

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, MONDAY, JANUARY 2, 1892.

NO. 58

CITY IN BRIEF.

No shows this week.
Button holing is now in order in earnest.
Hotels and boarding houses are beginning to fill up.
Another cold wave is upon us, but not so bad as the one last week.
Reporters are sharpening up their pencils for the legislature.
Days length nine hours and fifty minutes.
The banks were closed today it being a national holiday.
A happy New Year to all. May we live long and prosper.
Here's health to friend Raney. We welcome him again to the Old North State.
All can't get an office. After a friendly competition let there be a graceful yielding to the result.
Now didn't the snow get away yesterday, to the great disappointment of sleigh riders.
Yesterday was a terrible day under foot, but notwithstanding this, the churches had a fair attendance.
There will be a meeting of the Rescue Fire Company tonight at 7:30 o'clock.
We are pleased to see our friend Greek O Andrews in the city. He certainly does not look like a starved man.
Mrs. Cal. Upchurch returned yesterday evening from a visit to Wake Forest where she spent the Christmas holidays.
Several minor cases of disorderly conduct &c were before the mayor this morning. They were disposed of in the usual manner.
That was a ringing appeal of Mr. Alf. Thompson, of the Commercial and Industrial Association, and it ought to be heeded.
We are promised, at no distant day with some very interesting articles on the tobacco question, as well as on other topics of interest to the business men of Raleigh.
A farmer said today that the snow was worth thousands of dollars to Wake county. And so it has been to the sellers of rubber shoes. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."
That was a beautiful tribute paid by Secretary Coke to his predecessor Col. Saunders. It did credit to the head and heart of the incumbent, and was but a just tribute to departed worth.
We have heard it suggested, that if our friend Raney should give a public talk about his experience on the "Umbria," it would prove highly interesting. He need not charge anything unless he would like to help out St. John's Hospital or the Soldiers' Home.
We are in receipt of Fetter's Southern Magazine for January 1892. It is a splendid monthly published at Louisville, Ky., by Fetter & Shober for the small price of $2.50 per annum, 25 cents a number.
Col. F. A. Olds is getting ready for his reportorial campaign during the session of the General Assembly. There is no such word as fail with the "Col." He gets there always on schedule time.
Do not forget the New Year's reception tonight at Rev. J. J. Hall's residence corner of North Person street and Oakwood Avenue. Dr. Hall and wife will be pleased to see not only all the members of the Tabernacle church, but all their friends also.
Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. L. R. Wyatt, proprietor of the Oak City Steam Laundry. Persons having shirts, collars, cuffs, &c. to laundry should send them in. There is nothing that sets a man off to better advantage than a neatly done up shirt, and the Oak City Laundry is the place to have it done.

Important.

The meeting of the Commercial and Industrial Association in this city on the 5th inst., is a matter of the utmost importance, and should be well attended. It is a movement in the right direction.

Sale of Property.

The house belonging to the Mrs. Mary Morehead estate, on East Hargett street, occupied by Mr. Frank Redford, was sold at auction today, and purchased by Mr. M. W. Woodard for $2,650.

Emancipation.

The colored people of Raleigh today celebrated the anniversary of Lincoln's emancipation proclamation. There was a considerable crowd participating the services being held in Metropolitan hall. Addresses were delivered by Hon. Mr. Smallwood, (colored) of Massachusetts, and others.

A Handsome Entertainment.

Last night "Aunt Mandy" gave her annual treat to the police force and a number of invited guests at her place of business on East Wilmington street. A splendid menu was gotten up to which all present did the highest justice. "Aunt Mandy" is a regular institution in the epicure line in Raleigh. She is popular, and deservedly so.

Members of the Legislature Notice.

You will have a joint meeting to night of the Democrat and Republican representatives and senators to decide if they will go in a body or by fours to D. T. Swindell's store and get a new hat as he is having a Red Letter sale and not only hats but the entire stock in Swindell's mammoth store will be sold at exactly whole sale cost. Attend strictly to Swindell's Red Letter Sale.

The General Assembly.

This body, freshly chosen by the people of North Carolina will assemble in this city on Wednesday next. To say that they are cordially welcomed by the citizens of Raleigh goes without saying. We congratulate them one and all and hope that their labors may be such as to redound to the interest of the entire state.

It is the opinion of those well versed in such matters, that the personnel of the body is over the average in point of intellect, and there is an abiding faith that all measures brought before it, will receive the most earnest and careful consideration. There is much to be done, and under the constitutional restriction, but a comparatively short time for work. With prompt action, however on the part of committees rapid progress can be made.

The VISITOR has made arrangements to give its readers the benefit of a report of each days session up to the time of going to press. This will be done in a condensed style, giving the most important transactions.
Again we welcome the members, who are now coming in, and wish them all a pleasant temporary sojourn at the Capital.

Road Congress.

It is expected that the Governor will call the Road Congress about the middle of January. This is a most important matter, and it is hoped that beneficial results may follow. It must be said to our disadvantage that the roads in North Carolina are not in keeping with many of the other States, and it certainly operates against the farming interest where there are no facilities in the shape of railroads. The betterment of our roads is a question that should be solved. So far as we are concerned we must think that the taxation system would work better and fairer all around.

Meteorological Data.

For the vicinity of Raleigh the data is for 1891 as follows: Barometer, mean actual 29.68 inches; highest, 29.22; lowest, 28.96; range 1.26

Have an Object.

We said last spring we would move from Raleigh which we should have done if we could have sold near enough out. This time we have a Red Letter sale and the result of this sale will determine our move.

Yours truly,
D. T. Swindell's.

Evening Fabrics.

During the week beginning Monday, January 2d, we will make a special display of Evening Dress Textures. In this collection of dress materials will be found a liberal assortment of inexpensive qualities. These will be shown upon tables near our elevator, and may be seen in the evening, as well as during the day. This exhibition is worthy of careful consideration.
