VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 1893.

NO. 131

CITY IN BRIEF.

Large crowd in the city today. Samue' A Henezey, of Egypt, N C, is in the city. Appeals from th 9th district will be heard next Tuesday. The outlook for the grape crop so far is said to be excellent. Attorney General Osborne has returned to the city from Charlotte. The rite of confirmation will be administered by Bishop Lyman at Christ church next Sunday. Large crowds are attending the services at Edenton Street M. E church under the conduct of Rev Mr. Schoolfield.

The sudden termination of the Otho Wilson trial today put an end to what was expected would be a sensation.

Kansas colored men will emigrate to Brazil, and the Afro American Industrial League has been formed to help them.

The revival meeting at Edenton Street Methodist church grows in interest. The services last night was a very profitable one. The congregation was unusually good for Monday night. Today at 11 o'clock the hour, was the best of the meeting thus far. It was a service of close and honest searching of hearts; the presence of the Holy Spirit was with the Evangelist and upon the people. Mr. Schoolfield and the pastor of the church continue to impress the idea that any true, genuine revival of religion must be by the Holy Ghost Services tonight at 7:45 o'clock. All are invited to come.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Fair, probably local showers on the coast; slightly warmer in the west. Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity. On Wednesday: Fair weather, stationary temperature. Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 m. today: Maximum temperature, 55; minimum temperature 37 rainfall T.

Our City Election.

The city election is not very far off now and the fever is beginning to rise. It is very probable that Mayor Badger, Chief of Police Heartt, Clerk Lambeth, officer of Health Ferrell, Tax Collector Root, Treasurer Brown and Street Commissioner Blake will all have strong contestants to meet for the positions they hold. We have heard names suggested for all the positions named above but do not as yet feel at liberty to use them.

In the minds of many of our people the first and most important work is to nominate a board of our best business men without any reference to who shall hold the offices leaving the board free to elect whom they please. We have heard of some of those now composing the board who will not ask for a re-nomination as they feel sufficiently amused to retire.

The duty of an alderman is no light matter and no gentleman should accept a nomination to the place who is not willing to give the time and thought to the position that it requires, and no gentleman should be selected who is not thoroughly competent. Every man is not qualified for the office and it takes more than "a good fellow" to understand and intelligently settle the various questions that come before the board. Our columns are open for nominations and suggestions and we hope our people will speak out.

When you feel all tired out and broken up generally, you need a tonic. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best. Try it.

The President has appointed sheriff Thomas J. Allison of Statesville, as Marshal of the Western district of North Carolina.

Wake Superior Court.

Court met at 10 o'clock, Judge Brown presiding. The case No. 43, the case of S. Otho Wilson, was called. The defendant entered a plea "nolle contendere" which was agreed to by the solicitor Mr. Pon. The solicitor stated that the toleration of this organization was dangerous to the peace of the community. There has been no disposition on the part of the State to inflict punishment. Therefore he recommended judgment should be suspended on payment of cost. Mr. Montgomery claimed that the organization never had any existence in the State. That there was no menace to liberty in the State.

Judge Brown said that the plea of "nolle contendere" merely says that he is unwilling to contend with the power of the State. The defendant is therefore as much in the power of the State as if guilty.

The judge suspended payment on payment of costs. The regular docket was then taken up.

OFFICIAL ORDER.

The following is the official order of the court in the case of the state vs. S. Otho Wilson.

The defendant S. Otho Wilson comes into court, and while protesting his innocence, pleads that he is unwilling to contend with the State, and, that he abides by the judgment of the court, whereupon, it is ordered that the defendant's plea of "nolle contendere" be accepted, and entered and that the defendant be required to pay the costs of the action. The plea of the defendant, S. Otho Wilson, nolle contendere, is a plea which is often permitted by the courts. The defendant by that plea, while averring his innocence nevertheless places himself upon the mercy of the court. He can be sentenced and punished as fully as if convicted by the jury.

The solicitor an able and conscientious officer, recommends that the judgment be suspended over the defendant and that defendant be now required to pay all the costs which are quite heavy. It appears that this is the first prosecution under this State and that no great good will be now accomplished by punishing the defendant further than to tax him all the costs.

It is therefore ordered, upon motion of the solicitor that the judgment be suspended, and, that the defendant be in custody of the sheriff until the costs are paid.

NOW FOR IT.—Dughi has received direct from Paris 1,000 nice ice cream bonbons, all grades. He has received also some beautiful ice cream moulds, among which is "a cat in a shoe" and a fine impression of a dove. By the way, a nice young lady some time since remarked to Dughi that she did not desire to get married until he received a dove. The bird mould has arrived, and Dughi now waits ready to be called upon hoping the lady is prepared to enter the matrimonial life.

WHEN JOHNNIE gets his gun, his sword and his pistol he is then ready to fight. You can't fight if you have nothing to fight with. Same way in selling goods. If a merchant has plenty of goods and sells them for less money than other merchants, as Swindell always does, then he can do business. The merchant who buys goods on long time cannot sell goods low, because he has not bought them low. Friend, buy goods where your dollars will do you the most good. Go straight to D T Swindell's store and see with your own eyes and hear with your own ears the price. All attempts other merchants have made to sell goods as low as Swindell sells them, have failed totally. And many of them are dying slowly but surely, and the stores they now occupy will soon be occupied by others, but none will ever sell goods as cheap as Swindell sells them.

DON'T DO IT.

Don't trade with any man simply because you have known him a long time. Your friend will not sell you cheap. Nine times in ten he will charge you more than he would a stranger simply because he knows you will buy of him. Let it be a matter of the most goods for the least money. Swindell invites you to see his stock.

Swindell invites you to buy his goods if you are satisfied with the price. Swindell wants your trade if his goods merit it. Swindell's business has steadily increased five years with all the unfair opposition brought to bear against it. Friends, you can't down a working man, and Swindell is a working man. Swindell has just what you want in dry goods, shoes, in dress goods, in pants cloth, in millinery goods, in carpets, in umbrellas, in hats, in gingham and homespun. No store sells goods as low as Swindell's store, 206 Fayetteville street, Raleigh, N C.
