ODD FELLOW'S COLUMN.

We were glad to meet so many of our brethren, from different parts of the state, during this week, in attendance upon the Masonic Grand Lodge. We would gladly mention by name, all of them, if memory would serve or space allow.

The new lodge at Mount Olive will be installed next Tuesday evening, January 17th, by District Deputy W. M. Collins of Goldsboro who will probably be assisted by the Grand Secretary and others.

The retiring Grand Master of the Masonic fraternity is an Odd Fellow and we note with pleasure that the second and third highest officers now are likewise of our friendly order.

Have any of our brethren thought about how the financial condition of his lodge stands? If not you are failing in your duty to your lodge. Upon the proper management of the fiscal concerns of a lodge depends its existence, and unless there be a system there can be no safety.

Here, we keep laying on expense while we never increase the income but sometimes decrease it. No lodge will ever accumulate anything unless it systematizes its finances and puts its resources above its expenses.

To frankly say I don't know, is honest, simple and unpretending. It is folly to seem to know what you do not know. But to glory in being ignorant is a sin and a shame to any reasoning being.

Never forsake a brother. When enemies gather around, when sickness falls on the heart, when the world is dark and cheerless, it is time to try true friendship. The heart that has been touched with pure gold will redouble its effort when the brother is sad and in trouble.

Public meetings of fraternal Orders are the means of bringing before the uninitiated their great work in helping the poor and distressed and showing them what is meant by these secret orders. Many a man has received a better impression of fraternal orders by these public exercises, and became soon thereafter himself enrolled among the great army of workers under the banner of fraternity.

THIS COLD WEATHER

An Atlanta man tells the Constitution the cause of such cold weather. Listen:

"Do you know where the comet has gone?" asked one of our citizens. "Well," he continued, "I'll tell you that in my opinion, it hasn't gone anywhere. I think it is here—all about us. We are daily breathing comet, sneezing comet and feeling comet. We can't see it and probably don't smell it, but when the astronomers lost it I think it was because we ran into it, or it over us, before we knew it. The cold and unsettled weather throughout the world must be due to the presence in our path of a vapor that absorbs, or intercepts the heat of the sun. You know some of the savants of the skies said the comet was only a caper spread throughout a mighty area of space, luminous by absorption or reflection at a great distance from us, but invisible if about us, and contained not enough solid matter to make a handfull. I believe we are taking a prolonged comet bath—and I don't like it. I'd rather stay two hours in a Turkish bath than two weeks in the bosom of the comet."

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

REMARKS ON THE WEATHER.

There ain't no use in growlin' 'bout the weather—yet we will; If you give a man jes' what he like you'll find he's growin' still; There ain't no way o' pleasin' him—there ain't no use to try; So that's why they run the business like they want to in the sky!

When it's summer he's a wishin' it was winter—mad and grum; Jes' prayin' for the frosty winds an' icicles to come; An' when he gets his winter he's for summer—an' that's why They kinder run the business like they want to in the sky. —Billville Banner.

NOT FOR TWO OLD GEESE

Boston Transcript. Some people, who went down into Mississippi and took a plantation, had a black woman in their employ who was very pious. This fact did not prevent her one week from stealing a couple of geese belonging to a neighbor. This crime was found out and properly reprobated by the mistress of the plantation. Next Sunday the negro woman prepared to go to church, and announced that she would not be at home at the usual time because she was going to take communion. The mistress was astonished, and asked the woman if she thought that, in view of her recent performance, she was in a condition to take sacrament? The old black woman opened her eyes with astonishment. "La, mis", she exclaimed, "you think I'es gwine to miss my dear Jesus for two ol' geese?"

MRS. W. B. FRANCIS

Is the wife of one of the best known pharmacists in New Haven, doing business at 141 Dixwell Ave., and ex-president of the Connecticut Pharmaceutical Association. He says: "My wife was for several years in bad health, due to a complication of disorders. Friends persuaded her to take Hood's Sarsaparilla; she took 6 or 8 bottles and is certainly a great deal better since, in every way."

Complication of Diseases. All the summer found me a confirmed invalid, blood poor, appetite gone, bowels out of order, and I was miserable in mind and body. I read of such wonderful cures performed by Hood's Sarsaparilla that, at last, I thought I would try a bottle, as, if it didn't make me better, it could not make me worse. It did make me better, and on my third bottle I found myself almost

A firm of jewelers at Wilmington have a watch that is over a hundred years old, and recently, while taking a peep into this old relic they found in the case a piece of an old newspaper containing an advertisement dated Wilmington January 21, 1837. It was a notice given by ex-Governor E. B. Duley, stating that the board of directors call upon the stockholders of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad company for the first installment of stock, due April 1837. Accompanying the advertisement is the cut of a locomotive that is - - - - - On the old scrap of paper is also noticed the proceedings of congress in which the name of Daniel Webster is seen in a record of the yeas and nays on some question.

WOODWORTH CITY! In the heart of the Iron and Coal District of Tennessee.

Climate salubrious, never hot and never cold. Land unequalled for agricultural purposes, and mineral resources unlimited.

Table with columns for Lot size and Price per Lot. Includes entries for 1,000, 2,000, 3,000, 4,000, 500, and 800 lots.

WOODWORTH CITY lies about 30 miles north of Chattanooga, within a few miles of Altamont, the county seat of Grundy county, and between Tracey City and the celebrated Beersheba Springs, the Saratoga of the South. It is in the centre of the rapidly developing coal and iron district of Tennessee, and within its borders are found coal, iron, zinc, marble and asbestos, with various hard woods, such as oak, chestnut, maple, beach, locust, hickory, ash, pine, cherry and black walnut in abundance.

The proceeds of the sale of these lots will be used to develop the mineral resources of the property and build up a large and thriving city. Quick application for these lots should be made, as the right is reserved to advance the price without notice.
