

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1893.

NO. 111

CITY IN BRIEF.

Mrs. B. R. Jolly is critically ill. This is typical March weather. Durham is fully represented at Washington today. Mr. A. Leazer of Iredell is the expected coming man for Superintendent of the Penitentiary.

After the grip, when you are weak and "played out," Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore your health and strength.

The Hillsboro Recorder has finished its 70th year. It is still on the high road to prosperity and bids fair for a long lease of life yet.

Read the advertisement of L. R. Wyatt who has for sale the New Era hydraulic clothes machine. It should be in the hands of every housekeeper.

The House of Representatives today passed a contingent appropriation of $25,000 to the penitentiary to be used only in case the governor should deem it necessary.

The Goldsboro Headlight comes to us today like a new bride. It has a new dress and has abolished the patent business, the entire paper now being printed in the office. It is a good paper, well edited and presents a fine appearance.

The appropriation of $10,000 by the legislature for the erection of a quarantine station at the mouth of Cape Fear River is a step in the right direction. That the danger of a visitation of cholera is imminent, all admit, and it is clearly the better part of wisdom to do all we can to keep it from our shores.

We learn that Gen. R. R. Cox will be a candidate for the principal clerkship of the U. S. Senate. We most sincerely hope that he may succeed. There is no man in the country who would better grace that high and important position than Gen. Cox. His fine ability, added to his urbanity, peculiarly fits him for such a place.

The attention of the public is specially called to the advertisement of Mr. Charles Bretsch the champion ice cream dealer whose place of business is at 103 Fayetteville street, on the first square this side of the capitol. Here can be found one of the most complete ice cream saloons in the country where all the delicious varieties can be had. The attention of the ladies is specially directed to the fact that the most complete arrangements are made for their reception. Call and see for yourselves.

The tobacco trust bill is causing much comment. Here is a synopsis of it.

It provides that no person shall, after May 1st, operate any leaf tobacco warehouse without obtaining an annual license. Any combination by any persons or corporations within the state with any association without the state which prevents, or intends to prevent full and fair competition in the purchase of leaf tobacco, or which shall tend to suppress bidding for leaf tobacco sold in open market, or to cause sales at less prices than would otherwise be commanded, is declared against public policy fraudulent and unlawful. No corporation as above described shall bid for leaf tobacco at any public sale or any warehouse under penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000 fine, or imprisonment for not less than one nor more than three years, each day violation of the act constituting a separate offence.

Amusing our School Children.

Prof. G. H. Pray gave a very amusing entertainment to the children of Murphey Graded school yesterday afternoon and to those of Centennial. Prof. Pray is a famous performer of oriental exercises, Chinese silver ball playing, plate and bowl spinning, &c. He is popular in his professions and gives an entertainment equal if not superior to anything of the kind we have ever seen.

Beautiful Music.

It is not generally known perhaps that the Tabernacle Baptist Sunday school has a splendid orchestra, consisting of first and second cornet, violin, flute, piano and organ to lead its song service. With these instruments and four to five hundred voices the music they make is grand and beautiful. The school meets at 9:15 a. m. and spends 20 minutes in song service in organ and 15 minutes in its closing.
