THE PARTING HOUR.

[The following exquisite poem, says the Portland Evening Commercial, was written by the late Edward Pollock, the gifted California poet, on the 6th of January, 1877. It was given by the poet to a friend who was about to depart on a steamer for Oregon, Pollock saying: "Take this; you may perhaps read and appreciate the sentiment long after I have ceased to be among the living"]

There's something in the parting hour

Will chill the warmest heart
Yet kindred, comrades, lovers, friends,
Are fated all to part;
But this I've seen—and many a pang
Has pressed it on my mind—
The one who goes is happier
Than those he leaves behind.

No matter what the journey be,
Adventurous, dangerous far,
To the wild deep or black frontier,
To solitude or war;
Still something cheers the heart that dars

In all of human kind,
And they who go are happier
Than those they leave behind.

The bride goes to her husband's home
With doubtings and with tears,
But does not hope her rainbow spread

Across her cloudy fears?
Alas! the mother who remains,
What comfort can she find?
But this, the gone is happier
Than one she leaves behind.

Have you a friend—a comrade dear?
An old and valued friend?
Be sure your term of sweet concourse
At length will have an end!
And when you part—as part you will,
O, take it not unkind,
If he who goes is happier
Than you he leaves behind!

God will it so, and so it is;
The pilgrims on their way,
Though weak and worn more cheerful are

Than all the rest who stay;
And when at last, poor man subdued,
Lies down to death resigned,
May he not still be happier far
Than those he leaves behind?

Examinations for iron ores have now been made in about fifty counties of the state.

WOODWORTH CITY lies about 30 miles north of Chattanooga, within a few miles of Altamont, the county seat of Grundy county, and between Tracey City and the celebrated Beechey Springs, the Saratoga of the South. It is in the centre of the rapidly developing coal and iron district of Tennessee, and within its borders are found coal, iron, zinc, marble and asbestos, with various hard woods, such as oak, chestnut, maple, beech, locust, hickory, ash, pine, cherry and black walnut in abundance. The village of Gruettli, with several hundred inhabitants, contains Churches, Schools, Stores, Post-office and telegraph station, and a number of manufacturing industries, all of which are located on the property and form part of Woodworth City.

The proceeds of the sale of these lots will be used to develop the mineral resources of the property and build up a large and thriving city. Quick application for these lots should be made, as the right is reserved to advance the price without notice.
