

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1893.

NO. 116

CITY IN BRIEF.

The meeting of railroad conductors will take place in Charlotte in April. Col. James E. Boyd, of Greensboro, is in the city.

Solicitor Pou, of Johnston county, is in the city.

Now is the time to work on the public roads.

Mr. Wm. H. Worth of this city was in Greensboro this week.

Washington, D. C. is crowded with office seekers.

Spring time is coming at last, gentle "Annie."

The travelling public are being greatly inconvenienced by the continued lateness of trains passing.

The oat crop sown last fall was badly killed out by the late cold weather.

Mr. John C. George, president of the Raleigh Street Railway, left for his home in Baltimore yesterday.

Old bonds to the amount of $3,000 have recently been exchanged for new 4 per cent consols.

Five convicts have been received in the penitentiary from Beaufort county.

It is a good thing to be proud of your ancestors, but it is a better thing to act so your ancestors will be proud of you.

The clerks of the two houses of the General Assembly have completed their work and turned it over to the Secretary of State.

Mr. A. Dughi will for to-day sell fine oysters from his own oyster bed near Norfolk at 30 cents per quart instead of the usual price 40 cents. This offer is good for one day only.

Life is short and time is fleeing, but Hood's Sarsaparilla will bless humanity as the ages roll on. Try it this season.

The ticket receipts of the inauguration ball footed up 40,000—enough to pay the expenses of the inauguration.

As the last full moon in April does not take place until about the 30th, of the month, it may be expected that the fruit will escape a killing frost.

Mr. A. Dughi was full of business during last night preparing for a grand spread as a birthday surprise to a lady in Henderson. Mr. Dughi's reputation is every day spreading far and wide.

An exchange very truly says, that when people can be made to understand that it actually costs more in time and money to travel over a poor road than it does to travel over a good one, they will be less inclined to begrudge the expense of good roads.

We have received the February No. of the Southern Educator printed at Durham, N. C. which is neatly gotten up and full of interesting matter. Edited by Mr. Edwin S. Sheppe. Price $1.00 per year, monthly.

Re-Elected.

Capt. G M Roberts, the general efficient superintendent of the capitol and grounds has been unanimously re-elected. This is a most deserving compliment.

A New Game Law Suggested.

An exchange wants the following game law passed by the legislature: "Book agents may be killed from September 1 to October 1; spring poets, March 1 to July 1; scandal mongers, any time; whale, August 1 to January 1; mule May 1 to September 1; while the man who waits until the editor is gone from home and the sneaks in and throws half a cord of elm snag in the editorial wood house in payment for a year's subscription, as well as the antiquarian two-penny business man who thinks it does not pay to advertise, may be killed from January 1 to December 31 without recourse or any relief from valuation or appraisal law."

An Important Suit.

An important suit will be heard at Lexington to-day. It is the suit of Mr. Zeb. Vance Walsler against the Western Union Telegraph Company for damages. Mr. Walsler claims that by the failure of the telegraph company to promptly deliver a message to him he lost the receivership of the First National Bank of Wilmington.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Fair, followed by local showers on the coast Saturday afternoon or night.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity

On Saturday: Fair, weather.

Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 m. today:

Maximum temperature, 73; minimum temperature 49 rainfall.

Reception.

A book reception will take place at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association tonight at 8 o'clock. This will be an important occasion in many respects as it will be an opportunity for an increase of the library which is now quite efficient for the association. A most attractive and amusing program has been arranged. There will be no admission fee. Everybody is invited to come and bring a book. Second hand books will be acceptable as new ones. Remember the reception will commence at 8 o'clock.

Fatal Wound.

We briefly noticed yesterday the stabbing of Mr. James H. Quarles, at Waco, Texas.

The Waco Day-Globe says: Last night at 9 o'clock Mr. Jas H. Quarles was standing in front of Herz Bros.' bookstore looking in the window at the car cons, when Bill Gambrel came by and snatched at Mr. Quarles' cane. In a rather pleasant tone Mr. Quarles said: "You are getting ready to be slugged, ain't you?"

Gambrel replied by a rowdy oath and an epithet, whereupon Mr. Quarles raised his cane and struck him, and instantly Gambrel drew a dirk and plunged it into Mr. Quarles' left side, inflicting a ghastly wound, the extent of which cannot now be determined. Having stabbed his victim Gambrel, as is his habit after stabbing people, fled. Mr. Quarles is the third victim of his knife within the past three years. Gambrel is a common vagrant, ruffian and assassin, known to be such, and while he is at large he is a constant menace to public safety. With or without provocation he is liable at any time to plunge a knife into a citizen.

Mr. Quarles' wound was dressed by Drs. Smith, Bev. Caldwell and Taylor after which he was removed to the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Mattie Howe, No. 361 Mary street. The police were hunting Gambrel at a late hour.
