

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1893.

NO. 80

CITY IN BRIEF.

Mr. P. M. Wilson, is here.
Col. T. W. Strange, of Wilmington, is in the city.

Miss Elma Davis, of the Falls of Neuse, is visiting friends in the city.

Another cold wave is booked for tonight.

The street cars have resumed operation to the great comfort of the public.

Now let the general assembly give the Guilford Battle Ground Association an appropriation of $5,000.

We most deeply regret to learn that at latest accounts Mrs. W. J. Young is critically ill.

The joints and muscles are so lubricated by Hood's Sarsaparilla that all rheumatism and stiffness soon disappear. Try it.

The Soiree to be given this evening at Peace Institute to the State officers and members of the General Assembly, will, no doubt be an enjoyable affair. The doors will be opened at 7:30 o'clock.

Several legal gentlemen were engaged in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, arranging for the presentation to the General Assembly of the application to extend the limits of the city of Raleigh. We suppose the matter will come up at an early day, and as it will no doubt be referred to either the committee on "corporations or cities and towns" an opportunity will be afforded all citizens interested to have a hearing in the premises. At least, it is presumed, this courtesy will be allowed. It is a matter of too much importance not to receive calm and unbiased consideration.

Employment.

Secretary Atkinson of the Young Men's Christian Association keeps an employment register, and it would be well for every young man desiring something to do, to call and register his name. Applications are frequently made for stenographers, printers, &c. Applicants should call between 9 and 10 a. m.

Death of James G. Blaine.

A Western Union bulletin received here at 11 o'clock this morning, announced the death of this distinguished American citizen. Although his decease had been long expected, yet the announcement threw a gloom over our community. Mr. Blaine was conceded by all parties to have been one of the most brilliant intellects in the country.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Rain or snow by Saturday evening. Warmer Saturday night.

Local forecast made at station for this vicinity:

On Saturday: Colder threatening weather, with snow towards evening. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

Maximum temperature, 61; minimum temperature 35; rainfall, .00.

James G. Blaine Dead!

The Southern Publishing Company Raleigh, wants ten live men to canvass the city and county for the life and works (memorial volume) of the great statesman. The greatest of all; written by Dr. John C. Ridpatch, Ex-Gov. Connor and others. The only authentic history. Ten thousand books will be sold in North Carolina. Strike now? Call at office.

Speeding Bee.

We are certainly pleased to learn that the Y. M. C. A. intends repeating "The Selling Bee" Tuesday night.

An effort is being made to have the members of the Legislature spell against a class of ladies. This will be "fine fun."

The gymnasium class give a slight drill and the music will be furnished by the Pythian band.

Important Suit.

Complaint has been filed by B. Liles and others, sureties on the county bond of ex sheriff Rogers against the said Rogers and his sureties on the state bond for the year 1889 and 1890. The following explains the situation.

The point in the case is raised in the allegation that Mr. Rogers, as sheriff collected $2,700 of taxes under schedule "B," which is the merchants purchase tax, which taxes were due and belonged to Wake county and not to the state, and in his settlement with the state treasurer for the taxes due the state for the year 1890, that Mr. Rogers used this identical money so collected as aforesaid by him, to pay the taxes due the state. The sureties on the county bond allege that this was a breach of the condition of the state bond, and that the sureties thereon are liable to Liles and his co plaintiffs for $2,700. Messrs. Geo. H. Snow and J. C. L. Harris represent the defendants but have not yet filed their answer. The question at issue is a new and open one and has not been adjudicated in this state and is therefore, an interesting one to the legal profession. The action will probably be tried at the term which commences on February 27th, next. Messrs. Armistead Jones, R. H. Battle and W. H. Pace represent the plaintiffs.

Lecture.

The fourth of the series of lectures arranged by Prof. B. Irby will be delivered tonight at the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Public invited.

Railroad Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon there was a meeting of the Committee on railroads and railroad companies in the Supreme Court room for the purpose of discussing matters relative to the taxes of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad. The President and Vice President were present, and the city of Wilmington was represented by several prominent citizens.

When told that tobacco hurts them; their wives never do, because shattered nerves, weak eyes, chronic catarrh and lost manhood, tells the story. ## Did You Ever Ride After An Ox Team?

If you have it is unnecessary for me to say you didn't "get along" very fast or satisfactory. I venture, you would not accept a free ticket for New York in a car drawn by them. You wisely prefer the more modern method of travel—a Pullman car attached to an express train. Yet are you aware there are people who actually prefer the ox team. They have been brought up to it, and fail to grasp the fact that there is a newer and better way. Gentle reader do you know that half the people in Raleigh are riding after ox teams? No. Well, it is a fact, I don't mean they have started on a trip behind a yoke of oxen, holding a "gad" in one hand and yelling "gee, haw Buck, go along now." What I do mean is this: Many Raleigh people fail to appreciate the advantages and understand the difference between trading at a modern Cash Store and one clinging to methods in force in the days when mules and oxen were in general use for means of travel. As the present railroad system is an improvement over ox teams, so is business conducted on a spot cash basis (as Swindell's) an improvement over the elastic priced credit system. To simply pay cash for what you buy is not enough, you must secure the fullest advantages, buy of an establishment that sells for cash only, and has the courage to refuse credit to any one. Will a Bank lend you money without interest? Will an Insurance Company insure your house without you pay a premium? No indeed, neither will a merchant extend you credit without making you pay for it, and many of them are modern Shylocks, hence demand a rate well nigh impossible to pay and live.

Yours Truly,
D. T. SWINDELL.
