

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1893.

NO. 96

Yellowstone Park.
It is understood that Major Harrell is preparing for a journey to the Pacific coast next summer with the teachers. On the route some time will be spent at the mammoth Yellowstone Park, which is the largest and most advanced pleasure ground in the country. It will be a splendid trip, and Major Harrell knows just how to run it.

Anniversary.
Extensive preparations are being made for the centennial anniversary of the Fayetteville Light Infantry, which takes place on the 23d inst. As heretofore stated there will be some visiting companies, prominent among which is the Richmond, Va. Light Infantry Blues, the second oldest military company in the United States. All the committees have been appointed, and a grand ball will be a feature of the occasion.

Half Fare.
With commendable forethought the management of the Raleigh street car lines has put down the price of fare from this date until the 1st of September. For two passengers one cash fare will be received and similarly for parties of any size in multiples of two. Single fares will remain 5 cents as at present. This reduction is made in view of the stringency of the times, and it is hoped will be duly appreciated by the public.

Death of Eugene T Jones Esq.
This well known citizen of Wake county died at his residence near Eagle Rock last night. Mr Jones had been in declining health for some time, and therefore his death was not unexpected. He has held several offices in Wake county, being at one time Superintendent of Public Instruction. He leaves a widow and a large family of children to mourn their loss. One of his daughters married Mr E V Denton of this city.

Brooklyn Festival.
The ladies of Brooklyn church will hold a festival opposite the church on Thursday night, August 17th. Everybody is most cordially invited to attend. The entertainment will be for the benefit of the church, and we hope it will have a large attendance and an abundance of patronage. Let every one attend who possibly can do so. News and Observer please copy.

Improvements.
The general manager of the Yarboro House, Mr Brown is having the interior of the building most handsomely repainted in bright colors, and other important improvements are in contemplation. The Yarboro will be in full readiness for the reception of visitors during the races, and the coming fair. There is no better house in the country.

Withdrawal of Reduced Rates Account Confederate Veterans Reunion, Waynesville, N. C.
Reduced rates announced by the Richmond & Danville account above occasion have been withdrawn, as the reunion has been postponed until further notice. Ticket agents have been instructed accordingly, and reduced rate tickets will not therefore be sold.

A Card.
Since the article in Monday's VISITOR has caused dissatisfaction to some, and I have had to bear the blame I feel it my duty to inform the public that I am not the author of the said Declaration of Independence. It has not offended me in the least, and I only consider it as a ridicule to what I have had published. I pronounce it one unworthy of the writer's name and he will find in his journalistic career he will one day reach the summit of literary reward.
Very Respectfully,
JACK ADAMS.
