

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1893.

NO. 129

CITY IN BRIEF.

Next Friday is Good Friday. The cotton receipts today were slim. March has behaved well so far in the wind line. Tomorrow is Palm Sunday the beginning of holy week. If your name is not on the book, don't fail to register for the city election.

The number of acts and resolutions passed by the last legislature were 920.

Turnip greens is now about the only reliance of the housewife for the average dinner.

Mr. O. W. Belvin who has been quite sick for several days, is much worse today.

The students at the Agricultural College are hard at work on their examination studies.

It is a pleasure to know that our cotton mills are booming, and that there is room for more.

The Progressive Farmer has been removed to the place formerly occupied by Schwartz, on Fayetteville street.

A visit to the North Carolina car works reveals a busy hive of industry. The plant is, in every respect, most successful.

It is said that clear and colder weather is following in the wake of the big blizzards that have recently prevailed in the northwest.

The press association has adopted a resolution requesting Secretary Harrell to make all arrangements for the visit to Chicago in May next.

The prophetic flocks of wild geese are daily seen making their way to the north. This would indicate that old mother winter is about to get out of the lap of young spring.

A newspaper has just been started in London, which is printed on a postal card. The first number has four illustrations, a comic tragedy, a few jokes and puzzles and some advertisements.

The Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead is being fixed up for the coming season. The outlook for a large attendance is said to be good. The hotel will be under the management of Mr. B. L. Perry, of Beaufort.

Revival services at Edenton Street Methodist church at 11 o'clock a. m. Evangelist Schoolfield will conduct service at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. He arrived in the city today and is the guest of Rev. J. N. Cole.

It is especially desired that all the members of the Central Methodist congregation be present at the morning service tomorrow as some important matters will be presented to the congregation for consideration.

It is understood that there will be a great many witnesses in the Otho Wilson case which is set for trial at the Superior Court which commences next Monday. The trial, if it takes place, will attract wide attention, not only in this section but throughout the state.

The show windows of Mr. D. T. Swindell are perfect gems of beauty. The pretty display of goods arranged by Mr. Correll furnish a show unequalled in the city. In the way of display Swindell knows just how to catch the public eye, and he does it most effectually.

Literary.

A history of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church has been prepared by Mrs. W. S. Black, Oxford. It is published in pamphlet form by the board of missions and is designed for the use of Sunday schools, Epworth leagues and persons desiring missionary information.

Life is short and time is fleeting, but Hood's Sarsaparilla will bless humanity as the ages roll on. Try it this season.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association will hold their seventeenth annual session at Winston, April 6th to 9th. It is important that all the associations of the state should be present. Reduced rates have been secured on the various roads and the people of Winston will give a hearty reception to all who attend.

Clean Up.

The approach of warm weather warns us to prepare to guard our city against epidemics, and in no way can this be better accomplished than by proper and prompt sanitary measures. Street cleaning should be a matter of constant care, like protection of property by the police and firemen. It is one of those tasks which in the nature of things, cannot be completed and called finished. Streets thoroughly cleaned today may become dirty tomorrow, and in a very short time need attention again.

We throw out these hints merely in a spirit of precaution, as we must think our municipal authorities have the matter under frequent consideration. In view of the possible contingency of the cholera reaching us this summer, we cannot be too much on the alert.

Died.

At the residence of her uncle, Mr. W. R. Blake on East Hargett street, at 7:30 o'clock this morning, Annie E. Mullins aged 14 years. She was the youngest daughter of the late J. W. and Zelia Mullins.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church.

Mrs. George J. Dew, sister of Mrs. O. W. Belvin died at her home near Wilson last night.

NO BARGAIN HOUSE.—An exclusive bargain house does not come up to the demand of the average lady of this age. While we have thousands of dollars worth of goods which we bought way under the value and sell same for less money than any one else in the trade can sell, yet we are not an exclusive bargain house. We have all the new things out for this season in dress goods and trimmings. All the new silks in Bengaline lustrous printed and plain, China and Japanese silk, the new combination of silk and cotton and silk and wool. In fact, we will come as near suiting as any one can. We have style and quality. D. T. Swindell.

That Girl With a Smile On.

Those ladies who know who always have a pleasant and fascinating smile on their face, are not wearing ill fitting corsets. They probably have on a C. B. Corset like this cut—long waisted—and are to be had at Swindell's mammoth store.

And this stout lady, who is shaking with mirth and looks so pleasing, has on a Watch Spring Corset like this cut.

These two corsets are kept at D. T. Swindell's at New York prices.

CORSETS.

The advertiser signs and cards read:

"R. & G. Corsets are the Best."

"Try H & S Corsets. They are the BEST."

Our endorsement goes with both lines. There is no form we cannot fit perfectly—long or short waist either slim, medium or stout. Some deary these "MAKES" because the profits are too small. We like them for their quick selling and satisfactory giving qualities. We delight in small profits and quick sales. Fresh, clean goods and a new look all the time. Not too many of a kind but some of all.
