RESCUE THE UNFORTUNATE CHILDREN.

Some one has said "Show me the adult and I will tell you how the child was reared."

Now that our legislature is in session and are tinkering upon the law relative to the suppression of crime, seeking to lessen it by enacting statutes for the speedy punishment of criminals, would it not be wise for them to begin at the foundation so far as practicable? There are great numbers of children who from their manner of rearing, necessarily become vicious and more or less criminal in character. Such children are to be pitied more than blamed.

The children of the pauper and thriftless classes are taught by their parents to beg and are sent out by them on the street and from house to house, using all manner of misrepresentations and deception in order to succeed, and soon they become criminals. And what else could be expected of them? The parents are the ones who should be held accountable.

There are those in this city, and we presume in every city in the state who send their children out day after day to beg on the streets and from house to house. Some wise legislation is greatly needed along this line. People should not be permitted to make criminals of their children, or to subject them to that sort of environment that will educate them downward.

We should have, in the first place, such laws as will take the children from such parents, and we should have, in the second place, an asylum for them where they can be reared under proper influences. This would be expensive, it is true, but not half so expensive to the state as the thousands of these so-called homes which in reality are vice-training schools and apprentice houses for crime. As the years go by, generation after generation of these crime-taught creatures go out from these homes of squalid poverty and vice to burden the courts, and to continue the propagation of their kind while our laws strike only at the branch of this great Upas tree. What we need as much as possible is to tear it up by the roots. If necessary break up these homes, if taking the children will do it.

But you say it will cost a great deal to do all this. Well, suppose it does, are we sit supinely by and permit this business of schooling children into criminals to go on because it costs a little money? While thousands of dollars of the public money is being expended in lines where one tithe of the benefit to the state cannot be expected that would accrue from a vigorous step in this direction. Advocates for immigration say that every industrious citizen added to the population is worth $1,500 to the state. Criminals are not only of no value, but are an expense of many hundred dollars each to the state. Then for every one hundred children thus taken and reared so as to become moderately good citizens, the state is enriched to the extent of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. To say nothing of what is saved in the prosecution and maintenance of criminals, such as they most likely would become if reared in these criminal producing environments, and of the betterment of society generally.

Let some of our wise legislators formulate a bill that will do this work, so greatly needed; not that sort of legislation which provides for the punishment of young criminals so much, but for the punishment of those who teach them crime or rear them in such a way as to prepare them for crime. Poor things, they are in the world and like most of us are, and will be what they are made by environments. We greatly need less so called economy along this line, and much more, very much more, along other lines.

ODD FELLOW'S COLUMN.

We were pleased to meet Grand Reps. W. A. Bobbitt and Jno. F. Bruton who spent a few days in the city this week.

Bro. R. N. Hackett and others, of Kesboro, who were here in the interest of certain legislation, this week, gave us encouraging news from their part of the vineyard.

The petition for a lodge at Moncure has been accepted and a lodge will be organized there in the near future. Cape Fear Lodge, No. 3, at Wilmington, now has the largest membership in the state.

A private letter from the secretary of Atlantic, No. 43, says that lodge is in a flourishing condition.

One of the little orphans at our orphan home died during the past week.

The average member says: "Give me benefits or give me death."

"Just figures to the dogs. I want my benefits."

"But my dues down all you like but don't interfere with my benefits."

There are about forty Odd Fellow frauds abroad in the land and a majority of them are very slick rascals. It is almost a daily occurrence that we read of some Subordinate Lodge or big hearted member who has been "taken in" by these scoundrels. In nine cases out of every ten the Lodges and members are to blame for being imposed upon. The "victims" generally commence to use the telegraph after they have been fleeced, and when it is too late it will only cost a very small sum to ascertain whether they are frauds or not. Be on the lookout for them, for one is liable to catch on you any time. Satisfy yourself beyond a doubt before giving money or aid to an traveler claiming to be an Odd Fellow.

THE PAST GRAND YOU SOMETIMES MEET—The Past Grand is a biped of the genus homo. He is unusually an enthusiastic Odd Fellow during the early stage of his career—that is before he becomes a Past Grand. After he attains that exalted rank a change in his nature begins to manifest itself. As a rule he loses his energy. He becomes so weak that he cannot ascend the short flight of steps leading to his lodge room; he begins to lose his memory and cannot recall the night of the week upon which his Lodge meets. After being in this condition for a long or shorter time, he finds his way into the Lodge room at irregular intervals, and as a rule on the occasion of such visits he reads the boys the riot act about some trivial affair. He seems to possess a swelled head, and to have an exaggerated idea of his own greatness. He wants everyone to know that he is a Past Grand. He becomes a fault finder and a kicker. He finds so many defects in Odd Fellowship and Odd Fellows that his hearers wonder why in the world he ever became a member of the Order. This state of affairs exists until at last our Past Grand fails to attend his Lodge at all, and some evening he is dropped for non payment of dues, and strange to say no one is sorry.

There is also another type of the Past Grand. Upon becoming a Past Grand he fills his chair every night; attends his Lodge regularly; always has a kind word for his brothers; gives a word of advice here and fatherly admonition there; attends to his duties promptly as committeeman; strives to get new members for the Lodge; never wearies in well doing; keeps his dues paid; and seems to grow younger as the years roll on; remembers that Odd Fellowship is progressive in its character and strives to have his Lodge keep abreast of the times; favors improvements of all kinds, and gains the esteem of his brothers.

My brother Past Grand to which class do you belong?—"1887," in Herald.

Mr. S. G. Derry

Of Providence, R. I., widely known as proprietor of Derry's Waterproof Harness Oil, tells below of his terrible sufferings from Eczema and his cure by

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent

Thousands of Dollars in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day. Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My but the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend

Hood's Sarsaparilla from personal experience." S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford street, Providence, R. I.

WOODWORTH CITY lies about 30 miles north of Chattanooga, within a few miles of Altsmont, the county seat of Grundy county, and between Tracey City and the celebrated Beersheba Springs, the Saratoga of the South. It is in the centre of the rapidly developing coal and iron district of Tennessee, and within its borders are found coal, iron, zinc, marble and asbestos, with various hard woods, such as oak, chestnut, maple, beech, locust, hickory, ash, pine, cherry and black walnut in abundance. The village of Gravelly, with several hundred inhabitants, contains Churches, Schools, Stores, Post-office and telegraph station and a number of manufacturing industries, all of which are located on the property and form part of Woodworth City.

The proceeds of the sale of these lots will be used to develop the mineral resources of the property and build up a large and thriving city. Quick application for these lots should be made, as the right is reserved to advance the price without notice.
