be a case of much interest, and the result is eagerly looked after.

The "Pathfinder," or railway guide for November, 1892, has been received. It is a voluminous pamphlet containing authentic information of some of the most important railways in the United States and Canada.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction reports that all the public schools have opened well with better teachers and the prospect of more thorough work.

About 1,700 churches will be represented in the Baptist State Convention here next week. The gain of membership during the year is said to have been 12,000.

A considerable number of strangers from different parts of the state are here attending the meeting of the state returning board.

We learn that among the buildings destroyed by fire at Fayetteville, is the law office of Justice McRea of the Supreme Court.

The average papa and mama will soon begin to puzzle their brains about what kind of a present will suit the little ones.

Work on the new wire from here to Richmond, Va., is rapidly progressing. It will go far to relieve the pressure of business.

It is not now thought that the case of Reid vs. Shaffer will be reached at the present term of the Federal Court.

There are now about 315 pupils at the white and colored Deaf and Dumb Institutions in this city.

The receipts of cotton today are quite heavy and prices well sustained.

Regular meeting of the board of aldermen tomorrow night.

Masonic.

Hiram lodge, No. 47, will meet this evening at 7:15 o'clock promptly to make arrangements for the burial tomorrow of Bro. P. M. J. M. Pugh, who died at Morrisville last night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired. Members of sister lodges cordially invited.

By order of the W. M. E. B. THOMAS, Sec.

Important Meeting.

A meeting of the geological board was held at the executive office yesterday and a full attendance was present. The state geologist, Prof. Holmes, submitted his biennial report for 1891 and 1892, which was accepted. It will be published at an early day. The following reports are also nearly ready for publication: The iron ores of North Carolina; the building stones; the mica and mineral localities; the forest trees and lumber industry, &c.

Died.

At her residence in this city, on South Dawson street, at 2:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Caroline P. Pennington, wife of Henry Pennington, Esq., aged 69 years, after a long and painful illness since the middle of last January. She leaves a devoted husband and a married daughter, the wife of Dr. S. F. Gardner, to mourn their loss. She was a devoted and consistent member of the Church of the Good Shepherd and had been a communicant of the Episcopal church for over fifty years. Mrs. Pennington was a native of Surry county, Virginia.

U. S. Circuit Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday afternoon:

United States vs. John B. Rayner, Johnston county; illicit distilling; verdict guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

United States vs. Alonzo Smith, Wake county; dealing in liquor without paying special tax; verdict guilty, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

United States vs. Julius W. Jones, Harnett county; illicit distilling; verdict not guilty.

United States vs. Fon Taylor, Johnston county; dealer in liquor without paying special tax; verdict not guilty.

TODAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

U. S. vs. R. J. Castlebury, Johnston county; illicit distilling; jury out.

U. S. vs. Henry Bond, Wake county; illicit distilling and retailing, &c. Pending the examination of witnesses in this case, court took a recess for dinner.

Mr. G. M. Jones has just returned from New Berne and other sections of Eastern North Carolina where he made arrangements to receive at all times the finest, best and freshest fish and oysters for his establishment in this city. In addition to his supply of salt water fish he has arranged to obtain them from fresh water, of which he will make a specialty. His stock is not to be excelled by any other dealer in Raleigh.

Dr. A. W. Goodwyn left the city this afternoon on a professional tour. He is accompanied by his wife who visits New York for treatment. The doctor will be absent about fifteen days.

We acknowledge the receipt of a handsomely gotten up pamphlet of the proceedings of the North Carolina press association held at Charlotte, July 27th, and 28th, 1892.

Hon. W. A. B. Branch, member of Congress from the First (N. C.) district, is in the city stopping at the residence of his mother, on Hillsboro street.

Fayetteville was visited by a most destructive fire early yesterday morning, the loss being estimated at about $40,000, with insurance at $18,000.

Our Rich Collection of Holiday Goods.

This season, we will make our display of fancy wares on our 2d floor. The lack of room on the 1st floor, to make a suitable exhibition of these articles, makes this change necessary, and we feel that it will be a great convenience to our patrons as well as ourselves, having all the fancy articles upon one floor. Our elevator will be at the disposal of visitors as early as 8 a. m. We cordially invite every one to see this extensive collection, whether they wish to buy or merely look through.
