ODD FELLOW'S COLUMN.

We are informed that two of our city lodges have appointed special committees to thoroughly investigate their financial systems with a view of improvement if possible. We think this is a move in the right direction, and we feel sure these committees will find it a very interesting subject, and one which will open up large fields of thought. We hope good will result to the lodges from these investigations.

A petition for a new lodge at Roper City in Washington county has been forwarded to the Grand Master who has the same under consideration. Roper is a thriving young town with large manufacturing industries, located on the Norfolk Southern R. R. between Mackies Ferry and Bell Haven, near the large Juniper Swamp.

Look out for the man who is always telling you of a brother's fault. He will bear watching.

He is a true Odd Fellow who tries with all his power to live in accord with the lessons the Order imparts. The lot in which the Odd Fellow's hall at San Francisco stands cost the Order $125,000.

There are over 1,500 Odd Fellows in New York who have held continuous membership over 25 years.

Every brother should have the utmost confidence in the welfare of the lodge in which he holds membership.

There is nothing more unreasonable than a man who thinks nothing right except what he himself has done.

The trustees of the Odd Fellows' Home and National Sanitarium of Jacksonville, Florida, reports the receipt of $4,373.73 from 37 states, the sums donated ranging from $5.50 to $600, the latter sum having been given by the lodges of Ohio.

The principles of Odd Fellowship plainly requires us to do good to all men. We are expected to assist our brothers in their necessities and distresses, to sympathize with them in their afflictions and sorrows, as well as to rejoice in prosperity.

The principles embodied in the motto "Friendship, Love and Truth" if practiced by every member of the human race would render courts, jails, and almshouses unnecessary institutions. May the day soon arrive when all men shall live in accordance with these principles.

Brothers should never forget that it is the right and privilege of the lodge to watch over all the conduct of the members, not only in the lodge room, but in their intercourse with the world at large. In other words, members are amenable to the lodge for their conduct at all times, whether at home or abroad.

EVERY YOUNG MAN when starting out in life, should become a member of an Odd Fellows' lodge. No matter how fair the prospects before him there may be lurking on the wayside a hidden foe that may strike him unaware and at one fell swoop the strong man may be robbed of hope and become an object for the exercise of those qualities of brotherly kindness found only in such orders. The cost for such provision against "fate" is small compared with its prospective benefits. Even aside from the question of dollars and cents, the influences thrown around the young are such as to turn them away from many of the snares set for their feet and lead them into paths where they may grow into useful and ornamental members of society. The teachings of the order are ennobling. If followed, they lead to honor and profit. There are no downward grades in the ways and by-ways of Odd Fellowship; they all lead upward, and any member who may at any time be found upon a lower level can be set down as having forsaken the well beaten paths, they are strays from the fold. It is impossible for a young man to enter a lodge and participate actively in its work and business without being benefited. If the contrary should at any time be found to be the case, it is the fault of the person and not of the order. It is a school where the true and pure rudiments of life may be learned and practiced—where the firmest foundation for age may be laid and strongly cemented. The doors are opened for the worthy, then let them enter therein.

From Odd Fellow papers published in different sections of the country we see that quite a number of lodge rooms have recently been burglarized and visiting cards stolen. We would advise all lodges and encampments to be very careful about recognizing visiting cards and be sure not to advance any money until the bearers lodge is communicated with and authorized it. There are plenty of worthy brethren needing assistance without wasting anything on frauds and dead beats.

REAL MERIT

Is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested every day in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more, proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use. This positive merit Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses by virtue of the peculiar combination. Proportion and process used in its preparation, and by which all the remedial value of the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus peculiar to itself and absolutely unequalled in its power as a blood purifier, and as a tonic for building up the weak and weary, and giving nerve strength.

BEATS "UNCLE REMUS."

A queer rabbit story comes from Davidson, N. C. Mr. John Hedrick killed a very large rabbit during the snow. It had a large raised place on the inside of the left hind leg which he cut into and found between the flesh and hide two leather wing-bats, which were full of... The bats were fastened to the flesh of the rabbit by a leader or something similar. There was not a broken piece in the hide until Mr. Hedrick cut it.—Durham Star.

Wounded at Gettysburg

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "I was in the Army of the Potomac and in the great battle of Gettysburg was struck in the ankle by a minnie ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 8 years

My Wound Broke Open afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy. I tried everything I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my Blood Became Poisoned and it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I got I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving, and after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any sign of reappearing." GEORGE M. HAMMOND, 219 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Col. C. A. Weaver

Commander of Root Post, G. A. R., himself a one armed veteran, fully confirms Mr. Hammond's statement, and J. L. Belden, the pharmacist, also endorses it.

WOODWORTH CITY lies about 30 miles north of Chattanooga, within a few miles of Atlanta, the county seat of Grundy county, and between Tracey City and the celebrated Beerheba Springs, the Saratoga of the South. It is in the centre of the rapidly developing coal and iron district of Tennessee, and within its borders are found coal, iron, zinc, marble and asbestos, with various hard woods, such as oak, chestnut, maple, beech, locust, hickory, ash, pine, cherry and black walnut in abundance. The village of Grundy, with several hundred inhabitants, contains Churches, Schools, Stores, Post office and telegraph station and a number of manufacturing industries, all of which are located on the property and form part of Woodworth City.

The proceeds of the sale of these lots will be used to develop the mineral resources of the property and build up a large and thriving city. Quick application for these lots should be made, as the right is reserved to advance the price without notice.
