VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1893.

NO. 32

CITY IN BRIEF.

The children of the East Raleigh Mission went out to Penny's pond today on a picnic excursion.

Col F A Olds went with the funeral train to Richmond yesterday afternoon.

The Benbow House, at Greensboro, was opened last Monday under the most favorable auspices.

Federal decoration day was observed as usual in this city yesterday afternoon.

We were pleased to meet our old friend Maj Graham Daves, of New Berne, in the city yesterday.

Hear Mr Dixon at the Baptist Tabernacle Friday night. "Yourself and other people," will be a rich treat for all who hear it.

Remember that Miss Maggie Reese is offering some splendid bargains in anticipation of her removal. Now is the time to purchase summer millinery. It can be had cheap.

The Yarboro House was crowded yesterday but all went on as "happy as a marriage bell." Friend Brown knows just how to handle a crowd, and no mistake.

Miss Winnie Davis was the recipient of great attention at the hands of the ladies and gentlemen of the city. The "Child of the Confederacy" has a great hold upon the love of the people of the South.

Maj S F Telfair, Private Secretary, and Mr H M Cowan, of the Treasury department, deserve the highest praise for the energy and zeal they have displayed in the matter of arranging for the Jeff Davis reception. Honor to them.

"What a lovely city," said several strangers in our hearing yesterday, and then some of them added, "If the sidewalks were not so wretchedly bad this would be the queen of the South, but I have passed over some that seem wholly neglected." And we dare not deny it.

It was a noticeable feature in the ceremonies yesterday, that there was a more general turnout of what are known strictly as working men than has ever been known on a similar occasion here. This is evidence of the great interest manifested by all classes.

Don't forget that Central M. E. Sunday School will have their annual picnic next Friday, at Mill Brook. Good water, shade, ball playing, swinging and fishing. A whole day of fun and frolic. The train will leave Johnston St. Station at 7 a. m. returning at 6 p. m.

The committee and marshals are requested to meet at Central M. E. Church tonight immediately after prayer meeting for the purpose of completing arrangements for the picnic. The following are the marshals appointed.

S W Walker, Chief; J J Summerlin, H D Bunch, T C Williams, Jr., O L Baily, J B Beasley, W T Terry.

A pleasant incident connected with the ceremonies yesterday was a committee sent by Mrs J B Burwell, President of the North Carolina Antiquity Society, requesting that the flags used by the little girls on the funeral car be presented to the society. Mr John W Brown who had entire charge of that part of the program, and who made so great a success of the funeral car that distinguished visitors from Texas and Louisiana remarked "it was by far the most attractive they had seen" yielded with great pride to the request.

An entertainment by the pupils of the Raleigh Public Schools, for the benefit of the school library, will be given in Metropolitan Hall tomorrow (Thursday) evening at 8:30 o'clock. Admission 25 cents. Reserved seats 35 cents. Reserved seats are now on sale at John Y MacRae's.

Buy your fruits at Ball & Co.'s from the Fayetteville and Hargett street stores.

Died

At 11 o'clock last night, Saligman, infant son of Mr J Schwartz.

Not Coming.

It is a matter of regret that Henry Watterson, the great Kentucky editor, will not be present at Chapel Hill as expected. He was announced to speak there on Monday, June 5th.

Banquet.

The Alumni banquet of the Wake Forest commencement will take place tonight. It will be given by the Wake Forest Local Alumni Association, and the caterer is Mr A Dughi, of this city. This ensures an attractive occasion.

The Escort.

The following composed the escort of the remains of Mr Davis from this city to Richmond: Adjutant General F H Cameron, Inspector General A L Smith, Surgeon General Hubert Haywood, Quartermaster General Harrell, Paymaster General J S Carr, Inspector Col Benahan Cameron, Col N G Alston, J H Holt, Jr, Maj Wm Grimes, Maj L D Heartt and Military Secretary Col S F Telfair.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Fair, followed by rain in extreme western portion.

Local forecast, for Raleigh and vicinity

On Thursday: Fair, warmer, increasing cloudiness toward evening; rain probable Friday.

Local data for 24 hours ending at a. m. today:

Maximum temperature, 76; minimum temperature 56; rainfall 0.00.

Commencement.

Those desiring to visit the commencement exercises at Chapel Hill can leave Raleigh on the early train at 8:10 a. m. and reach Chapel Hill in time for all the exercises of the day and the receptions and concerts in the evening. They can, if desired, return home on the night train making the entire trip in 24 hours. There will be special trains for Chapel Hill to University Junction, to connect with all trains to and from Raleigh.

Raleigh Male Academy.

The closing exercises of this most admirable school will take place next Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The results of the examinations of the past two weeks will be announced, and the honors delivered. Hon Thos W Mason, of Northampton county, will deliver the annual oration. We are pleased to learn that this has been the most successful year in the history of the school.

Overhanging Bushes.

We hope Chief Heartt or Commissioner Blake or some body will look after the bushes and limbs along the side walks in our city that are in the way of all who are passing. In the day time one can take the street and avoid them, but at night in the absence of moonlight, there is danger of forgetting the hedgerows and before you know it, your face is all among the bushes. It sometimes happens that a stranger wanders along these highways and he is of course taken in, whose business is it to look after these things?
