RALEIGH, SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1893.

NO. 82

CITY IN BRIEF.

Beautiful moonlight nights.
The governor will take in the Chicago fair next month
Splendid nights for a ride to Brookside or Pullen Park
The swimming pool at Pullen park is now at its full height.
The usual crowd of country people were in the city today
The departments were barren of news today.
Durham still calls for a government building. It should have it.
The marriage license business is at a slow state in Wake county.
Good roads and a good dollar is what the people want. Let them have it, and all will be right.
Capt W H Green, General manager of the R & D system, is on a tour of inspection over the lines.
The cooperation of the bank at Lumberton resumed business last week.
Mrs W W Vass, little daughter and Miss Lalie Daniel have returned from Saratoga Springs.
Seven convicts were brought from Cumberland county yesterday afternoon.
Master Chas W. Scales, of New York, is on a visit to his aunt, Mrs. J. M. Waters, of this city.
We invite attention to the advertisement of H F Montague, mortgagee, advertises sale of land.
Latest dispatches state that the condition of Mr Geo H Snow is not so favorable.
The outlook for our colleges and schools is bright. There is no better locality than Raleigh in all respects.
Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Lyon Racket Store which is offering great reduction in prices of every line. Call and see for yourselves.
The popularity of Turner's N C Almanac may be judged from the fact that the publisher Mr Jas. H Ennis, of this city, is already receiving orders for almanacs for the year 1894.
Rev J J Barker will preach at Central M E church tomorrow morning at 11 a. m. and Prof Crowell at 8:15 p. m. The public are cordially invited to attend these services.
There is a hitch in the affairs of the management of Pullen Park. It should not be so. The park is intended for the benefit of the public and should be conducted on that principle.
The county of Mecklenburg has under consideration the building of a county asylum for the insane. Such a course will have to be pursued by many of the counties if we are to take care of all the insane in the state.
Mr J B Powell, formerly of the Old Dominion Stables of Salem Va., has connected himself with Blake's stables in this city. He is a gentleman of the highest character both personally and in a business part of view, and we bespeak for him a most liberal patronage.
The great northwest and the southwest are evidently demoralized on the currency question. To us of the south it sounds extremely funny to hear the bitterest foes we had in the unpleasantness of 80 years ago, threatening violence and secession as to the Northern States proper. In politics we dabble not—that is the calling of professional politicians—but we hear men who hurled bullets at the South now proclaiming a willingness and a determination to blot out that same North we hold upon hands in wonder and amazement. Some of us hereabouts have yet a vivid recollection of drums and guns and the sounds thereof still ring in our ears. Now if these people will wage a paper war at the ballot box, we are entirely volunteers for the fight.

Dr. Hall's Farewell Sermon.
Rev J J Hall will preach his farewell sermon at 11 o'clock, a. m. tomorrow morning in the Baptist Tabernacle. He will also baptize and hold service at night at 8:15 p. m.

Our Roads.

There is no better time than now to look after the condition of our roads. Superintendent McMakin has done his duty nobly, but there is still much to do, and he will have his hands full from now on. We commend him for his efforts, but hope he will continue to carry on the good work.

Received.

Collector White informed us this morning that he had received notification of the request to send in his resignation. He will, of course, comply. He does not know when the new appointment will be made but expects it soon. His matters are all right and ready for delivery at any time.

Important.

Major Telfair, the governor's private secretary, is engaged today in sending out circulars to the clerks of the Superior courts of the different counties, asking them to send in at once the names of all persons in their respective counties, appointed as Justice of the Peace by the General Assembly, and who have failed to qualify, so that their places can be filled by executive appointment. This is a most important matter and should be promptly attended to.

Dr. J J Mott, of Statesville, is in the city. His visit has no political significance as he is here in connection with the August races.
