Mrs. Jones Miller, in answer to the question whether hoo's will be worn, says: 'No; not by sensible women'

There is only a very little difference between talking Hawaii and taking Hawaii. If it were the English, they could very easily drop the "I" and go in.

The Cincinnati Post says, the early snake that crawled out of the young lady's mouth at South Melville, N. J., and was seized and killed, was more obliging than stomach snakes have heretofore proved. The report does not give the size, but we suspect it was a python 16 feet long and large enough to swallow a dog.

The Ohio and her tributaries are up and raging. To all those who are not in danger, the music of running water will be a pleasant herald of spring. It is sometimes boisterous like the March wind, but its rough play is delightfully suggestive of the first blade of grass.

Who will discover a way to keep insane prisoners safe and yet not beyond the reach of rescue in case of fire. Another asylum full has been roasted at Dover, New Hampshire. It is a good illustration of the orthodox hell, but is hardly justifiable for such a purpose.—Cincinnati Post.

If Your House is on Fire You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which permanently cures catarrh.

STATE BANKS OF ISSUE.

Correspondence of the Visitor. Vicious financial legislation has already depreciated property at least one-half during the last twenty years, and now, to make the wreck complete, it is proposed to go back and inaugurate the old wild cat system of State Banks that ruined the country fifty years ago.

A little history of the blessings the people received from this same system then, if heeded now, might not be without wholesome effect.

The statistics of the United States show that in 1836 there were in circulation in the United States $149,885,800 in State Bank notes and $27,031,476 in specie. Now we should not forget that none of these bank notes were money, neither could they be made money, because the constitution of the United States emphatically prohibits any state from making anything a legal tender but coined gold and silver.

At this time the United States had $49,000,000 in specie deposited in thirty-six of these banks. On October 1st, 1836 President Jackson ordered these deposits transferred to the vaults of the United States treasury. Now just how to pay $49,000,000 with $27,000,000 was a feat they could not perform. What was the result? Suspension. This precipitated the panic of 1837, which left the people in the awful condition so graphically described by Henry Clay in the course of a speech delivered in the senate of the United States. He said: "The revolutions of 1837 produced a far greater havoc than was experienced in the period above mentioned. The ruin came quick and fearful. There were few that could save themselves. Property of every description was parted with at sacrifices that were astounding and as for the currency, there was scarcely any at all. In some parts of the interior of Pennsylvania, the people were obliged to divide bank notes into halves, quarters, eighths, and so on, and agree from necessity to use them as money. In Ohio, with all her abundance, it was hard to get money to pay taxes. The sheriff of Muskingum county, as stated in the Gunsey Times, in the summer of 1842, sold at auction one four horse wagon at $5.00; ten hogs at 6 1/2 cents each; two horses (said to be worth $50, to $75 each) at $1, each; two cows at $7, each; a barrel of sugar $1.50, and a store of goods at that rate. In Pike county Missouri, as stated by the Hannibal Journal, the sheriff sold three horses at $1.50 each; one large ox at 1 1/2 cents; five cows, two steers and one calf, the lot at $3.25; twenty sheep at 1 1/2 cents each; twenty-four hogs at 25 cents for the lot; one-eight day clock at $3.50; lot of tobacco, seven or eight hogsheads at $5; three stacks of hay at 25 cents each."

If the professional politician, who then as now, ruled the country, learn nothing from that awful lesson? No! As a rule, when a man becomes to be a professional politician, he parts company with honesty, philanthropy and patriotism. Had the state bank notes been green backs, there would have been no panic.

The history of state banks is, that the people's distress is their harvest and when the people are bankrupt the banks are wealthiest. The people were barren of money but the politicians persistently refused to let the United States government discharge its plain constitutional duty of furnishing the people with a sufficiency of safe and sound money, based upon the credit of the nation. The notes of these banks were not money at all, but they were permitted to pass as such because it was Hobson's choice.

In 1857 the statements of the banks showed the following condition: Bank notes in circulation, $83,313,267 Due depositors, 129,764,757

Total liabilities, $204,077,026 Bank stocks, etc., at par, 320,152,891 Specie, 12,970,498

Total assets, $333,123,389 Assets over liabilities, $129,046,368

The remarkable part of this statement is that it shows there was not ten cents in the dollar in legal money in the hands of these banks to pay their indebtedness.

Just at this juncture the Ohio Life and Trust Company failed for $7,000,000. At once the New York banks began to hedge; they called in, between August 23 and October 17, $7,000,000, resulting in a crisis, which ended in a panic in which fifty banks suspended in two days, and again the country was swept as if by fire.

No state bank system can be a success because state bank notes cannot be made money. Nor will they be taken at par outside of the community in which they are issued. There can be no law to force any one to accept them as money.

MEDICUS.

SATISFACTION Is guaranteed to every consumer of HOOD'S Sarsaparilla. One hundred doses in every bottle. No other does this.

It is said that overskirts are coming in vogue again. A philosopher might have prophesied their advent. When skirts have been as tight and plain as possible, human nature, fond of change, begins to invent looseness and furbelows. To go from spare shapes to those which are voluminous is a provoking alteration for women who practice economy. What is full can be made narrow, but what is narrow can with difficulty be made full. But ingenuity has proposed a plan. Shirred pieces are put on the hips. The shirring is about nine inches deep, then the goods hangs loose almost to the bottom of the skirt, where it is finished with fringe. The fashion plates are showing tentative designs of overskirts in several modes. Thus far the seeker of a pattern is apt to say: "Overskirts? I don't like them," but we know not what a season may bring forth. By June we may all say: "Give us over skirts, or give us death."

Let us have a reputation of the "Mascot." There is a general demand for it. It was too fine a production for only one rendition.

Why is HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Such a great success, and why is it impossible for other Sarsaparillas and blood purifiers to compete with this great medicine? Because

No Other Sarsaparilla or blood purifier gives as much medicine for the money as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla has the careful personal supervision of the proprietor in all the details of its preparation, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla has the merit to secure the confidence of entire communities and hold it year in and year out, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla can produce from actual cures such wonderful statements of relief given to human suffering as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla possesses the Combination, Proportion and Process Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and which makes Hood's Sarsaparilla in curative effect Peculiar to itself.

No Other Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength as does Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the only preparation of which can truly be said, 100 Doses $1.

No Other Sarsaparilla has effected such remarkable cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla, of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, blood poisoning and all other blood diseases.

No Other Sarsaparilla has equalled Hood's Sarsaparilla in the relief it gives in the severest cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Heartburn, and other stomach disorders.

No Other Sarsaparilla overcomes That Tired Feeling, Restores the Appetite, and "Makes the Weak Strong," like Hood's Sarsaparilla N. B. If you decide to take Hood's do not be induced to take any other.
