

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, MONDAY, MARCH 6, 1893.

NO. 112

CITY IN BRIEF.

Farewell to the law makers
The spring poet has not so far, put in his appearance.
There will be a meeting of the Rescue Fire Company tonight. Prompt attendance desired.
The farmers are anxiously waiting for good weather. They are much behind in their work.
Mr. Jno. C. George, president of the Raleigh Street Railway Company, is in the city.
Mrs. C. H. Beine continues quite ill.
It is a but simple act of justice to say, that Senator Olive has made a most efficient representative of our county. On all occasions he has acted with dignity and endeared himself to his colleagues by his zeal and urbanity.
Speaker Overman is the recipient of compliments on all sides for the splendid manner in which discharged his duties. As a presiding officer he has had but few equals in North Carolina, and no superior. He is what might be termed a real "hustler" at the business.

It is a fact, beyond all dispute that Water R. Newsom, the popular grocer, 214 South Wilmington street, is carrying one of the best stocks to be found, not only in Raleigh but in North Carolina, embracing every thing that is usually found in a first class fancy and heavy goods grocery. There is no place where the housewife can fill the larder to better advantage. "Walter" knows just how to suit the tastes of the public.

The time for brushing up the house, generally, is about at hand, and with it, comes a re-arrangement of furniture for the spring and summer months. There is necessarily much to renovate; and new sets of furniture are needed in many instances. For instance, summer rocking chairs, settees, &c. The little ones are to be looked after also, and baby carriages suitable for pleasant weather must be secured. Now these necessary supplies for the household can be had on the most moderate terms at the celebrated emporium of Thomas & Maxwell, Exchange Place, south side of market. Here everything that the fancy can suggest in the furniture line can be found. There is no way to find out the merits of the superb stock but to call and inspect it. New Home sewing machine needle and oil on hand. Ask for them.

Acknowledgment

It has been our privilege to attend in the reportorial line all the sessions of the State Senate since the assembling of the present legislature, and we feel that it is incumbent upon us to make proper acknowledgment of the many courtesies extended to us by the officials of the body. We are indebted in the highest degree to Chief Clerk Burkhead, Assistant Chief Clerk Pell, Doorkeeper Clinton and his assistants, and to the pages for their many acts of kindness. To Mr. Burkhead we are under peculiar obligations for his kind assistance in many cases where it would have been impossible for us to have rendered a proper report without it. His genial manner and obliging offerings will always be remembered. He is certainly the right man in the right place. To our friend Clinton we tender our most sincere thanks. He is a natural born doorkeeper and no cleverer gentleman walks the earth. To all the pages we extend thanks, but we are under peculiar obligations to our young friend Master Waitt, son of the late D. S. Waitt, who took particular pains to serve us. To each and all we are gratefully hoping that we may meet again under similar circumstances.

The following appointments were made by the Governor this morning and confirmed by the Senate in executive session:
Superintendent of the penitentiary, A. Leazar, of Iredell District; L. E. Green, Halifax; F. S. Spruill, Franklin; T. J. Armstrong, Pender; A. B. Young, Currituck; Frank Troutman, Wake.
Directors in Industrial and Normal School—M. C. S. Noble, 11th district; S. M. Finger, 7th district; R. D. Gilmer, 9th district.

A Great Invention.

We briefly alluded, in our issue of Saturday, to the New Era hydraulic clothes washer offered for sale by Mr. L. R. Wyatt, of this city. There never has been in the history of patents in this country one of more use to the world generally than this, and it is destined to work a complete revolution in the matter of saving labor. The claims of its invention are good in all respects. We enumerate them as follows:
It claims to wash all varieties of goods, from the finest lace to the coarsest carpets, perfectly clean, without rubbing or boiling, without the use of chemicals or any destructive process or preparations, asking only for good soap and water.
It claims to do fully washings in one fourth of the time required by any other process and without any objectionable features.
It claims to have a washer that is simple in construction and easily understood, that is durable, without any parts to get out of order or repair.
It claims that when you have seen and understood its operation you will buy one, that you will like it and recommend it as a perfect success, and the only washer you ever saw that will take the place of the rub board.
The washer is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it, if used according to directions. It will do any family washing for five years without getting out of order or repair.
TRY ONE AND YOU WILL NOT BE WITHOUT IT.
Mr. Wyatt will take pleasure in showing its workings. Let the ladies call and examine it and it is reasonably certain that a purchase will follow an examination. Remember the place is Mr. D. R. Wyatt's, west side of Fayetteville street, nearly opposite the market.

Three hundred deaths from pneumonia in a fortnight is the record of New York. The sun calls attention to the fact that in the time specified pneumonia carried off more people than consumption and twice as many as all the contagious diseases put together. If men and women would devote less time to talking about the danger of catching next summer and more to observing the laws of health this winter pneumonia and other takers would have more leisure.

Affecting Scene.

Last Saturday night just before the close of the session of the Senate, Mr. Merritt, Senator from Person arose and walked down the aisle to the front of the President's desk. Pausing a moment, amid the most profound silence, he addressed Lieut. Governor Doughton in a most beautiful and touching manner. He called attention to the faithful manner in which the presiding officer had discharged his duties, and ended with the presentation of a splendid gold headed cane. To these remarks Lieut. Governor Doughton responded in a feeling manner, which caused the tears to flow from several eyes. At the conclusion of this ceremony Senator Poirer arose, and in a beautiful speech presented the Lieut. Governor with a nice silver butter dish, which was presented in a happy style. Senators Means then presented a gold headed cane to Senator King followed by Senator Posey, who, in an eloquent manner, presented chief clerk Burkhead a gold headed cane and a Meershaum pipe. Mr. Burkhead responded in a feeling speech. It was an affecting scene and made a deep impression on all present.

Litchford Encampment No. 26 will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance to be transacted and prompt attendance requested. Members of the degree staff urged to be present.
