

Married

In the M E church, at Louisburg, last Wednesday, by Rev L E Thompson, Mr Frank McDonald to Miss Martha Etheridge.

Amended.

The last Legislature so amended the public school law, that hereafter the Board of Education, at their first regular meeting in June are to appoint the school committeemen for the various public schools, and said committeemen are to enter on their duties on the first Monday in July.

A Literary Treat.

Last night Dr J A Hodges delivered at Chapel Hill, the address he made before the Medical Society. It is a most admirable production and may be classed as a genuine literary treat. The society ordered five thousand copies for distribution and tendered Dr Hodges a vote of thanks.

Memorial Slabs.

About ten years ago the bones of several hundred ex-confederate soldiers were brought here from Arlington cemetery near Washington City and reinterred in the cemetery in the city. The ladies of the Memorial Association here ordered slabs to be placed over these graves.

The Home Make.

This is the title of a splendid monthly magazine published by J Martin Miller 99, Fourth Avenue, New York. The copy before us is an admirable one and is a World's Fair edition full of most interesting matter. The price is only 20 cents a copy, $2 per annum, and it is richly worth it.

The Southern Express Co

The Charlotte News says that the Southern Express Company has established a system of money order precisely similar to that of the post office. You can pay your money here get an express order for it, and mail the letter to the party to whom you want to pay the order. The tariff is from five cents up. The Express money order system covers 55,000 express offices in the United States, Canada and Havana. It will undoubtedly prove a success.

Bad Manners.

Some people seem to be entirely ignorant of good manners at church. To see an usher politely proceed in advance of a person in order that he may show them a seat, and when he has found it, to see him turn to direct his man or woman to it and find that they have just seated themselves elsewhere is not only very embarrassing to the usher, but it proclaims to those who see it that the person he was trying to seat is woefully deficient in good manners of the commonest sort. We sympathize with ushers when we see them thus carelessly treated.

Another Shipment.

Mr. A Dughi, is getting up a reputation far and wide, and very deservedly so. We doubt if there is an entertainment of consequence within a radius of many miles of Raleigh, that does not call upon Dughi to act as the caterer. He is the introducer of all the many fancy shapes of cream that have become so popular, and they are truly gems of beauty. Yesterday afternoon he shipped to Greensboro a splendid lot of fancy cream, such as never before has been seen in the "City of Flowers." It was for a banquet to come off last night.

Entertainment.

In no city of its size in the Union does the stranger meet with a more hospitable reception than "within our gates." Whatever can be done to render them comfortable can be relied upon. Last night a grand reception was given by the Capital Club in honor of the State Medical Society. That it was in all respects a most handsome affair goes without saying, because the Capital Club never gets left in the matter of genuine hospitality. The rooms were most handsomely decorated by the fair hands of lovely ladies, and delicacies of all kinds loaded down the tables. The dancing was kept up until the "wee small hours." The patronesses of the occasion were Mrs T S Kenan, Mrs Dr Hodges, Mrs Dr K P Battle, Mrs A W Haywood, Mrs S P Child, Mrs J H Foster and Mrs J J Thomas, assisted by Mrs Dr Jas McKee, the president and the governing committee.

A Big Thing.

Durham is a big tobacco centre. Its Durham Mill factory, Col Jule Carr's is perhaps the very biggest thing of the kind in all the world. It is reported as actually manufacturing four-fifths of all the smoking tobacco produced in the entire State. Its purchase of revenue stamps alone nearly reaches $450,000 a year. The total revenue stamps purchase for Durham alone nearly reached $700,000. But this tax was paid by the consumers, and not by the farmers or the manufacturers. It was a tax levied on a luxury and it went to the support of the United States Government.

Methodist Convention Postponed.

The Methodist Educational Convention announced for the middle of May, has been postponed till June 14-15, when it will convene in the Edenton Street Methodist church, Raleigh. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. At night the Rev Dan Atkins, D D., of Statesville, will preach the sermon. Dr. Atkins is a broad gauged man, fully in touch with the progressive educational spirit of North Carolina methodism. His appearance at this date gives the people of Raleigh an opportunity to hear and see the successor of the Rev. Dr. Reid, as editor of the Christian Advocate. Dr. Atkins will command the respect and confidence of the church within the state and beyond. He has a wide acquaintance with church questions and can speak as a leader.

Crop Summary.

The Department of Agriculture has prepared the summary of the May crop report. The 1,000 correspondents were asked to give, in their best judgment the present condition or prospects of crops, the condition May 1st, compared with vitality and growth of previous years. The report says wheat is 95, oats 85, rye 82, rice 89, cotton 93, corn 98, tobacco 89. The condition of clover and grasses is 92, of fruits 86. The increase in the acreage of cotton is 10 per cent. In some localities it is 25 and in some as high as 37 per cent but the general average increase is shown to be less than was expected. The condition of cattle is 87 per cent and 17 per cent of improved cattle have been introduced. The efficiency of labor is stated at 88 per cent. The report is a fine as has ever been made at this time of the year, and it is highly satisfactory to the department.

It is now pretty well settled that the R & D R R., will have a large cotton platform in this city.
