GRANDMA'S BOY.

"Her little boy grows up so fast," said grandma, "that some sunny day, he'll wake and be a man at last, and wander from her far away. Oh, then, what shall his poor old grandma do?"

"Don't worry," said he, "I'll take care of you!"

"I fear her boy may soon forget," sighed grandma, "those who loved him here, and leave them with one scarce regret, maybe without one sigh or tear." A tender look beamed in his eyes of blue; he whispered, "Grandma, I'll take care of you!"

"But grandma will be very old, and only in the way, she fears," his chubby arms her neck enfold, his earnest eyes are full of tears. "And oft we give the old love for the new!"

"But, grandma," said he, "I'll take care of you!"

"I'll build for you a house so fine; and you shall have six easy chairs; dozens of servants when you dine, and lots of comforts everywhere!" While grandma smiled her knitting through, "Don't fret," said he, "for I'll take care of you!"

Dear grandma softly shades her eyes—The sunlight maybe makes them weep; Close to her heart her darling lies, Rocked in a calm and gentle sleep. And kisses fall upon the lips, so true, That said, "Don't worry; I'll take care of you!"

A missionary from Africa arrived in Omaha the other day, fell into the hands of the heathen and was sand-bagged and robbed. In all his experience in Africa he had never encountered the sandbag. He thinks Omaha is a good field for missionaries, but they should have their heads steel-armored.
