

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

January 19, 1893.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock by Lieut. Governor Dough-ton.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Newell of the Senate. The reading of the journals was dispensed with.

Mr. MacRae, of Robeson, moved that the Senate adjourn until tomorrow at 10 o'clock, in honor of General Lee's birthday. The motion was seconded by Mr. Day, and opposed by Mr. McDowell. The Senate adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Death in our Midst.

Last night at 8 10 o'clock Mr. Jos. Watson's spirit passed quickly out of this world, after much suffering. Mr. Watson came to Raleigh some thirty years ago and was recognized in our midst as a gentleman of the highest integrity. As a mechanic he had no superior. He represented the city as an Alderman for several terms and was always admired for his clear conception of matters effecting the city government. For several years he served as foreman of the shoe shop in connection with the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind institution and his proficiency and faithfulness to every duty won, not only the utmost confidence and respect of the officials, but closely attached him to the pupils. A faithful, honest and highly esteemed citizen has passed away. What we know not now, we shall know hereafter.

The funeral services will be held at the residence tomorrow, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, conducted by Dr. M. M. Marshall.

Morning papers will please give notice of the funeral.

The Road Congress.

This body was called to order at 11 o'clock by Governor Carr, after opening prayer by Rev. Dr. J. J. Hall. The delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Badger. After the full inauguration the following matters were presented for discussion.

1. The benefit of good roads, and the values saved by their use.
2. Is there any need at this time for the improvement of our public roads? The special reasons therefor.
3. The kind of railroads needed in various parts of North Carolina, and the best manner of keeping them in repair.
4. Ways and means for building good permanent public roads and maintaining them.
5. Suggestions for future organization and miscellaneous subjects. The congress will have afternoon and night sessions and will adjourn on Friday. The members of the legislature are cordially invited to be present, together with all citizens of the State who are interested in the condition of our public roads. All who attend will be considered delegates.

THINNING OUT PARTRIDGES

Charlotte News.

The big freeze has been severe on the partridges, and these birds will be scarce next season. Between the pot hunters who shoot them on the ground and the netters and trappers who get whole covies at a time, and the freeze, the minks and the hawks, the partridges are almost exterminated. The last legislature passed a law protecting 'possums, but the 'possum is a bird that cold weather never kills. Unless some protection is given the partridges from pot hunters, netters and trappers, the bird dogs in this country will soon find their occupation gone.

The reception of the governor and the inaugural ball last night was an immense success notwithstanding the inclement weather. There was a large attendance including many ladies.

The ceremonies in the Hall of the House of Representatives tonight on the occasion of the presentation of the democratic banner will be very interesting. If the weather should permit there will be a large attendance.

Mr. J. W. Scott, of Greensboro, is in the city.

Compliment.

Last evening at 8:30 o'clock the Edgecombe Guards proceeded to the residence of Mr. A. W. Haywood, on New Bern avenue, and escorted Gov. Holt to the reception tendered to the new state officials at the mansion. They were accompanied by a body guard of the Governor's Guard. This is a merited honor to our distinguished ex-governor.

Commercial Association.

The commercial and industrial association met at the mayor's office yesterday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock.

A committee of five was appointed to present the matter of a repeal of the merchants' purchase tax to the present session of the general assembly.

A committee of five was appointed to look after the interests of tobacco warehouse men in regard to taxation.

The committee appointed to look after the proper methods of banking in this state, suggested the appointment of a committee to confer with the legislative committee on banking to formulate a bill on the subject of state banks. Adopted.

A motion was adopted to appoint a committee to investigate insurance matters and suggest to the legislature the appointment of insurance commissioner.

President Alf A. Thompson was re-elected for the ensuing year and Mr. H. W. Ayer secretary. A vice president was selected from each congressional district.

SNOW PROVERBS.

Under water dearth, under snow bread.—Tuscan proverb.

For seven days snow is a mother, then it becomes a stepmother, and a scold nuisance.—Italian.

Corn (wheat) is as comfortable under the snow as an old man in a fur coat.—Russian.

If the sun falls on the snow, there will be snow and snow, and yet snow again.—Russian.

With good wine, good bread, and peace at home, if snow does come, let it come.—Italian.

An exchange remarks that "a dry corn cob will hold about kerosene enough to start a fire well if properly managed." And it will not blow the servant girl into kingdom come half as quick as the oil can.
