

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXVIII.

RALEIGH, THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1893.

NO. 149

CITY IN BRIEF.

Dorham has a steam laundry. A state trotting association is to be formed.

The space around the court house will be paved with granite slabs.

There has been a general cutting down of salaries at the penitentiary.

The sheriff of Northampton brought three persons to the penitentiary today.

Raleigh has now one of the best depots for handling freight to be found in any city in the south.

Col. F. A. Olds has gone to Hampton Rhodes to take in the naval review.

Ex-Attorney Davidson has returned to his home in Asheville, after an extended tour in Mexico, Cuba &c.

Rev. J. W. Lee, the Evangelist is meeting with much success at Lexington. There have been over 100 conversions.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of a desirable little farm for sale in a half mile of Raleigh, by Messrs. Peele & Maynard.

It should not be forgotten that the State Board of Pharmacy meets in this city May 3d, to examine applicants.

Much interest continues to be manifested in the revival at the First Baptist church. Large crowds attend each night.

It is now understood that Col. Hicks will be retained at the penitentiary as general supervisor. Mr. Fleming will be warden.

Work on the electric railway connection to Pullen Park is progressing well. The line runs just this side of the A & M College grounds on the skirt of what used to be known as Lee's woods.

The troubles at James city opposite New Bern do not seem to be over. This is much to be regretted. The courts have rendered a decision, and it becomes all interested to how to its will. This must be the result, sooner or later.

We are authorized to say that Mr. G. W. Morr's is a candidate for alderman from the 2d ward. He says he has made no pledges and has no animosities to revenge. He is subject to the Democratic primary and thinks when the new board meets it will be time enough to talk about the election of officers.

Now your blood should be purified. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine and blood purifier.

We are very glad to see the announcement in another column that our Epworth friends at Edenton Street Methodist church have arranged for another of their enjoyable receptions, tomorrow, (Friday) night, in the Sunday school rooms of their church. The informal and social nature of these receptions make them particularly pleasant—and the membership of the church and congregation and their friends are afforded an opportunity of meeting and talking with each other more freely and generally than they can get in a month of ordinary visiting. And, besides the opportunity for social and friendly intercourse, the managers usually arrange for pleasant music, and recitations which add much to the pleasure of those who attend. All the Methodists of the city and their friends are cordially invited.

Refunding.

Inquiries are made by members of the Farmers' Alliance concerning the law passed at the last General Assembly providing for refunding money to them. The law requires that if the money is not refunded in sixty days after application, the matter shall be brought to the attention of the Attorney General of the State, who shall take steps to have it refunded.

An informal reception will be held tomorrow (Friday) night in the Sunday School rooms of Edenton Street Methodist church of this city, to which all the Methodists of the city and their friends are cordially invited. Hours 7:30 to 11:30.

The figures of expenditure for the World's Fair buildings are staggering. Auditor Ackerman's report to the directors show that there has already been expended on these structures $16,708 8-8, while $2,361,263 is still due on contracts. The promoters of the Fair started out with the glorious idea of so far outdoing any similar enterprise in the past that emulation for the future would be impossible. It can scarcely be doubted that in the matter of buildings, at least, they have attained their end.

The entire Paris Exposition, Eiffel Tower and all, did not cost one half the sum already spent on the perishable structures in Jackson Park.—Philadelphia Record.

Last night about 8 o'clock a man terribly wounded his wife's feelings by telling her that he could no longer pay for the high price hats and dresses she had been buying, but if she would use good judgment and go to Swindell's he would be willing to pay for anything she purchased. At this she brightened up and said she had no thought of that, but would go at once to Swindell's and buy herself a new hat and dress and also something for the children. Her husband explained to her that she would save from 20 to 25 per cent. by doing this. Everything in millinery and dress goods at Swindell's at a lower price than any house in the State.
